of active correspondence between Secretary Olney and the Chinese legation. Li Hung Chang had expected to arrive in Washington City the last of this month, but has postponed his visit because of the absence of the President. He is now expected to reach Washington City on September 18.
While in Washington Li Hung Chang will be under the special care of First Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill, who lived in China for years as one of the secretaries of the legation, the only official under the department who speaks Chinese fluently. Li Hung Chang will be quartered in Washington City at a hotel, and while there is no appropriation to pay for the entertainment of foreigners, no matter how distinguished, it is not improbable that the contingent fund of the department may be drawn upon to help entertain Li Hung Chang and his suite.
