Dear Lord! in some dim future year,
In some dim future month and day,
Abides the hour, the solemn hour.
When Thou shalt call my soul away,
That year, that month, that day of days,
Come soon? came late?—I know not whet
O Thou, who rulest all my ways!
Master of life, whom Death obeys,
Be with me then, be with me then!

Somewhere upon this globe of ours
Is hid the spot where I must die,
Where 'mid the snows, or 'mid the flowers,
My shrouded form shall coffin'd 'ie;
If north or south? If east or west?
At home 'abroad ?—I know not where,
O tender Father, Lord of Grace!
Whose presence fills the realms of space,
Be with me there, be with me there

By fire? by flood? by familine sore?
By sudden stroke? by slow decay?—
When Death's dark angel opes my door;
How shall it call my soul away?
God only knows; He bends the bow,
And He alone can fix the dart;
Yet care! not when, where, or how
The end may come, sweet Lord! if Thou
Wilt then but shield me in Thy Heart
—Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE STATE

Replying to a deputation of the Dublin Corporation on Monday, Forster said that the Government could not permit an immediate franchise reform, as it was too

Clonakity threatening Benee Jones or his employees, or any person furnishing him with supplies, with death.

The Home Rule members of Parliament have adopted a resolution binding the members to sit in opposition to every Government that refuses the just demands of the Irish people, especially that for legis-lative independence.

A Dublin correspondent reports that many of the jurors in the State Trials are securely Boycotted, and will be un-able to answer to their names when

The State trials formally opened on Tuesday in the Court of Queen's Bench,
Dublin, before Lord Chief Justice May, Justices Fitzgerald and Barry. There was a great crowd around the approaches, and the traversers were loudly applauded on their appearance. The Judges took their seats at ten o'clock, and the Chief Justice, with considerable composure, read an address, stating that after the misconception which had arisen as to what he said on a former occasion, he should not take part in the present trials. After reading the address, which elicted no manifestation of feeling, His Lordship left the chair, which was occepied by Justice Fitzgerald, and the trials proceeded before him and Barry. Only eighteen out of the twentyfour jurors called answered to their names. The body of the Court-room is occupied for the defendants are Messrs. Francis MacDonough, Q. C., Samual Walker, Q. C., W. McLaughlin, Q. C., and Feter O'Brien, Q. C., with Mr. John Curran, J. Nolan, Richard Adams, Dillon, and A. M. Sullian, M. P. Sullivan, M. P.

The Attorney-General applied for a postponment of the State trials until Wednesday because of the short attendance of jurors. The counsel for the traversers urged that it was usual to form a jury of twelve from those who answered to their names. Justice Fitzgerald agreed that the latter was the regular course. Three jurors were then everysed ourse. Three jurors were then excused on account of age and infirmity, and the traversers' counsel challenged another.

A jury was empanelled after much difficulty, the process occupying two hours. All the traversers were present and answered to their names.

The Home Rule members of Parliament have resolved to oppose any coer-cion bill in the House by every means in their power; to obstruct English and Scotch bills until all arrears of Irish legislation are wiped out.

Forster told a Dublin deputation that the borough franchise would be assimilated in two countries, but he thought that as the English and Scotch county franchise would be probably be greatly changed shortly it would not be judicious to tamper with the Irish franchise at present. The Government were of the opinion that the municipal franchise should be the same as in England.

A legal argument of more than an hour ensued on Macdonagh's challenges. The Court decided that the traversers had the right to challenge in the usual way a certain number of jurors, but counsel for the traversers did not take advantage of this decision to obstruct the course of the trial. The jury consists of eight Catholies, three Protestants and one Quaker. When the jury had been constructed the Attorney-General opened the case for the Crown in a firm but moderate tone. He said that the object of the conspiracy in which the traversers were engaged was t cause the social excommunication of number of persons, and to make their lives not worth the having. He pointed out the absurdity of the idea of parcelling out treband among a population of five millions, which would only add to the misery of the unfortuna country. He severely condemned the policy of the Land League, which, he said, advocated freedom, yet brought all its power to bear in the coercion of private individuals. The Government, he said, were bound to institute proceedings to put down the wicked agitation.

A great crowd cheered the traversers on

It is an-nounced that the law officers of the Crown will strenuously oppose this course.

London, Dec. 30.—A correspondent at Dublin says that the public interest in the State trials is considerably abated. There was little or no excitement yesterday in the neighborhood of the Court. A large number of the Irish members of Parlia-ment who attended on Tuesday did not appear.

Being very palarable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Ciergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarth, the effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or svrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERKY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results.
