

or two sketches of the South-coast of Ireland, we stopped at Queenstown to deliver mails, and stopped again at the bar in the Mersey, whence we were taken by a tug to the landing stage in time for the last train to London.

FINIS.