

PAY WHEN CURED

If I had any doubts that my Latest Method Treatment will cure you, I could not make the above proposition. You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, call and see me, as I will give you a thorough examination free of charge, and may be the means of saving you years of suffering.

Each Time You Call You See Dr. Goldberg Personally and not any of the assistants, or each time you write it receives my personal attention. I have 14 diplomas, certificates, etc., which testify to my standing and abilities. The number of years I have been established in Detroit and the cures I accomplished places me among the foremost specialists of the country. I can give you no stronger guarantee of my ability to cure you than the fact that you pay nothing until cured; if you cannot call, write all about your troubles, which I will give my most careful attention and advise you whether I can cure you or not.

Gladys Deacon, "the American beauty," met with an extraordinary accident at night in London. A lady who was walking in front of her tripped, threw up her heels, and one shoe flew off, striking Miss Deacon sharply on the chin, causing a bad cut. At His Majesty's Theater, a few nights later, when Claude Lowther's play, "The Gordian Knot," was produced, Miss Deacon still had a plaster on her chin.

The French have found a reason for the popularity of the cake walk in Paris. The thing is French! One of the negroes at the Nouveau Cirque, interviewed by a Paris paper, says that the origin of the dance was French. According to this latest account, some of the French refugees from the court of Marie Antoinette introduced the minuet into New Orleans about the time of the Revolution, and it was the native imitation of the most fashionable dance in Europe that was afterward developed into the cake walk.

The Declaration of Independence is to be seen no more by the public, an order having been issued that henceforth the historic manuscript shall be kept under lock and key in a great fire and light-proof safe. This decision has been reached as the result of an examination of the document by a committee of the American Academy of Sciences, recently in session in New York, who acted as the instance of Secretary Hay, whose attention had been called to the sad state of the famous document. Most of the text of the Declaration is still legible, but only one or two of the signatures can be made out. The document, the first to sign. The document from time to time will be photographed in order to measure as nearly as possible the result of the protective steps.

Chicago had to get along for over three weeks with soiled linen on account of the strike of thousands of laundry girls and men. Every union laundry in Chicago was closed. John Chinaman and a few scattered non-union laundries kept at work, but they could not begin to keep the city's clothes and household linen in order. Untidy collars and cuffs, soiled shirts and shirt-waists, spotted tablecloths and napkins were the rule in hotels and private homes. The old mummy of slavery days reaped a harvest. Some laundrymen, who thought to be shrewd, rather than their fellows, fixed up great bundles of linen and shipped them to neighboring towns, thereby hoping to promote the neatness of their customers; but the union was the alert. Wagons were followed to stations, the place of shipment ascertained, and the laundry workers there notified that "soiled" work was coming to them. In most cases these laundry employees refused to do the work, and the bundles were shipped back to Chicago.

FALL FAIRS.

A curious factor in a recent divorce suit is the modern "Breakfast Food" found upon so many tables. Mrs. Secombe has brought suit against her husband, A. H. Secombe, in San Bernardino, Cal., for divorce. She alleges that for five years past he has forced her and his children to maintain life largely upon "Breakfast Food." She gives the following as the Secombe bill of fare: Breakfast—Baked rolled oats with milk, or granose flakes (wheat); an occasional soft-boiled egg; Zwieback and nut butter; occasional "cereal" (wheat coffee). Dinner—Zwieback and nut butter; beans; boiled in salt water and baked; potatoes boiled with jacket; vegetables, in season; in salad; water; green fruit, in season; pudding; plain. Supper—Zwieback and nut butter; rice, boiled with milk; green fruit, in season. All meats prohibited; also coffee and tea. She alleges that this diet has been "sovereignly sufficient to make the family in health." She says that her husband persisted in discussing these foods and their merits at table, and in declaring repeatedly that "meat is poisonous."

Ghosts would frighten many people who are not afraid of germs. Yet the germ is a real danger. If this microscopic animal could be magnified to a size in proportion to its deadliness it would show like a giant python, or fire breathing dragon. The one fact to remember is that the germ is powerless to harm the body when the blood is pure. It is far easier to keep the germ out than to drive it out after it obtains a hold in the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the most powerful and perfect of blood purifying medicines. It increases the quantity as well as the quality of the blood, and enables the body to resist disease, or to throw it off if disease has obtained a footing in some weak organ. Wherever the digestion is impaired, the nutrition of the body is diminished, for the blood is made from the food which is eaten, and half digested food cannot supply the body with blood in quantity and quality adequate to its needs. For this condition there is no remedy equal to "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred persons who give it a fair trial. When there is constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will promptly relieve and permanently cure.

One can have no greater enemy than a violent temper.

For the Farmer.

Over-feeding renders the horse slow, lazy and predisposed to disease, and, therefore, what is wanted is so to feed horses that they shall be in condition for work. Anything consumed by a horse in excess of his requirements for the repair of waste and the maintenance of condition is food—and, therefore, money—wasted, and thus individual requirements, which vary in horses as in men, should be carefully studied.

All Looking to Canada.

The Australian pastoralists have suffered such tremendous losses owing to the prolonged drouth of the past few years that many of them are turning their eyes to Canada as a more suitable field for agricultural operations. An illustration of this is furnished in a recent letter from Mr. Robert Caldwell, Chairman of the Council of Agriculture of South Australia, to Mr. J. A. Ruddick, chief of the Dominion Dairy Division, who was formerly Dairy Commissioner for New Zealand. Mr. Caldwell says: "I would be greatly obliged if you could supply me with your opinion of the land that the Dominion Government are opening up for settlement, and whether you consider the prospects for settlement are equal to what obtain in New Zealand. Perhaps the department have literature on hand that may meet the demand for information that is often being made upon me. I have myself several sons who do not care about the prospects of farming that obtain at the present time in Australia. If inducements offered, they might turn their attention to the grain lands of your great North-west. We have had a succession of disastrous seasons, but the gloom cloud seems to be lifting, as the present year has had a most auspicious beginning, one of the most favorable we have had for some time. Still there are dry patches on our great island where an effort is being made to obtain rain by artificial means."

Hen Oil For Incubators.

An extraordinary step in the artificial incubation of eggs is the result of some years of labor on the part of Mr. E. V. Boyes, a young North London chemist. He has discovered that "something" the lack of which, from the time of the Egyptian downwards, has qualified the success of all artificial incubators. With the knowledge that the perspiration and its complex constituents of a sitting hen are important factors to a successful hatch, Mr. Boyes secured a quantity of the perspiration of a large number of hens feverish with the maternal instinct, and commenced experiment. He found, on chemical analysis, that it consisted of a fatty matter, moisture, and an ethereal substance of acetic odor, with a little dust or dirt. Further experiments have resulted in his now offering the poultry farmer a novel article of commerce in the form of "hen oil." He claims that by putting a little of this curious concoction into the moisture tray under the egg drawer in the incubator, it will be automatically evaporated and diffused by the internal heat, and will do all the instinctive work of a sitting hen. But this is not all. Mr. Boyes has invented a tablet which will provide the lifeless incubator with "animal magnetism." The tablet also is placed in the moisture tray, and as it dissolves gives rise to a continuous non-varying current, which aids in bringing forth a larger percentage of healthy chicks than is at present obtainable.
