

was only a contrived one. We waited until we would hear the statements of facts, but have not heard them. The only information that he gave his colleagues was that "there were no British Good Templars in Canada West." It is to be greatly regretted that any man should travel for such a long distance for the purpose of correcting his misunderstanding, and come back again with only his misunderstanding enlarged. I believe the power that appointed him Provincial Secretary pro tem, was the same that gave him the never-failing information received in Canada.

I merely lay this information before your readers to show what the anti-Supremists are composed of. Such has been their actions since first the question was agitated, and I trust that as an Order having the good of our race at heart, we will beware of such men. Nothing grieves me more than to hear of brothers violating the trust reposed in them. When men should be exerting their influence to bring matters to a true light, that they should be labouring to bring discord, dissatisfaction, and eviltending agitation among the members of an Order, that they themselves are connected with. And as we have laboured and gained the victory, others should labour also, and they may be sure that victory will be the reward. Trusting that all British Templars will be true and faithful, not slothful, but persevering,

I remain yours in the work of F. H. & C, D. M. Prince Edward Island, Dec. 5, 1865.
