Bouquet Benson's Wife-Hunting.

Bouquet Benson, the old pensioner who advertised for a wife a few days ago, has not yet found the woman of his choice. He has received fully 40 answers to his advertisement, but none of the correspondents have touched his heart. There was one applicant that pleased him, but he carlessly mislaid her epistle; She wrote that she was a widow, about 35 years old, with $3,000 under her own name in the Eank of Montreal. In the hope of receiving another letter from her he has caused another advertisement to be inserted in the Spectator. The lady must be between 35 and 40, and will be requested to sign a statutory declaration to that effect before she can claim the prize. Bachelor Bension carefully guards his correspondence now, and values the letters more than his pension papers. The small boys have lots of fun with him, making anxious inquiries about his luck in his wifehunting expedition. He is a great lover of flowers, and may be seen every day on the streets, carrying a bouquet. He was christened Bouquet Benson in London, where he lived before coming to Hamilton He wears carpet slippers, and limps around with the assistance of a cane.—[Hamilton Spectator.

Messrs. Love & Dignan have been instructed by Mr. D. C. Macdonald to notify each member of the London West Council that a "mandamus" will be applied for in Toronto to compel the Council to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers on the question of amalgamation. The statute provides that if a petition signed by 150 qualified voters, asking for a bylaw, is presented it is the duty of the Council to prepare one at once and submit it within four weeks after presentation. Mr. Macdonald claims that in spite of a duly-prepared petition, the Council have taken no action, and he now proposes to compel them, and also make each member personally responsible for the costs.
