

that a second edition will shortly appear, when any errors which may have crept into this will be rectified. Lastly, as to these and all such errors, we pray the kind indulgence of our readers for the reasons assigned in another portion of this preface; these imperfections must not be ascribed to the heart, but rather to the head and judgment.

QUEBEC, January, 1862.