The Rift Widening.

Following so abruptly that of Mr. W. S. Monroe, the resignation of Mr. Eric A. Bowring also from the Advisory Board to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, will not be calculated to inspire public confidence in the sincerity of that body to do what is best for Newfoundland, during the present fish market complication—crisis, if it be preferred—in Europe. Mr. Bowring's retirement from the Board came with startling suddenness, and if the action of that gentleman denotes anything, it is that there exists a ring within the ring, a secret council which at its own option admits or keeps out the other members according as it desires, withholding valuable information of conditions at will, and in so doing destroying whatever usefulness the whole Board might possess in assisting to restore things to normal conditions.

Though Mr. Eric Bowring was not a regularly constituted member of the Board, his presence thereon was regarded as necessary, because of the affiliations of his firm with the fish trade. He attended meetings as they were held, and his advice was sought just as that of any other full-fledged member. That his being on the Board was regarded as essential to its deliberations, the invitation to be present at consultations and discussions is proof positive and ample, and the recommendation that he be gazetted only needed time for accomplishment. The experience which Mr. Bowring brought to the councils of the Board was undoubtedly of value in determining decisions, but things not being presented in their true significance and concealment of information being a part of the policy of the inner circle, Mr. Bowring's independence rebelled at such treatment and naturally there was no way out but to resign in order to maintain his consistency.

The keeping back of information from a member—if only holding the position in an honorary sense—showed that there was a desire, an inclination, to establish secret relationships, and to disseminate to the full Board only such knowledge and advice of the foreign situation as the inside circle deemed expedient. Thus the members of this body were the actual Board, the others not included in this arcana, being but figureheads, and high secrets were not to be divulged to the uninitiated. The question naturally arises after due consideration of the facts—Is there a conspiracy among those who constitute the ring within the ring? If so, what is its purpose? If not, what was the object in concealing information which was vitally necessary that the full Board should know? Decisions could not be unanimous unless every member was in full possession of all that concerned the matter at issue, and whatever benefits could or would accrue from the full knowledge of facts by every individual member of the Board or Committee, nothing was to be gained BY THE DOMINION in the select, self-constituted circle playing the game of business with marked cards. There can be no doubt that the resignation of Mr. Bowring, for the reasons adduced by him, has given another black eye to the Advisory Board, and its utter collapse may not be long in coming.

To Our Customers.

Owing to the gas restrictions we find it impossible to issue on Wednesday at noon, as has been our custom during the holiday season, but we can assure our readers that we will publish as early as possible to-morrow.

Newfoundlander Receives Imperial Appointment.

Capt. Harris Oke, M.C., son of J. C. Oke of this city, left by the Sackem to-day for England. A cablegram from the Under Secretary at the Colonial Office advised him to report at London on March 8th. Subject to his passing a medical examination he becomes Administrative Officer of Nigeria. Capt. Oke is 28 years old and went across with the Blue Puttees. In 1915 he transferred to the Royal Scots, winning the Military Cross and being mentioned in despatches. He was wounded three times and also gassed. When the armistice was signed he went to Russia with the North Russian Relief Force, returning home on furlough in December last. The position to which Capt. Oke has been appointed is a responsible one and brings with it many opportunities. The Telegram congratulates this gallant son and his relatives on the honor he has brought to his native land.

Evangelists Leaving.

By S.S. Sagona, sailing at 6 o'clock this evening, Mr. and Mrs. Demarest and their private secretary, will leave for Grand Bank at which town they will hold a series of Evangelistic meetings. The Reid Nfld. Co., with proverbial courtesy, have arranged for the Sagona to call at Grand Bank on her way to Port aux Basques to land the party.

Police Court.

Mary Spira, of New Gower Street, was charged with illegally selling Sheriff's Essence. She admitted the sale.
Richard Joseph had the same charge preferred against him. He pleaded not guilty. Both cases were postponed sine die.
A number of people were summoned for keeping dogs without licenses. They paid up out of court and were let off.

Inter-Collegiate Hockey.

Methodist Team Defeat Felldians.
The Felldians were defeated by the Methodist College team in this morning's first game of the inter-collegiate series. The Felldian team was rather light, while the Collegians were supported by two League players, Stick and Bursell. The play was not fast and little or no combination work was seen. Mr. Jack Tobin refereed. The ice was in good condition.

A Post Office Team.

Under the captaincy of W. Coultas, a hockey team comprised of employees of the General Post Office has been formed and on the Lake to-morrow afternoon will have its first try-out. Later, when in form it will challenge all-comers to a game or series.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

Hockey To-Morrow Night.

To-morrow night's hockey game between the Felldians and Terra Novas will without doubt prove the most exciting one of the season to date. The Terra Novas lead so far, not yet having been licked, while the Felldians have been defeated only once—by their present opponents. If the Terra Novas win the game the championship is theirs. If on the other hand the Felldians win, it will put the two teams on an equality and their following clash will be the deciding game. Naturally the Felldians will fight hard and some fun and good play is expected.

