MONCTON BIGAMIST WAS REMANDED

Hallifax, Recorder, Friday: Edwin Cuthbertson of Moncton, who was re-arrested on Wednesday on a charge of bigamy and who confessed to the crime, came up before Stipendiary O'Hearn to-day for sentence. His Honor stated that he was not prepared to sentence him to-day as he wished to know more about the case. As he understood it the defendant had deserted his wife and child at Moncton and had masqueraded in Halifax as a single man and had imposed upon the feelings of a respectable Halifax girl and had married her a week or so ago. It was a despicable crime and therefore he wished to consider the proper punishment.

N.S. Winnings at Royal Winter Fair

In the last issue of the Maritime Farmer we mentioned the fact that eight carloads of pure bred live stock had gone forward from Nova Scotia to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. We are pleased to extend our congratulations to animals on the large number of prizes won by them.

This Province stands easily first in the Dominion in its herds of Guernsey cattle. The fact that Nova Scotia breeders practically swept the boards in every class for this breed should prove an advertisement of value not only to themselves and their own Province but also to the other Maritime Provinces as well.

A remarkable series of winning was made by Dickie Brothers, Truro, in the Holstein classes. Needless to say the competition in this breed was exceedingly keen. As nearly as we can learn from reports to hand, they have won three First prizes on their herd and a Grand Championship for their Senior Holstein bull. A fuller summary of these wins will appear in this or a subsequent issue of the Maritime Farmer.

In the Jersey breed, J. R. Semple & Sons, Truro, with the strongest possible competition, succeeded in winning a Second for a Senior yearling Jersey bull. Those who know the keenness of the competition state that this is a most praiseworthy win and should go a long way in advertising the value of Messrs. Semple's stock.

Nova Scotia winnings were not confined to live stock. In the College Judging Competition the Ontario Agricultural College won first place. Out of the eight members composing the team, three were graduates of the N. S. Agricultural College, namely: A. W. MacKenzie, Elmsdale; H. K. MacCharles, Baddeck Bridge; and R. C. Parent of Fredericton, N.B., R.F.D. No. 4. We extend congratulations to these Maritime boys who have proven themselves so efficient in keen competition with very strong teams.

It may not be amiss here to point out to prospective Maritime Province students of Agriculture, that these men are only maintaining the records made on other occasions by boys who took their first two years at the Truro College. It was only last year that F. W. Walsh, a New Brunswick boy who took his first two years at Truro and finished at Guelph, captured first place in the Stock Judging competition at Chicago, competing with the best judges from Colleges both of Canada and U.S. Mr. Walsh is a son of Mr. Fred Walsh, Coverdale, and was formerly on the staff of the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture for several years.

At the same Royal Winter Fair there was a competition among teams of live stock judges from thirty-five Counties in the Province of Ontario. Second prize in this trial of skill fell to the County of Brant. This team of judges was trained by Howard W. Trueman, a graduate of the N.S.A.C. and of Guelph. Mr. Trueman is a son of Professor J.M. Trueman of the Nova Scotia College, who is naturally, much pleased with the good reports which are being received of his son's work as County Agricultural Agent in this part of Ontario.

It may occur to some readers that these boys are being lost to the Maritime Provinces, but, in passing, we may state that Mr. Walsh, the Chicago winner, is now in charge of the Dominion Live Stock Branch activities in Nova Scotia, with headquarters at Truro, and, incidentally, is doing excellent work. Mr. MacCharles, whose name appears above, was his assistant last summer.

The College officials are pleased to note that the Holstein bull, which won the Grand Championship at the Royal Winter Fair, was bred and raised on the College farm. His name is Henry Canary Wayne. He was bought from the College by the late W. W. ... of Waterville, N. S., from whom he was purchased by Messrs. ...
