

QUEBEC MAPLE SYRUP

This season's make will be here. As no doubt you are aware, the best hard maple woods the world are in Quebec. The climate and the trees make the good syrup we get from that province. Then the making of it by modern ways keeps it clean and gives fine flavor.

We shall be glad to have your order for delivery about the middle of April. You can depend on getting it at its best.

TO SACK HIM

Liberal Report that Reverend Editor of the Globe will Return to the Westminster.

The St. Thomas Journal, Liberal, on Saturday published the following despatch from its Toronto correspondent:

Toronto, April 2.—It is rumored both here and at Ottawa that Rev. J. A. McDonald, chief editor of the Globe, is to return to the editorship of the Westminster.

The change, it is said, however, will not take place until the close of the present session of the Legislature.

In the view of some Liberals, three causes contributed to this surprising change, the "Barnacle" article in which Editor McDonald declared that the Grit party in Ontario "was suffering from the cancer corruption and that the barnacles on the ship of state must be removed with an iron hand"; his failure to swing the party into line for Government control on the temperance question; and third, injury to the party in keeping alive the Gammy issue.

Donkeshers Being Well.

Mr. C. W. Speers, General Colonization Agent for Manitoba and the Territories, reports as follows regarding the Donkeshers: "During my stay among these people I visited most of their villages, and I found them in a most prosperous condition. In addition to the fact that they are entering for their homesteads, and have large areas under cultivation for the coming year, they have a very complete equipment of machinery and horses and a large number of cattle. They are building some Public schools. One large school will be erected in Terpenzie village, where the English language will be taught, and there is a marked conformity to Canadian usage and custom. I feel persuaded that these people will by degrees become so Canadianized that they will comply with all our regulations. Permit me to observe that I never saw stock in such excellent condition. They are great caretakers of animals, and make ample provision at all times for a generous supply of food. They are certainly very frugal and industrious people. It was my privilege to meet about forty-five men, representing different villages, who had met as a council to discuss different matters pertaining to their mutual welfare. Since the advent of Peter Verigen there is a system of organization, and the people, even in Saskatchewan, seem more contented and exhibit a greater inclination to cultivate their individual holdings or homesteads."

Man, Woman and Love.

In one of his books Max O'Reil, the witty Frenchman, gives the following advice:

"If you are bald, never make love to a woman taller than you. Looked at from below, you are all right."

"Never let your ladylove see you without a collar; no—not even the very wife of your bosom. A man's head without a collar is like a bouquet without a holder."

"Never marry a woman richer than you, one taller than you, or one older than you. Be always gently superior to your wife in fortune, in size, and in age, so that in every possible way she may appeal to you for help or protection, either through your purse, your strength, or your experience in life. Marry her at an age that will always enable you to play with her all the different characteristic parts of a husband—a chum, a lover, an adviser, a protector, and just a tiny suspicion of a father."

Chance of Long Life.

Taking a million as a basis of calculation, statistics show that at the end of seventy years there will still survive 312,000 out of 1,000,000 persons. At the expiration of eighty years there will be 107,000 survivors of the original million. When it comes to ninety years of existence, there is a terrible thinning of the ranks. Only 8,841 out of the 1,000,000 or one in 115 will live to that age. At ninety-seven but 244, or one in 410, will be alive. At ninety-eight, half of these will have dropped out, leaving only 119 souls out of the original 1,000,000. One's chances to reach ninety-eight, according to these tables, is about one in 840. Of the original 1,000,000, only fifty-four will live to see ninety-nine years, or about one person out of 18,500. The century mark will be reached by only twenty-three out of 1,000,000; or, in other words, out of a group of 43,500 people born at the same time only one will fill out the century span of existence.

Every mind is at times sensitive to the most trifling words.

When we do good we invest in a savings bank from which the heart receives the interest.—Edmond Souvestre.

As everyone may see, fashionable life is passed not in being happy, but in playing at being happy.—Herbert Spencer.

The true and strong and sound mind is the mind that can embrace equally great things and small.

A firm faith is the best divinity; a good life the best philosophy; a clear conscience the best law; honesty the best policy, and temperance the best physics.—Amon.

Have you ever known what it is to be encouraged to do right, not by being told to do so, but by being near a man stronger than yourself, whose mere presence helped you so that you were the stronger man because he was there? There are men living to-day on the strength of other men.—R. J. Campbell.
