Brandon drops Tigers

by Luke Napier

Dal's bid for the CIAU men's basketball title last Friday night was short-lived, as the Tigers dropped their opening game in the Brandon Regionals 83-82 to the host Bobcats.

The loss was strongly protested by the Tigers, who thought the game was theirs after Bo Malott put Dal up 82-81 with only six seconds to play. However, Brandon guard Earl Roberts made good with a jump shot with 0:00 showing on the clock. Officials decided to allow the basket to count.

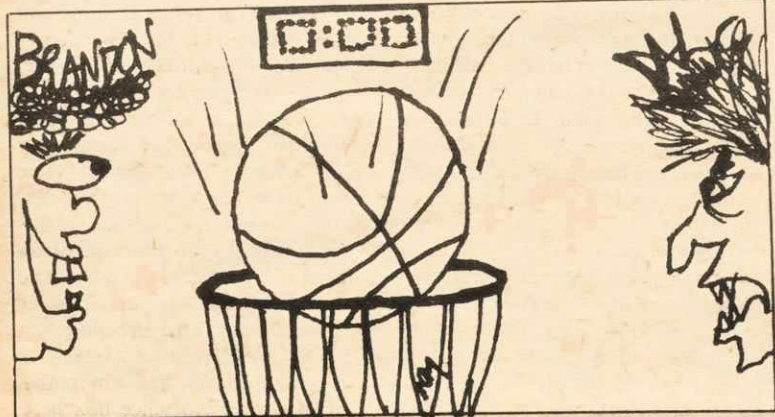

Dal Coach Doc Ryan filed an official protest which was not upheld. Some consolation was provided by Roberts, who said after the game, "I know I shot the ball and then heard the buzzer."

Brandon went on to claim the Regional title with an 86-59 romp over the Calgary Dinosaurs. They advance to the national finals tournament at Waterloo this weekend. Dal lost the consolation final 82-76 to Concordia.

So ends an enigmatic season for the Tigers. They were talented enough to place two players, Bo Hampton and Steve Lambert, on the AUAA first-team all-star list, with Stan Whetstone a second team all-star, Bo Malott and Pat Slawter rounding out an awesome starting five. They beat every team in the conference, but the best they could finish was third.

Whatever the cause of their inconsistency, the Tigers will certainly be strong again next year, when they hopefully will bring a long-awaited AUAA title to Dal

Winning Tigers turn up losers at CIAU champs

by Andrew Lorimer

The Tigers Volleyball team ended their winning season on a dismal note last week as they lost to UBC and the University of Manitoba in the preliminary round robin of the CIAU championships held in British Columbia.

The first match on Thursday saw the Tigers lose to UBC Thunderbirds in straight sets 15-0, 15-5, and 15-6. The Manitoba Bisons played the Tigers later that evening and also came away in three straight 15-0, 15-0, and 15-8.

In their last match Dalhousie met U of T and won in four games

13-15, 15-10, 15-7 and 15-13 to finish in 5th place overall.

"We were in a very still pool," said Tigers coach Al Scott. "UBC and Manitoba eventually rose to the finals where UBC won 3 games to 1."

Top Tigers in the CIAU tournament were Jamie Fraser with 47 kills and 4 blocks, Jamie Naugler with 38 kills and 3 blocks and Orville Dunn with 13 kills and 14 blocks. Fraser was the only Tiger to be selected to the All-Star squad which was selected in a pre-tournament banquet Wednesday evening.
