EQUALITY OF NATIONALITIES.

One of the ticklish questions before the peace conference at Paris is to decide whether the conference is to adopt the principle of equality of nations or the equality of nationalities.

Japan has introduced this contentious subject. It not only desires that all nations shall appear equal before the league of nations but that the peoples or nationalities of all countries shall be given equality.

It will be recalled that the United States and Canada have erected barriers preventing the free entry of Japanese as settlers to their territories. California, for instance, raised, some years ago, strong objections to their admission to that state. It was held that the Japanese are undesirable; that the brown man is in a lower scale of development than are its own citizens; that he cannot be assimilated by the white race; that he will work for a few cents a day; that while industrious, he has a penchant for ousting the white man from his possessions; and when he does enter America, his allegiance is never really given to the land he adopts.

California's objections at that time, would, it is held, have occasioned a war with the United States had Japan not been financially exhausted by her war with Russia. Although the difficulty was temporarily bridged, it was believed that Japan nursed the slight placed on it, and which conveyed the impression that they are as a race inferior to white men.

While Japan has apparently assented to the formation of a league of nations to preserve world peace and seemingly adopted the principle of self-determination, under which the weakest peoples should democratically decide by a ballot whether they would rule themselves or be ruled by stronger nations, it may request the concession of a general recognition of the equality of her peoples.

Were this recognition given, in lieu of Japan agreeing not to make aggrandizements in China and say Siberia, it would mean that neither Canada nor the United States would be able to exclude Japanese immigrants. Neither country would consent to this, though to refuse might spill the beans at Paris.

To retain Japan's good will and to secure her adherence to the League of Nations, while delaying or declining to open the doors of America to her nationals, will require statesmanship of the highest order. As an astute, proud and warlike people, the Japanese may be expected to demand substantial territorial concessions, in lieu of the recognition of the principle of equality of peoples.

Were it content commercially to exploit the markets of China and Siberia, and thereby gain an outlet for its surplus population, the problem would not be insoluble but the western world does not wholly trust it. It believes that Japan's commercial penetration of adjoining countries would be the forerunner of their annexation.

It is the absence of full confidence, coupled with Japan's desire for the establishment of the equality of her nationals among other peoples, that causes lasting peace the more difficult of attainment.

THE CURE FOR BOLSHEVISM.

Allied nations perceive that food and employment are the best and perhaps only cures for bolshevism. When these are lacking, whole populations rise in protest and are willing to try any expedient offering even the remotest chance of ameliorating conditions.

When hunger stalks in a country, it is useless to expect its citizens to reason or patiently to await the betterments which time and next summer's harvest may bring. Natural cravings will then render them ready to listen to any suggestion however drastic. The sight of the few being able to get food while they and their starve transcends any argument. He who advocates the seizure of property, including food and cash, is regarded as a friend.

When it is related that 85 per cent. of the workmen of Serbia, one of the Allies, is out of employment, through an inability to get raw materials, it is not astonishing to read that they propose a general strike. A deal of the suffering in Serbia and adjoining countries is due to the length of time taken to formulate the treaty of peace. Time has probably not been wasted. There were scores of vital questions to be settled and when their disposition was agreed upon, to have them accepted. This accounts for the delay in lifting the blockade on former enemy countries. It has been retained as a force to make acceptance obligatory.

The occurrences in Hungary, where bolshevism has made its presence felt, and its seeping into Rumania, has made it patent that the peoples of continental Europe will have to be fed and employment provided communism is not to spread to every country.

LEARN TO LAUGH.

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. Learn how to tell a story. A well told story is a welcome sunbeam in a sick room. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows. Learn to keep your own troubles to yourself. Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself. Learn to hide your pains and aches under pleasant smiles. No one cares whether you have the earache, headache, or rheumatism. Don't cry. Tears do well enough in novels but are out of place in real life. Learn to meet your friends with a smile. A good humored man or woman is always welcome, but the dyspeptic is not wanted anywhere and is a nuisance as well. Above all, give pleasure. You will pass through this world but once. Any good thing therefore, that you can show to any human being, you had better do now; do not defer or neglect it, for you will not pass this way again. Discouragements and gloominess are things to be avoided like the pestilence; cheerfulness and merriment are qualities to cultivate. Before them annoyances will disappear like dew before the sun. A happy disposition is a fortune in itself.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUN LIFE.

