As the old year passes away and the new one dawns upon us, a great many are in the habit of making good resolutions. ## THE NEWS FROM STANLEY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The holidays have been quite lively in Stanley, notwithstanding the state of the roads and the changeable nature of the weather.

On Xmas eve the Episcopalians held an entertainment in the Temperance Hall, which was very liberally patronized. And at the time a drama was being enacted there, another ceremony, I understand, as interesting to the parties concerned, was performed at the Free bysterian Mans, where Mr. Harris Gildhart of Cross Creek and Miss Letitia Jane Johnston of Williams Settlement, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

On Xmas half-past three, P. M., the residence of Mr. Joseph Thurburn was a scene of gaiety and smiling countenances. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Gilbert Arthur Prince of Red Rock, to Miss Jessie Helen Thurburn. The Rev. J. S. Mullis was the officiating clergyman. The guests were so numerous they occupied the greater part of three rooms when standing. The presents were many, valuable and well chosen. Their new home will be well lighted up. A very pleasant evening was spent by the guests, as Mr. and Mrs. Thurburn well know how to dispense good cheer to those who attend their entertainments.

On the 29th ult., one of the largest surprise parties ever seen in Stanley was held at the Mans. The Presbyterians of Stanley and Williams Settlement, joined in upon the minister and his family, bringing with them a good supply of the produce of the farm and other articles of family use. A pleasant evening was spent after discussing the good things the ladies of the party had provided. John E. Sney, Jr., in a little speech, conveyed to the minister and his good wife, the sentiments of the people, at the same time Mrs. Taylor, an aged mother indeed, presented Mrs. Mullis with a well filled purse as a token of appreciation of her work of faith and labour of love in the Stanley School. Mr. Mullis replied in feeling terms both for himself and Mrs. Mullis. After singing and prayer, the party left for their homes.

Every school-house in Nebraska and Dakota has been supplied with an extra stock of extra wood and a stock of provisions, to be used in case of a blizzard.
