LUSITANIA CASE IS SETTLED SAYS NEW YORK SUN

Story Published by Sun is That Germany and America Have Definitely Disposed of Lusitania Case—Terms of Settlement Will be Announced Soon by Secretary Lansing, so Report Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The New York Sun gives unusual prominence to a Washington story, under the headline, "Wilson is conceded that the sinking of the big liner was illegal. In view of Great Britain's illegal blockade, and in lieu of an admission that attack on the steamer was illegal, Germany was willing to compensate the relatives of those who lost their lives in the submarine attack on the British liner." This proposition, contained in a note addressed Mr. Secretary of State, and simply signed J. Bernstorff, apparently has been accepted in final settlement of the Lusitania incident, according to the Sun, which continues: "The terms of the Lusitania settlement will formally be announced any day by Secretary Lansing. The German Ambassador's note is on his desk, and practically all he has to do is to make it public to close the case. Mr. Lansing has stated that he has agreed to the terms as contained in the note. The Sun concludes:—German official circles, it is explained, regard the Lusitania case as definitely disposed of. As soon as the Ambassador's note is published here, the Imperial Foreign Office will confirm it, and the terms of settlement will be published simultaneously in Germany and the United States."
