lacrosse teams." A Winnipeg despatch says: There is a good deal of speculation as to the teams that will comprise the senior league this year. As it looks at present Argos and Winnipeg will organize, with a possible chance of the Vic-Wanderers following suit. It seems finances will have a good deal to do as to whether they will organize or not. It would i.e a pity if finances were the only reason for the Vics not to organize. It would greatly increase the interest if they get together again. A team that won their way right to the top from the juvenile series and stayed at the top for three years should not be allowed to disband. By virtue of a special agreement with the W.A.L.A. in 1919 (owing to most of the players joining the colors) the Vic-Wanderers were allowed to retain their franchise in the league. Three teams are needed in the senior division to make the game popular, with at least two games a week. If the Vics decide not to organize this year, their members would split between the Argos and Pegs same as last year, which would leave a surplus of senior players to make an-other team.
