

NEWSBOYS DECLARE WAR ON ALDERMEN

Board of Works Members in Danger of Losing This Vote.

WILL NOT GIVE UP YET

Daily Paper Merchants Turned Down When They Asked For Stand.

The newsboys are not acclaiming the present city council as the greatest that ever happened. It is all because of the fact that the board of works filed their request at the meeting held on Thursday evening to have places set apart for their accommodation during the winter. This policy is followed in other cities, and Tom McCullough, the king of the newsies, thought that London should keep pace with the development of other cities along this line, and should set apart a place for them.

Prospective Great Men.
Today the youngsters are discussing the attitude of the cold, unfeeling aldermen, whose hearts are not torn by visions of suffering lads, who are doing business daily for the accommodation of the public. Many great men, statesmen, poets, jockeys, pirates, police magistrates and the like have recorded in the history of their lives how in early youth they carried the newspapers in their native city, eking out a precarious livelihood in order that the world might have the news. Training as a newsboy is, of course, the foundation of future greatness. And now the board of works, cold, unfeeling and economical, have refused to build a harbor for these future-greats.

Keep Up the Fight.
The newsboys are disconsolate, but defeat is not in the vocabulary of any, and they intend to push their claims to the limit. The end of this agitation is not in sight, and some of the aldermen are trembling as they view the future and figure out what is going to happen to them at the hands of the distributors of regular news.

In other cities they have these places, declared Tom McCullough, the dean of the staff. "The city is big enough now for them, and the council should give us accommodation. We are not going to quit."

The juvenile auxiliary of the staff admired their spokesman, and declared they would stick to the leader right to the last ditch, or peanut stand, wherever it might be.

BURGLARS WOUNDED.
New York, Oct. 25.—A trail of blood, leading from the roof of a twelve-story loft building in West Twenty-sixth street, where dynamite had been used to effect an entrance to a far establishment on the top floor, led to the capture of two men, who had been shot and wounded by Patrolman Stagg on the roof of a loft building adjoining. The prisoners were charged with stealing cloaks and fur neckpieces valued at $8,000.

MRS. THOMAS DIVORCED.
New York, Oct. 25.—Justice Giegerich, in the supreme court today, signed a final decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Linda Lee Thomas against her husband, E. R. Thomas, banker and sportsman. No alimony was asked. Mrs. Thomas is authorized to resume her maiden name, and Thomas is forbidden to marry again in this state.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD RAN OFF WITH HORSE

Found Four Miles From Home in Machine Agent's Buggy.

While a sewing machine agent was in a neighbor's house advertising his wares Thursday afternoon, Willie Higgins, a 3-year-old boy who lives on Oak street, East London, took advantage of the agent's absence and utilized the horse and buggy and went for a drive.

His absence was not noticed, for some time, and later when pursuit was given and the outfit overaken, the boy had travelled to the first concession of the Township of Westminster, a distance of four miles from home.

OBEY LOCAL MEMBERS MR. HANNA'S EDICT

Mr. Smith Says Provincial Secretary Sent Instructions to Essex.

In reference to the statement of Hon. W. J. Hanna at Thorndale on Thursday night, that Mr. J. A. Smyth, of this city, a former license inspector in Essex County, should have been on enforcing the law despite the interference of the local member, Mr. Smyth had a stirring reply to make today.

"No one knows better than Mr. Hanna that it was through his personal direction that I was thwarted because I would not wink at the law," said Mr. Smyth. "I was informed by Mr. J. A. Stone, of South Essex, one of the Government's license inspectors, that Mr. Hanna had sent instructions that all inspectors must obey the local member. There is no doubt but that the whole license department is run as a political proposition. Mr. Hanna will have to do a good deal more explaining."

The Gadder Is On the Job

Travellers Don't Fear Strange Dishes—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Stand Anything.

A Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Is Your Best Travelling Companion.

"Railroads tell you about the wonders of Nature along their lines; hotels describe their modern accommodations; but they never fail to ring in their 'cuisine unexcelled.' The wise traveller knows he is taking 'pot' luck when he leaves home, hence a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is quite as essential as many of the other travelling requisites." Thus commented a philosophical travelling man, speaking of hotel life, restaurants, grills and junction lunch counters. "The agitations in this world," he continued, "are the result of one set of men trying to compel the other set to think and act against their own inclinations. It is the same in religion, politics and cars. I have learned from experience to eat what they serve; to forget the food experts, read the current news and jokes, and leave the stomach to the best expert in the world—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets." And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive action. Their component parts assist the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach, and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 20 cents a box, and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of it that's "just as good." Their unqualified merit and success and the universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of everyone.

BUILDERS INSPECT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Visit Included Many Practical Demonstrations, Even That of Cooking.

Forty delegates from the Builders' Exchange were shown over the Alexandra school and inspected the technical classes in the various departments of the industrial school on Thursday evening. Principal Beal and Trustee W. W. Gammage served as directors to the visitors, and gave lucid explanations of the different systems of training which the attending students were undertaking.

The delegates were highly delighted with the visit and had nothing but kind words to say of their hosts and the excellence of the training which the pupils receive.

After the inspection of at least ten departments of the school, the delegation met in the assembly hall of the school, where addresses were delivered by members of the trustee board and replied to by the visitors. Mr. Gammage spoke on the benefits of the technical education to children, and stated that all professions and trades were equally satisfied that the technical school was the proper stepping stone to a practical and useful life.

Trustee Dennis, when addressing the gathering, stated it was impossible for men of the present day to become captains of industry and merchant princes without some form of technical education, although this was not necessarily true in past ages. Modern men must have some knowledge of mechanics, hydrostatics and several other subjects in order to successfully compete against their fellows in this age of keen competition.

Other speakers were Principal Beal, Messrs. James Haslett, E. Russell, Charles Gould, M. F. Irwin and A. Martyn. During a lull in the program, a number of young ladies waited on the audience and gave a practical demonstration on the art of cooking and serving food. The menu consisted of cake and coffee and the delegates tendered the young ladies a hearty vote of thanks as a token of their appreciation.

by a jury to trial by a judge without a jury, and will appear for trial next Friday.

MASSED PICKETING.
Little Falls, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Massed picketing was done this morning by the strikers at the various knitting mills under the big red banners of the Industrial Workers of the World. It was the first public appearance of the flag of that organization in the local strike. Several hundred strikers marched in front of the local mills as the employees were entering, and their hands played the Marseillaise. The native-born workmen, who have refused to strike, broke through the line of marchers at the mill gates and went to their work.
