a protest against the Dominion Goverument's new regulations for the dispatching of Canadian mails by ocean steamers and by rail upon the Lord's day, and recommended that the Government be petitioned to make such arrangements for the mails to Great Britain as shall not unnecessarily conflict with the rest and sacred nature of the day. The other five clauses refer to the closing of the World's Fair on the Sabbath, the prevention of the Canadian section at the fair from being open on that day, the deprevention of the Canadian section at the fair from being open on that day; the desirability of early closing of stores on Saturday evenings, and the duty of the clergy and the bishop in the matter. The report of the synod's proceedings states that the first clause of the resolution was withdrawn altogether, the second clause was modified and the others passed as originally introduced. The question now naturally presents itself, Why was that first clause withdrawn? If Sabbath observance is incumbent on the people's rulers, who, according to Holy Writ, should be "a terror to evil-doers and a praise to them that do well"?

Bed—He Had Been to London to See His Only Son.

Mr. Isaac Brock Couse, better known as Brock Couse, farmer, Yarmouth, about three miles southeast of St. Thomas, was found dead in his hay mow yesterday morning. Mr. Couse, with his sister, Mrs. Brown, of Toronto, drove to London Monday to see deceased's son, Harmon, who is in camp, being a member of No. 1 Troop of Cavalry. While driving home the wagon wheel ran into a deep rut, shaking the occupants severely, and Mr. Couse complained afterwards of pain in his side and stomach. They arrived home about 4 a.m., and Mrs. Brown went into the house and the deceased put up his horse and went up into the hay shed to sleep. He usually slept on blankets in the hay mow. In the morning, between 8 and 9 o'clock, the dead body was found by Miss Cameron, who is employed by Mrs. Couse, in the hay mow, where he had gone and sank into his last long sleep. The body was quite coid when found, showing that deceased had been dead for some time. Dr. Gustin, coroner, and County Attorney Donohue were notified, and Dr. Gustin was ordered by the latter to hold an inquest. Deceased was 51 years of age and leaves several children. Harmon is the only son. LANDSLIDE IN CINCINNATI.

The damages are already estimated at $40,000.

Why Discriminate?
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I see that at the last session of the Synod of Huron, a resolution on the subject of "Sabbath Observance" was introduced by Rev. Mr. Taylor, very similar in its wording to resolutions on the same subject recently adopted by the Presbyterian General Assembly, the various Methodist conferences, and other religious bodies. The first clause of Mr. Taylor's resolution was a protest against the Dominion Government's new regulations for the dispatching of Canadian reals.

Clover loves lime and potash, and on sandy land potash is often lacking. A dressing of leached, or better still of unleached ashes, will get a clover catch on many fields where year after year the seed has failed to grow. The potash has a mechanical effect on the soil. It unites with the sand, and thus forms a crust, making it less likely to blow away.
