SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

THE GROUSE CREEK WAR.

Chief Justice Needham's Opening Re-Writs of Ejectment-The Trials fixed for Monday last.

QUESNELLE, Sept 26.—The Supreme Court was formally opened at Richfield on the 16th instant, by His Honor Chief Justice Need-

The case of the Grouse Creek Flume vs Canadian Co. was called, and his Honor said: "My object in calling you together to-day, so soon after my arrival here. is to intimate to you what course the court is prepared to take in the adjudication of these several cases. It has been publicly stated that these cases have created great discontent. The court is now therefore prepared to suspend the rules of its ordinary procedure and allow them to be reheard. I am here and allow them to be reheard. I am here for that purpose. The mining laws, which I have looked into very minutely, do not forbid this. The cases referred to seem to me to be cases that ought to have been heard on their merits. The cause of this not being done is simply the result of a technical objection. Every court is incidental to the rules of its own procedure, and has the power to suspend these rules if any technicality arises that might tend to defeat the ends of instice. I will in this instance suspend the rules of I will in this instance suspend the rules of the court and allow the cases to be tried on their own merits. Sufficient time will be allowed to counsel to get np their cases. With regard to notices, I will alter the rules so as to allyw any notice that will be compatible with justice to be given by all parties. My desire is to aid in the speedy adjustment of the difficulties, and it would be very desirable that all parties should show a like reciprocal feeling. And now one word more. The indulgence which I am prepared to give you is this: I will allow you to prove anything, and to raise any point of to be ready to convey French troops to law you please. I will allow you all an open opportunity to get justice if you want

With the consent of counsel the court fixed to-morrow, at two o'clock, for further hearing, as sufficient time would thus be given to communicate with all parties.

Tuesday, 17th-At the hour appointed the court sat; the various litigants and their counsel were present. Mr Park, on behalf of the Canadian Co., made application for leave to enter an appeal.

Mr Walker said he had communicated with the foreman of the Flume Co., who re fused to give his consent to the case being opened up afresh. He had no instructions or authority from the company below, but if cited he would appear and defend the company's rights.

A long argument here ensued respecting the mode of procedure, when it was finally agreed that the cases should be brought into The body has been embelmed and is lying court in the form of writs of ejectment, by in state. Balmselo has been sworn in Pro-which process the legal and equitable rights visional Captain General. The whole city of parties would be equally as well protected as if the cases were entered in the usual form of appeal. It was also agreed, at the conclusion of a lengthy discussion, that the gold taken out of the disputed stretch of ground by both parties should be deposited in the hands of the officer of the court to await a final decision. By the consent of all parties Monday next was fixed for the hear-

The Prize Fight.

QUESNEL, Sept. 26 .- The prize fight between George Wilson and Joe Eden came off on William Creek at noon on the 24th inst. Eden drew first blood. On the 23rd round Wilson struck Eden when he was down; the blow was declared foul and the referee decided the fight in favor of Eden. Time of fight thirty minutes. Eden wanted the fight to go on, but Littler, his second, would not let it as he had already won the money.
