About one hundred tourists bound for points down the coast reached here Monday on the Maritime express. The train was late and the Lady Eileen proceeded to Dalhousie without them. Two cars containing the tourists were coupled to the local at the junction and connections were made at Dalhousie. The bulk of the tourists were bound for Gaspe.

Emisic LeBlanc, a veteran fisherman of St. Omer had a narrow escape from drowning on Friday. He had purchased a large fishing boat at Grand River and was attempting to sail it up to Campbellton alone. When off Bonaventure a squall struck his craft, capsizing it. LeBlanc clung desperately to the upturned boat. He was about four miles offshore and it was useless for him to try and swim the distance. After being in the water for about half an hour he was picked up by another fishing boat. When rescued he was thoroughly exhausted and could not have lasted many minutes more. His boat has not yet been recovered.

The Inch Arran at Dalhousie, which has had more or less of a checkered career was opened this season by Mr. Deaf, an insurance man. Last week there were a number of boarders in the house, but one day the majority left, for some reason or another. Their places were quickly filled, however, by others and at the present time the Inch Arran houses quite a number of tourists, among whom are the Carsley's of Montreal.

The employees of the various branches of the Intercolonial Railway service have for the past two weeks been preparing for the marriage of the General Superintendent, Mr. David Pottinger to Mrs. F. P. Reid, and many valuable presents have been purchased by the different divisions to show the esteem in which the former is held by his men. Those employed in maintenance of way and telegraphic services have joined forces and on Wednesday presented Mr. Pottinger with a handsome automobile, purchased at a cost of three thousand dollars.

Nearly 1,000 persons were on the recent pilgrimage to St. Anne de Beupre. A St. John woman who was among those who took it in was asked by the Telegraph of that city, if any cures had been wrought. She replied "Yes, there were two cases which I noticed particularly. A woman whose name I do not know, as she was not from St. John, was cured of a bad attack of rheumatism. A man was cured in a remarkable way, and a man from Apohaqui, told me that he had been much benefited. All did not go expressly to be cured and very few were helpless cripples. I noticed only one of our party with crutches.

Readers of "Events" may recall that on the evening of June 16, John Giroux, a prominent farmer of Upper Charlo, and his son were rather brutally assaulted while attempting to quell a racket in front of their house. A daughter of Mr. Giroux was married on that day and a number of young men of the neighborhood made the event an excuse for a celebration. Late in the evening several lady guests at the wedding desired to drive home, and Mr. Giroux and his son went outside to ask the young men to disperse. The assault followed. Ten days ago a man named Morin was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the assault. His case came up before Magistrate Bassett, at Dalhousie on Monday, but owing to insufficient evidence it was dismissed. James S. Harquail appeared for the crown and W. A. Mott for the defence.

The summer school for the Sunday School workers of the North Shore under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, which was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Campbellton, July 2nd-5th was an unqualified success. The attendance was large and the meetings were all instructive and interesting. There were some ninety or more delegates present in all. The various congregations were represented by the following members. Black River 14—This was the largest number sent by any congregation from a distance. Escuminac, the next congregation to Campbellton reported, 17 in attendance. New Mill sent 11, Campbellton 10, Flatlands 7, Bathurst 7, Dalhousie 5, Harcourt 5, Rexton 3, New Richmond 3, St. Andrews, Chatham, 2, Loggieville 2, Toronto 2, Napan Union 1, Doaktown 1, Halifax 1. Besides the delegates from the various schools, the following ministers were present:—A Hardy, Flatlands; M. J. McPherson, Escuminac; A. J. W. Myers, Black River; James Wheeler, Bathurst; R. H. Staver, Harcourt; J. M. McLeod, New Mills; J. H. Kirk, Dalhousie; A. T. Carr, Campbellton.

The Moncton Times will occasionally reprint an item from "Events" and fail to give this paper credit for it. We have never offered any objection to this, but when the Times reprints one of our stories and credits it to another North Shore paper, as it did on Saturday, we think we should protest.

I. C. R. police inspector Duncan Noble, of Campbellton, was in the city to-day. All is quiet in police circles on the north shore, he reports. A number of men employed on railway construction by Contractor Malcolm recently left, and are being conveyed on I. C. R. trains to Montreal. They have given no trouble so far.—Moncton Transcript.

The recent heavy storm has almost ruined the potato crops, as well as a part of the grain crops throughout the country. Even the grass crop which up until this week, gave promise of being above the average, was considerably battered down and destroyed by the hail storm of Tuesday. This is particularly the case where the soil is fertile and the ground, consequently strong and heavy. Unless cut early and dry weather sets in much of it will be useless.

A Fredericton despatch to the St. John Globe on Saturday said in part—The local lumbering concerns, although very much interested, are not worrying to any great extent over the proposition which has been put forward in St. John to have a fee of from five cents to ten cents per thousand and charged on all lumber shipped down the river and reloaded at the St. John harbor from scows or wood boats to ocean steamers, etc. The general feeling is that the necessary regulations would never be passed by the legislature, as there would be such united opposition on the part of the lumbering interests all over the province.

Thomas E. O'Connor, formerly of Campbellton was among the number killed in a train wreck which occurred at Butler, Ont., the other day. Mr. O'Connor who for the past five years has been a resident of Vancouver was on his way east in charge of two hundred Chinamen. At Butler his train collided with the west bound Pacific express. Besides Mr. O'Connor ten Chinamen were killed and many others more or less injured. A card bearing the name and address of a young woman in St. John was found on the person of deceased, but when a St. John newspaper reporter hunted up the young woman it was found that she was not acquainted with O'Connor. It is surmised that he had been asked to call on her by some friend in Vancouver. Deceased was a native of this town. He was a son of Edmund O'Connor who was long employed as engineer with the Shives Lumber Company, but removed to Vancouver with his family about five years ago. Tom, as the deceased was familiarly known, was a great favorite with the young men of the place. For some time he has been in the employ of the Cavanagh and Holden Real Estate Agency, Vancouver as a broker and had gone on the trip to St. John as guard merely for the novelty of it. His family consisting of mother, father and twelve brothers and sisters reside at 1019 Seymour St., Vancouver.