A remarkable degree of progress characterized the Sun Life Assurance Company's activities in 1918. The 48th Annual Report of this company is the best in its history, being such as to easily enable the company to maintain first place among Canadian Life Assurance Companies.

Gains were made in new business, total assurances in force, income, total assets and net surplus.

The new business written and paid for amounted to $51,591,000, a gain of .703,000 over the figures for 1917, which was the best year previous to this in the company's history. The fact that the company is able to pile one year's car on top of another's makes it a record for its organization and business methods. Total assurance in force now stands at $340,800,000, a gain of $1,000,000. Total received totalled $21,651,000 or a gain of $2,300,000, over the previous year; as now stand at $97,620,000, a gain of $7,460,000 while undivided net surplus over all liabilities and capital stock exceeds $8,000,000.

Policyholders have reason to feel gratified at the showing made by their company. The year was a particularly trying one to insurance companies and the fact that Canada's largest insurance company, the Sun Life, made such a splendid showing is a matter of congratulation to the officers, policyholders and the Dominion at large. The fact that the largest insurance company could establish new high records during a war year and in the midst of an influenza epidemic is a fact that should not be lost sight of by the people of Canada.

WAIT A MINUTE

FOR DEEPER WATERWAYS

The second annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association, which is to be held in St. Louis next month, promises to be a large, influential and highly interesting gathering. Advice already received by the local committee indicates that the attendance will be representative of nearly the whole of the United States. Governors of numerous States mayors of cities, and representatives of several hundred commercial and other organizations will be on hand to participate in the proceedings.

The betterment of waterways throughout the entire country, but mainly those in the great Mississippi Valley will furnish the general subject of discussion. Incidentally, the convention will give its attention to a wider range of other important subjects, such as the extension of foreign trade, the labor situation, freight rates, and other problems growing out of the period of reconstruction.

The establishment of a national mercantile marine and the utilization of inland waterways as a means toward the development of foreign trade will occupy a foremost place on the agenda.

Immediate subjects for action will be the task of solidifying public sentiment for the governmental development and equipment of the 16,000 miles of waterways in the Mississippi Valley, the establishment of regular sailing schedules from Gulf ports the extension of the benefits of the present Federal large service on the rivers, and support in Congress.

One of the definite projects to be considered, is the familiar one of the future improvement of rivers under a definite national program rather than under the hit-or-miss, promiscuous appropriation method of the past.

James E. Smith president of the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association, will present his plan for the spending of $100,000,000 in five years, to make the rivers navigable and place upon them government-operated barge lines, similar to the service now in operation between St. Louis and New Orleans. This plan has had the approval of many organizations and aroused great interest in the last rivers and harbors congress in Washington.

The mayors have been urged to attend the convention in order that the important problem of adequate river terminals and docks may be brought up. Adequately advise the conference on the best methods of dock construction and it is hoped that a standard and uniform plan for terminal works may be agreed upon.

Commercial and trade organizations in Texas, Florida, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and New Mexico have been advised that the question of rates into their territories will be taken up by the convention. Such tariffs are now being prepared and are must sought after.

TO DISCUSS LIVE PROBLEMS

Mrs. Burr, Aged 29 Gains 27 Pounds

Illinois Woman Suffered Thirty Years—Takes Restores

"I have actually gained twenty-seven pounds by taking Tanlae, and while I am now past seventy-nine years of age, I don't feel that old by forty years," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. Mary E. Burr, of Bradford, Illinois, R.F.D., No. 10, recently.

Mrs. Burr relates some very trying experiences of Civil War days, one of which was the loss of her first husband, who was killed in the great conflict. At the close of the war she moved to Illinois with her parents, in an "old covered wagon," and remained a widow until November of last year when she was happily married again, becoming the wife of a prosperous farmer of Bradford.