In Memoriam.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear husband, George T. Crocker, who was drowned from the S. S. Florizel, Feb. 24th, 1918.

Two years have passed, our hearts still sore,
As time goes by we miss him more;
Friends may think the wound has healed,
But no one knows the sorrow,
That is in our hearts concealed.

Wife dry your eyes from weeping,
Children do not be downcast,
For your love one is in God's keeping,
And his love will always last.

And yet again we hope to meet you,
When the cares of life are fled,
And in Heaven with joy to greet you,
Where no farewell tears are shed—
Wife and children.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of Mr. Edgar Froude, who was lost on S.S. Florizel, Feb. 24, 1918. Not lost but gone before.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord,
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the word
We must forever part.

Dearest loved one, friends have laid thee
In the silent grave's embrace;
But thy memory will be cherished
Till we see thy smiling face.

—Inserted by Mrs. E. J. Froude, Clarenville.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of Capt. James Bartlett who lost his life in the wreck of S.S. Florizel, Feb. 24th, 1918.

A few more storms shall beat
On that wild rocky shore,
And we shall be where tempests cease
and surges swell no more.

—Inserted by his wife.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear husband, Charles Edward Snow, who was drowned from S.S. Florizel, Feb. 24th, 1918.

So when breaks the glorious dawn
Of the Resurrection morn,
When the night of toil is o'er,
We shall see thee on the shore.

—Inserted by his wife and child.

IN LOVING MEMORY
of my dear little nephew Willie Guzewell, aged 13 years, drowned from S.S. Florizel, Feb. 24th, 1918; body recovered one year later.

Two years have passed,
Our hearts still sore;
As years go by
We miss him more.

—Inserted by his Aunt Jean.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of my dear husband, Alfred Moody, who lost his life in the Florizel disaster, February 24th, 1918.

We hoped against hope on that sad fatal day,
Which left us forever to mourn;
But we hope, dear, to meet you in Heaven above
On that great Resurrection morn.

The sun shines o'er our daddy's grave,
The one we loved, but could not save,
—Inserted by his children.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of my dear husband, Wilbert Chesley Butler, who lost his life in the Florizel disaster Feb. 24th, 1918.

Softly at night the stars are shining
On thy lonely, silent grave,
Where thou liest, dear husband,
Whom we loved but could not save.

—Inserted by his wife and daughters.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of my dear husband and father, Michael Dusphy, who was drowned from the Florizel, Feb. 24th, 1918. May his soul rest in peace.

Two years have passed, our hearts still sore,
As time goes on we miss him more.
—Inserted by his wife and daughters.

ON Monday, February 23rd, Rebecca Snow, aged 83, beloved wife of the late William Snow, leaving to mourn one daughter and one son, several grandchildren. Funeral takes place on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. from her daughter's residence, 22 1/2 Stephen Street.—R.L.E.

An Interesting Treatise on Infant Feeding.

Which Should be Read by All Mothers
Every mother knows that cow's milk will not agree with a young baby and that it is customary to dilute the milk and add other substances to it (usually called Infants' Food). For infant feeding, cow's milk is far too rich in casein or curd (from which cheese is made) and deficient in albumen and milk-sugar; hence the physician is obliged to change or modify its parts to make it agree with the baby.

One trouble has been apparent with all methods of preparing milk for the baby's food. Nature intends a baby to be fed on a milk that contains twice as much albumen and only half as much curd as cow's milk. Nature never intended that a baby should be fed on a milk that contained twice as much curd and only half as much albumen as mother's milk.

Condensed Milk and Evaporated Milk are both deficient in milk albumen. Such products which have been offered to the public for many years are made by processes which cook the milk, so that it is deprived of its freshness and much of its value as infant feeding is lost. This has given rise to the statement that infants fed on such products are susceptible to scurvy and rickets—even if they survive their first summer with its almost inevitable bowel troubles. These products are no longer fresh.

By a new and novel process it has become possible to alter cow's milk in such a way that it becomes almost identical with mother's milk. Some of the casein or curd is taken out; natural milk albumen and natural milk sugar are added. The resulting milk is entirely from milk ingredients. It is then reduced to a fine dry powder by a process which removes the moisture instantly without cooking the milk. When this liquid is mixed with the proper amount of water, the liquid milk will answer to even the most delicate tests for fresh milk.

These tests prove that its fresh or anti-scurvy (antiscorbutic) value is unimpaired. MODIFIED MILK POWDER has proved its great value in infant and bedside feeding, in hospitals and private practice of some of the best physicians in the country, and is recommended by them as the one and only complete substitute for mother's milk.

This product should not be confused with the so-called "malt and milk foods." Such foods contain but a small percentage of dried cooked milk.

Remember that MODIFIED MILK POWDER is all milk. It is produced from sanitary milk in a well equipped milk laboratory, and every lot is tested. The dangers of a doubtful milk supply are eliminated.

Remember further MODIFIED MILK POWDER has fed the most difficult cases and will feed your baby.
The Prescription of an M.D. Necessary.
MODIFIED MILK POWDER can be procured from the Community Nurses on a doctor's prescription.
