Black Jack Raises Ire of Committee

UPSETS DIGNITY OF COST OF LIVING PROBE

OTTAWA, June 19.—John R. Robinson, editor of The Toronto Telegram, summoned before the Commons' cost of living committee in regard to certain editorials he had written on the work of the committee, appeared before the body this morning and made a "best garden" out of the proceedings.

So strenuous did the repartee between the Toronto editor and members of the committee become that the sergeant-at-arms was sent for and that official appeared gravely walking into the room wearing his sword. He, however, stayed only a few minutes and a policeman took his place, following the proceedings with an amused smile. His presence had little effect on the belligerent Torontonians.

Mr. Robinson did not take the oath many minutes before he had a sharp tilt with Mr. Devlin. A little later he and Mr. Nesbitt were both standing and gesticulating at each other.

"Sit down," Mr. Nesbitt shouted. "You have the voice of a bull."

"You have less brains than a donkey," retorted Mr. Robinson. "I won't sit down."

"You have no sense of dignity," Mr. Nesbitt retorted in reply.

DENIES LIBEL.

When questioned by Mr. Devlin, Mr. Robinson protested that if he had written anything libelous, either civilly or criminally, he was responsible to the courts.

"I am not going to be put on trial before this committee," he called out, "for that article."

Mr. Devlin: "We want to get the facts. You are an incident before the committee."

"And you are an epoch!" Mr. Robinson called back.

Mr. Devlin proceeded with a series of questions relating to the editorial on the examination of Mr. Fox of the William Davies Company by the committee.

"My point was," said the witness, "that Mr. Fox was much cleverer than you, and that he did not prevent the whole situation."

Mr. Fox continued the witness, did not give the committee the fact that he was head of the biggest chain of retail stores of the Dominion, and could have made a full disclosure of the whole commission.

Mr. Devlin: "Do you know as a matter of fact whether he could say so or not?"

"No, it is your business to find out," Mr. Hocken entered the fray. "I want to say here," he said to keep Mr. Robinson quiet—"I don't think it is possible," the chairman said with a smile.

Mr. Hocken: "I want to give my knowledge of the practice of Mr. Robinson in the Telegram. I don't think a man could be so stupid as to give evidence of credit until it has been corroborated. If it were pertinent to the inquiry I could give instances where Mr. Robinson has printed stories which were about his life and was at the time he lies before he printed them."

Here Mr. Robinson heatedly demanded if he would be given a chance to reply.

Mr. Nesbitt rose from his seat and was sharply told by Mr. Nesbitt to sit down. There was a sharp interchange mentioned above.

"This committee," the chairman called out, "is not going to be reduced to the level of a farce while I am here. You were supposed to give evidence in relation to facts. The Parliament of Canada appointed this committee and gave it specific work to do and we are going to do it. If Mr. Robinson has facts we want to know what they are. Mr. Robinson is going to act in accordance with the rules of Parliament and we will find a way of compelling him to do so. We are not going to have a hear-say evidence."

ASKS FOR POLICEMAN.

Mr. Reid: "I would move that we have a policeman."

There was an outburst of laughter and Mr. Reid protested that he was quite sincere.

Mr. Devlin intimated after a few more questions that he was through.

At this point Mr. Robinson remarked turning in the direction of Mr. Hocken: "Now that the Tiger has overthrown, bring on the Boyne, Mr. Hocken."

In the course of further questioning Mr. Robinson referred to the public.

"Who are the public?" Mr. Nesbitt asked.

"People who interest you very little," Mr. Nesbitt, Mr. Robinson replied, "as there was another outburst of laughter."

At this point the sergeant-at-arms came into the room and there was discussion as to Mr. Robinson's refusal to sit down earlier in the sitting. Mr. Robinson declared that he had told Mr. Nesbitt he would not sit down, not the chairman.

The chairman: "I told you to sit down."

"Well, I apologize to you, I did not understand you," Margarine was made in England for 12 cents, he said, and sold for 16 cents. He had been informed that it was a better article. He was questioned as to his knowledge given before the committee prior to the writing of the editorial. Mr. Robinson said he did not have the official text of the proceedings, but had written it from the newspaper reports and also from what he knew of the members of the committee. He thought he would be referred to the public if he had not written the article and he would write more like it. He wrote the article knowing the facts and stood by every word of it. He had taken the position that a committee of amateurs was not competent to examine an expert like Mr. Fox. Mr. Euler proceeded to ask the witness to place facts before the committee. Mr. Robinson replied by producing a printed statement and making further references to margarine in England.