"Those Civil War days certainly were dark ones," said Mrs. Burr, "and if I should live to be twice as old as I am now I could never forget the terrible suffering and sorrow so many had to go through. I feel sure the nervous strain and hardships that came to me was what caused my health to break down later on. But while I have seen the dark and bitter side of life I have also enjoyed the greater part of it. I had always been blessed with fairly good health until about thirty years ago, when all of a sudden I just seemed to collapse and most completely. This was about the hardest trial of my life, as I had always been in the habit of getting out doors, raising chickens, gathering fruit and doing lots of outdoor work."

"I commenced first to be bothered with my stomach. Every little bit I ate would sour and form a sort of gas which caused me the most awful suffering. This gas would press against my heart and I would be so short of breath for hours that I could not walk. If I even tried to walk I would get so dizzy, weak and tremble that I would lose my balance. My nerves got in such a bad shape that I could hardly sleep and would just roll and toss all night long. I just couldn't stand a bit of noise. Just the chickens cackling would almost drive me distracted. I had no appetite and what little I did eat caused me so much pain that I would almost die. I kept going down until I was almost a complete wreck. I had lost so much in weight that none of my clothes fitted me and I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the room, let alone do my work."

"I tried most everything, but nothing helped me and I have given up nearly all hope of ever being well again. While I was on the lookout trying to find something to help me, a friend of mine who had taken Tanlae results advised me to try it. I started on Tanlae and the way it helped me right from the start was almost like a miracle. I have taken twelve bottles now and have not only been relieved entirely of all my sufferings but I am enjoying better health than I have in thirty years. My meals taste as good as they did years ago, I can now eat just anything without the slightest trouble afterwards and I simply sleep like child. I can now easily do all my work, including my washing, and my strength for a woman of my age is just remarkable. I am perfectly well and enjoy life as well as I ever did. Just lots of people have asked me what I have been taking to make me look so well and it's a pleasure to me to tell them Tanlae. I know as well as I know I am here that I owe my health and happiness to this grand medicine and I will always praise it."

Tanlae is sold in Kitchener by E. O. Ritz & Co., in Galt by R. W. Metcalfe, in Hamilton by J. H. R. Phin, in New Hamburg by W. H. Boulton, in Milbank by R. B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A. E. Richert & Co., in Preston by H. L. Erick, in Waterloo by A. B. Leary, in Doon by L. C. Bullock.

Letters to News Record

POSITION OF PARK BOARD.
To the Editor: The Park Board of today is up against a peculiar proposition insofar as he maintenance and improvement of the Park is concerned. They say that they have no money to spend on the Park. This is probably correct but they have only themselves to blame.

Why our Park should be a Load on the City instead of earning part of its upkeep as other Parks are doing, is easily explained. There are no revenue-producing attractions nor facilities. Years ago before the Park was switched around it was an easy matter to have attractions such as Baseball matches, Military Tattoos, Band Concerts, etc., and the revenue therefrom for the Park Board was always a handsome sum. In fact it was often necessary to speak for the Park several weeks ahead because the engagements were so many. But the minute the old Grand Stand was moved the trouble began. The Park Board saw fit to set aside the Athletic Park in a space scarcely large enough to hold a school-boys "Cat" game, and took up the most promising place with the picturesque old Grand Stand and now this place is good-for-nothing.

Then when they had the opportunity to either improve the Athletic grounds or build a new Pavilion (which is also a very necessary thing) they spent the Insurance Money on building a caretaker's home. No doubt the caretaker will accommodate the crowds should a shower of rain catch a picnic unwares.

Wake up Park Board. Take a tip from Waterloo, whose Park is beginning to leave ours in the back-ground in many ways that need be mentioned. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
A FRIEND OF THE PARK.

A surprising increase in the number of women pharmacists have been reported recently in many of the States.

CARELESS SHAMPOOING SPOILS THE HAIR

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
