

THE DEAREST GIRL IN THE WORLD

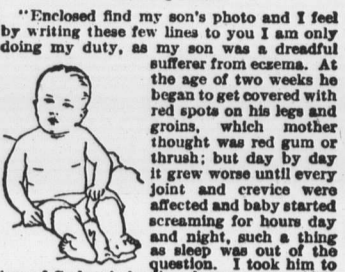

"Indeed I do," said Lady Angelina. One evening at a grand party Lord Wedderburn had engaged several dances with Miss Roslyn. The season had been an unusually long one, but Lord Wedderburn had been eager to accept every invitation. He sought Miss Roslyn the first one. Every one was beginning to notice this and comment on it. Lady Alicia Home was simply delighted.

"Mother, I want to introduce you to your daughter-in-law," he said. "You mean the one I am to have. I shall be the happiest mother on earth to know my daughter-in-law." Lord Wedderburn stepped into the corridor and led Dorothy in. Lord Wedderburn told her the old secret, and she cried with them, as she clasped Dorothy in her arms. "Mother, Dorothy is Uncle Robert's niece, and the last will is yet to be found," said Lord Wedderburn as they left the room together. "What does it matter if it is never found?" asked Dorothy, and they went into his study, where he took out a small bundle. We will look over these reminders of an unhappy past after dinner, said Lord Wedderburn, and the servants were amazed that dinner had to be served an hour late. When it was finished Lord Wedderburn went into the study, followed by Dorothy. He unrolled the little bundle of ragged clothing and from out of them fell a package of old yellow papers. "Those are the papers John Boughtman gave me the day we left Castle Royal," she said. He opened one and read it. It was the last will of Sir Robert Home, whereby he left his vast estate to his only child, Dorothy Roslyn Home. Lord Wedderburn handed it to Dorothy. "You are sole mistress of proud old Castle Royal," he said, and she, standing near the open grate, threw the will into the fire. Lord Wedderburn entered them in close and thus keep water out. A chicken can stand on a rain all day and not get wet to the skin.

THIS ARTICLE REMOVED

WOULD SCREAM FOR HOURS WITH ECZEMA

Baby Dreadful Sufferer. Could Not Keep Him from Scratching. Every Joint Affected. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and He Is Well.

"Enclosed find my son's photo and I feel proud to think that you are doing your duty, as my son was a dreadful sufferer from eczema. At the age of two weeks he began to get covered with red spots on his legs and groin, which mother thought was red gum or thrush; but day by day it grew worse until every joint and crevice were affected and baby started screaming for hours day and night, such a thing as sleep was out of the question. I took him to two of Sydney's leading doctors; one said it was one of the worst cases he had seen, the other said it was serious; one ordered ointment for rubbing in, the other a dusting powder. I followed their prescriptions for over four months and still did not get better. I could not keep him from scratching so great was his agony. I tried the Cuticura Remedies and I am very thankful to you for their use. My son is now well, his joints, eyebrows and neck; but after twice using Cuticura Ointment I began to see a difference and by the time I had used six boxes, along with the bathing with Cuticura Soap, baby was nearly cured, still kept on using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and now, thank goodness, he is quite well and although he now has a few spots on his face, I have no further return of the trouble. (Signed) Mrs. G. Martin, 2 Knight St., Edinburgh, Scotland, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but a liberal sample of each will be sent free of charge on request and treatment of the skin and hair will be sent free on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Co., 50 Columbus Ave., Boston, U.S.A."

looks after the first wash, he can be made still whiter and cleaner. After he is washed and dried with towels and ready to go into the warm coop, it will be well to give him a half spoonful of whiskey. This does much to prevent necessary reaction from the strain of washing. Some fanciers put a little blueing in the last water used on the bird. This is of doubtful propriety, but is generally practiced. If you do this be sure and don't get too much in. The proper amount is hard to prescribe and your washer woman can help you. It serves to take off the cream tint which practically all white fowls have and which their owners are trying to rid them of.

A BRITISH VETERAN.

