JAPANESE SINK RUSSIAN WARSHIPS

Whether their action was due to the Japanese fire or to the Russians' own action, but it is believed to be due to the former. The crews of both Russian vessels took refuge on a French warship at Chemulpo. There were no casualties among the Japanese, and their vessels sustained no damage.

A force of Japanese troops were disembarked at Chemulpo. The easy capture of Chemulpo is regarded as the most important event of the war, so far. Chemulpo is the port of Seoul, the Korean capital, with which it is connected by railroad. The Japanese in control of Chemulpo, will necessarily have command of Korea and its capital and resources.

In a despatch from Tien Tsin a correspondent of the Daily Mail says it is reported that the Russian cruisers, Varig and Korietz hauled down their flags without firing a shot and that 8,000 Japanese immediately landed at Chemulpo, and the march to Seoul commenced.

Japanese troops also landed at all the chief ports of southern and western Korea. One division of the Japanese guards holds Fusan and Che-sons of the Japanese guards, each of 12,000 men have been mobilized.

The Russian warships at Vladivostok are icebound. The vessels there are the armored cruisers Rurik, Rossia, Gromohoy and Bogatyr.

Another correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs from Port Arthur that the Russian advance has commenced. General Krastinsky will leave Liao-Yang to-day for the Yalu river at the head of the third brigade of artillery, consisting of 24 guns and three regiments of infantry. The third, fourth and fifth infantry brigades are entrenched along the railroad at a distance of 40 miles from Hai-Chang and three batteries of the fifth brigade are at Kin-Chow. The greatest activity prevails here and ammunition is being served out lavishly, at an average of 150 cartridges per man. New recruits are being enrolled with feverish haste, drilling being dispensed with in favor of incessant target practice.

CEMETERY DISPUTE

The case of Smith vs. Logan is an interesting dispute over the possession of a cemetery in Camden, that will occupy the attention of Judge Bell on the 18th inst.

In the year 1868 and for many years before, one Joseph Wright was the owner of part of lot 7, concession 13, Camden Township. On the first day of December, 1868, the said Joseph Wright sold the property to George Wright, save one-half acre reserved for a burying ground. On the 11th day of June, 1888, George Wright, who had owned the property for over 20 years, sold the same to George Wilson for $1,200, excepting the burying ground, which he did not own. On the 11th of January, 1889, George Wilson sold to the defendants, Albert and Ella Logan. Upon the death of Joseph Wright his title to the half-acre lot used as a cemetery passed to his children, and Mrs. Logan is one of the children.

The plaintiff owns the adjoining farm and claims the cemetery by right of possession. M. Wilson & Co. for plaintiffs, J. B. Rankin contra.

have received during the past ten days some forty odd cases of spring goods, comprising lines for almost every department. The showing of Dress Goods, Cottons, Prints, Muslins, Dimities, Table Linens, Embroideries and White Wear is especially large. Contracts for all cotton goods were made months ago and have been marked on the basis of last year's prices, which, in many instances, is below what the manufacturers are asking for the same goods. The moral of this is that it will pay you to buy NOW and to buy LARGELY.

Remember that every Ten Dollars you spend at this sale will mean ONE DOLLAR for the hospital and a saving of fully two dollars for you on the prices of many lines in the near future.

THE STAFF

Three floor walkers and a corps of Forty Salesladies will be in charge, assisted
