

3. For the purpose of this Article, in determining whether an offence is an offence against the laws of both Contracting States, the totality of the acts or omissions alleged against the person whose extradition is requested shall be taken into account without reference to the elements of the offence prescribed by the law of the Requesting State.

4. An offence of a fiscal character is an extraditable offence.

5. If the request for extradition relates to a sentence of both imprisonment as provided in paragraph 1 and a pecuniary sanction, the Requested State may also grant extradition for the enforcement of the pecuniary sanction.

6. If the request for extradition relates to a number of offences, each of which is punishable under the laws of both States, but some of which do not meet the other requirements of paragraph 1, the Requested State may also grant extradition for such offences.

ARTICLE III

Mandatory Refusal of Extradition

Extradition shall not be granted in any of the following circumstances:

1. when the offence for which extradition is requested is considered by the Requested State as a political offence. For the purpose of this paragraph, political offence shall not include:

- a) the taking or attempted taking of the life of a Head of State or a member of his or her family;