(From the London Standard.) The oldest soldier in the British army is said to be Samuel Parsons, the King's gunner at Windsor Castle, who to-day celebrated the fifty-second anniversary of his appointment as the Royal Gunner at the Round Tower of Windsor Castle. Although nearly 80 years of age he is still on the active list and has drawn his military pay for sixty-five years. Parsons still retains all his faculties to a surprising degree. He was born at Enniscorthy, Co. Wick, in 1832, and at the age of 18 years joined the Royal Artillery at Devonport. He was at Quebec with his regiment for six years, and after three years home service was despatched to time with fever. Parsons returned to the seat of war the day before the charge on the Crimée medal, with bars for Sebastopol, Inkermann and Balaklava; the Queen Victoria's Jubilee medal, with bars for the diamond jubilee, King Edward's Coronation medal, and the King George's Coronation medal. During the fifty-two years Parsons has been at the Round Tower he has seen the Royal Standard flies from the masthead, with a small one at night. Since 1892 the Round Tower has been heated during the absence of the court.

A Wonderful Discovery

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning. Not one speck of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill. Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this. Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures so permanently.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimer avenue, Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema! All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

BE PRUDENT WITH THE WHIP.

When a driver whips a horse, observes an exchange, he usually does so in anger or excitement, and does it unwisely. It is possible to punish a horse prudently and effectively, but that is not cruelty. Ninety-nine per cent. of the blows which horses receive are unearned and harmful. Many drivers whip a horse immediately after he has shied from some passing object, like an automobile, which he does not understand, and which fills him with terror. It may be necessary to ply the whip to the frightened animal in order to keep him from colliding with other objects, and thus bringing disaster, but once the terrorizing object has been passed, the whipping of the horse for having been frightened is simply cruelty, which only serves to infuse greater terror in the animal toward the object, and causes him to be more frightened at the next meeting. —Farmer's Advocate.

IN THE FIRE-HOLE.

The captain's fire in his coat of blue, The mate is big and handsome, too; But of the hundreds in her crew 'Tis he that makes her make her go. Eight hours off and four hours on, Sweating and till the voyage is done, Striking the flame till the race is won Sweat the coolies who make her go. Not even a name on the ship's pay roll, Only a number to take his toll, Just stow mites in the human whole— Naked coolies who make her go. No hint above of what's below, Keeping alive the fiery glow, Drying the clothes, who make her go— Yellow coolies who make her go.

MONUMENT TO MME. DE SEVIGNE

A statue of Mme. de Sevigne was unveiled to-day at a Britanny not far from where the Les Rochers, where she loved to live and the scenery of which she exquisitely described in her letters. M. Paul Deschanel, the Academician, delivered the inaugural address, and the company paid a visit to the Chateau des Rochers, in which the Nestorius family preserves many relics of its famous actress.—Paris correspondence London Times.

OBJECTION SUSTAINED.

(Bystander.) "No, Ferdinand, owing to circumstances over which I have no control, I can never marry you." "Yes, circumstances, Araminta." "Yes, circumstances, Ferdinand."

THE STANDARD ARTICLE USED EVERYWHERE. ROYAL YEAST CAKES. THE KIND THAT PLEASES THE PEOPLE. MOST PERFECT MADE. CHOW CHOW.

OH, PICKLES!

The vegetables and spices for this popular relish are two quarts of small green relishes, twelve small cucumbers, three red peppers, one cauliflower, two bunches of celery, one point of small onions, two quarts of string beans, one-quarter pound of mustard seed, two ounces of turmeric, one-half ounce of allspice, one-half ounce of pepper, one-half ounce of cloves, salt, and one gallon of vinegar. Prepare the vegetables and cut in small pieces. Cover with salt and let stand 24 hours, and drain. Heat vinegar and spices to boiling point, add vegetables and cook until soft. PEACH MANGOES. After washing and wiping firm freestone peaches, halve them and remove the stones. Lay them in brine for two days and in fresh water for one. Stuff with a mixture of grated horseradish and mustard seed, adding a little celery seed. Tie the halves into shape with soft pack thread. Pack in a stone jar. Pour spiced and sweetened vinegar over them. Cover closely. Seal the vinegar once in two weeks for two months, each time drawing it off the peaches and pouring it over again. They will be ready to serve in four months. PICKLED CAULIFLOWER. Break the heads into small sections. Boil ten or fifteen minutes in salt and water. Take from the fire and drain carefully. When cold place in a jar and pour over it hot vinegar in which have been scalded whole cloves, pepper, allspice and white mustard. Have the spices tied in a bag and remove when scalded. For each quart of hot vinegar add two tablespoons of French mustard and half a cupful of white sugar. Cover the pickle with vinegar and keep it closely covered at all times.