"We are paying too much for railway services. You helped to squander money," he told Mr. Euler. "You may bluff the public, we can't."

MR. FOX'S STATEMENT.

Asked by Mr. Sutherland as to Mr. Fox's statement that oleomargarine was as satisfactory as butter, Mr. Robinson said that it would have been better if they had got the price of the manufacture of it. It was 16 cents in England and 35 cents in Canada. He thought the packers honestly believed that they were philanthropists, but the committee failed in not examining Mr. Fox regarding the cost of operating the retail stores. If they had been as particular with Mr. Fox as they had been with him, they would have got

Serbs Exonerated After Many Years

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SARAJEVO MURDER

BERNE, June 20.—An official telegram to the Vienna foreign office, exonerating Serbia of responsibility for the Sarajevo murder, has been published by Maximilian Harden in the Berlin Zukunft as a part of the mass of evidence for the war.

This telegram, dated July 13, 1914, states plainly that the Serbian Government, against which no evidence can be produced, has not responsibility for the murder.

This document, Herr Harden said, was canceled and 10 days later the ultimatum to Serbia was presented. In addition, he said, seven days before it was drafted the Potsdam war council already had arranged a plan of action in anticipation of Russia's intervention.

"Von Bethmann-Hollweg may have forgotten it," Herr Harden says, "but this action was taken and registered on July 6, before the kaiser left for the North, and he who had to choose between war and peace had already chosen war. A hundred million individuals were thus deceived."

House Favors Divorce Courts

BY 68 TO 35 COMMONS GIVES SECOND READING TO W. F. NICKLE'S BILL.

OTTAWA, June 20.—Backed by the influence of Sir Robert Borden, progress was made in the way of divorce reform yesterday, when a second reading was given to a bill providing for the establishment of a divorce court by a vote of 68 to 35. The bill, which was introduced by W. F. Nickle, Kingston, provides for the establishment of provincial divorce courts and the unification of the law in provinces where there are courts already established, namely Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia.

The vote was an interesting one and was not on party lines. Both leaders, Sir Robert and D. D. MacKenzie, voted for the bill. Mr. MacKenzie, however, only found two supporters, his chief whip, James Robb, and Isaac Pollack, the quaker member for South Renfrew. The French-Canadian members voted against the bill, although none of them spoke on the bill, and there was small opposition attendance.

The Westerners with three exceptions voted for divorce reform. Those who voted against the bill were F. Fink, the Unionist member for Lisgar, and the two Western Liberal members, Dr. Molloy and W. H. White, Victoria.

The chief objections to the bill were made by A. E. Frapp, of Ottawa, seconded by James McInnes, Kings, Prince Edward, who moved the six months' hoist. A number of Ontario members voted against the bill, including Col. James Arthur, Perry Sound, John Best, Dufferin James Bowman, North Huron; W. F. Cockshutt, Brantford; James Foster, East York; A. E. Frapp, Ottawa, and Dr. McGibbon, Muskoka.

Mr. Nickle gave a history resume of divorces, traveling all the way back to the reformation. He pointed out that there had been 87 applications this year and 49 had so far been granted. The number of divorces was becoming too numerous

Reveals Schemes of 'Peg Leaders'

LETTERS SEIZED SHOW DEALINGS WITH BOLSHEVISTS

WINNIPEG, June 20.—In order that the public may be informed of the dealings of the evidence procured against various strike leaders when the Labor Temple was raided last Tuesday, several letters were made public late this afternoon. One of these, addressed to R.B. Russell, the sender of which has not been yet disclosed, acknowledged receipt of a shipment of "Bolshevist funds."

It was explained in the letter that the funds were to be used in furthering the "one big union" project. Mr. Russell replied, congratulating the writer on his efforts. Another letter tends to indicate that Bolshevists desired to gain and partially relieved control of the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council. It goes on to say that when full control is gained "We will use it to our advantage."