SIX YEARS USE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets she will always use them as long as there are little ones in the house. They are absolutely safe and never fail to cure constipation, colic, indigestion or the many other babyhood ailments. Concerning them Mrs. E. Simons, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have not been without Baby's Own Tablets for six years. I have given them to my three little ones and find them excellent during teething and at other times." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE APPLE.

(By a Physician.) If the everyday human knew more about the value of fruits and the science of foods the average physician would be obliged to take a smaller office and live in a cheaper house. Fruits, especially, have their medicinal properties. An uncooked apple, eaten at night before retiring, and a glass of water to follow it, is one of the oldest of beauty and health prescriptions. It prevents or relieves constipation and gives clearness to the skin. It is one of the best aids to sleep. And it directly assists the digestion of other food. The apple is not only one of the most nutritious fruits, but it especially recommends itself because it can be purchased a good share of the year, and in all climates. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of this fruit may throw up their hands in horror, with visions of dyspepsia before them, at the mere mention of eating apples at bedtime. However, the advantage that fruit in the morning is golden; at noon savior and at night food, does not apply to the apple. Because it contains more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than any other fruits, this fruit is also a capital brain food. In a word it is an all round health aid. It excites the action of the liver, promotes sound and healthy sleep and thoroughly disinfects the mouth.

A CUT ARTERY.

(BY A PHYSICIAN.) If blood comes in jets from even a small wound there is no time to lose. The jetting is from a severed artery. Five minutes in such a case may mean life or death. Instant action is essential. The two handkerchiefs together, drawing the knots very hard. Slip them about the wounded part between the wound and the trunk. Look for the course of the artery. Set a knot well over it; thrust in a short stick, and twist it round and round until the knot indents itself deeply into the flesh. Keep the knot there until the surgeon comes. Cut veins, though not so dangerous as severed arteries, are sufficiently so to need almost equally prompt attention. Where blood flows in steady streams of dark crimson, put the knot below the wound, and twist it as before directed. Veins gather up blood from the extremities. Arteries take their supply straight from the heart.

A bite of this and a taste of that, all day long, dulls the appetite and weakens the digestion. Restore your stomach to healthy vigor by taking a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal—and cut out the 'pickling'. Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets are the best friends for sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. 50c. a Box at your Druggist's. Made by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

FOR PRIZE BIRDS.

Right Way to Wash Fowls for Exhibition.

The average beginner does not realize how important it is that birds shown in competition must be properly conditioned and washed, especially white birds. The amount of dirt and grime that a white fowl can get worked into its feathers without showing noticeably is remarkable. When it begins to show the bird is as dirty as a hog, and whether it looks as dirty as that or not, you will find that it is, and that washing it two or three times will greatly improve its condition, especially if you are going to exhibit at a show where competition is going to be strong. The impression prevails among many beginners that washing a bird is an easy task before they have tried it, but if results are looked for one will find that washing is not easy. Of all the discouraging, profitless jobs connected with the fancy, washing a white bird is the worst to the beginner, that is not fully equipped to do it properly. It is probably true that every genuine fancier, when he finishes the job, does so with the consciousness that at least it is only half done. There are great possibilities in properly washing. The first requisite is water, then more water, and after that a whole lot more water. One needs first a large vessel full of lukewarm water in which to soak the bird thoroughly, so the soapuds can work through the plumage. The vessel ought to be deeper than the height of the fowl, so that you can place the bird in it without any trouble. Hold it down and work the water up in its plumage. You will find that there is not much difference in the matter of shedding water between a 'duck's back' and a chicken's. The feathers are full of natural oil and the fowl's instinct