

SEPTUAGENARIAN'S FIGHT

Elevator Man and City Messenger Indulge in a Rough and Tumble.

DISAPPOINTED NEPHEW - AND - WILL

Three Firemen Hurt at the Early Morning Blase-Happenings of a Day in Hamilton.

Hamilton, May 9.—(Special)—The clerks in the city hall were thrown into a state of alarm this afternoon by a tremendous din that sounded like the bombardment of Fort Arthur. They ran to the board of education room to find a mighty struggle going on between George Dawe, the elevator man, and Charlie Smith, the city messenger. Both are men over 70 years of age. Until a short time ago they were close friends. Both were married not many months ago, and a coyness has sprung up between them over some practical jokes that were played upon Mayor Morden was called upon to settle one of their squabbles earlier in the day. Fortunately, the list of casualties did not correspond with the noise that was made.

Art Culture Club Concert. The Hamilton Art Culture Club gave a concert and exhibition in the school room of Christ Church Cathedral this evening. It was a great success. Those who contributed the program were: Misses Hubbard, Laidlaw, Ada Twiby, A. Sutherland, L. E. Dressel, and E. E. Egan. Rev. Canon Blundell gave a couple of readings, and made interesting remarks as the pictures were shown.

Bas of With the Will. Last week H. C. Morrison, a wealthy Dundas bachelor, died, leaving an estate valued at $40,000. He left a will in which he bequeathed a farm in Ancaster to J. C. Wilson and the remainder of his estate to his sister, William Wood. The executor, J. C. Wilson, died, did not get a cent. He was present when the will was read by J. W. Lawson the sole executor, and he asked to see the documents. Mr. Lawson handed it to him and he quietly slipped it in his pocket and made off with it. To-day Mr. Lawson called upon Will to give up the will at once. If he does not hand it into the executor, a warrant will be issued for his arrest.

For Canada Cup. A Hamilton syndicate, composed of J. H. Feasenden, Robert Millin, F. M. Barnard and W. T. Armour will build a 30 foot challenger for the Canada Cup, won last year by the Ironsides, Rochester. It cannot be finished until 1905.

The may rally of the Baptist Young People's Union was held at Grimby this evening. The speakers were Rev. Dr. Thomas, Toronto, and T. F. Best, Hamilton. H. F. Stenbaugh, the president, was the chair.

Condition Critical.

At a late hour to-night the condition of J. M. Lottridge was reported to be critical, but it is believed that the crisis will not be reached for a couple of days.

Firemen Injured. The loss by the fire that broke out in Semmens & Eves' casket factory this morning will amount to several thousand dollars. Smoke and water did more damage than the fire. By the breaking of a ladder Robert Aitchison, W. Voelker and Tom Wadsworth were severely injured.

A peculiar thing happened at St. Peter's Home for Incurables, Rev. Father Geoghegan threw an Irish carrier pup over the back fence, thinking it was dead. It was picked up by a cat that had a family of its own, nursed back to life and adopted into the cat family.

J. M. Lottridge is seriously ill. Ernest L. McDougall and Miss Vera A. McCarthy, Toronto, were married at the Wesley Church, parsonage Saturday.

Sue's Father's Estate. Dr. Ross G. Howell, Jarvis, has commenced a suit against the estate of his father for $10,000, which he alleges he is due to his father.

A musical syndicate has bought Unity Church, South James-street, Toronto, and will continue to use it as a church. It will make application to Saltfleet Township council for permission to double-track the beach. As the council has refused to grant the second track to the city, it looks as if it was figuring on making a deal with the Toronto Municipal Railway.

Ryals' horse and rig were stolen last night, and a swindler made off with a watch belonging to Henry King, 234 North James-street. It is now said that the correct names of the pair arrested on the charge of attempting to pick pockets, are G. T. B. train are Charles Green and Harry Pretzel.

WHAT A STUDENT DID. Buried Infant's Body in a Box in Backyard. Coroner Johnson has decided not to hold an inquest on the body of the child that was found in the yard of 471 Saskatchewan-street—no. 473 as the papers erroneously stated. Coroner Johnson has received a letter from a medical student, stating that he had placed the baby there.

Coroner Johnson last night held an inquest on the body of the child that was found in the grounds of the Bishop Strachan School. The verdict was "murder against some party or parties unknown."

GIVES A FREE HAND. (Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, May 9.—The house of lords gave a first reading to the Bishop of St. Asaph's education bill. The bill gives both sides a free hand touching the control of religious instruction. The bishop explained that the concordat of 1902, of which the present bill is an extension, and which provided special religious instruction on the colonial plan, failed because it was lacking in legal sanction and legal security.

The Marquis of Londonderry declined to pledge the government either way with regard to the bill.

ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. (Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, May 9.—W. E. Gordon has written "The Times" that the aliens bill now before the house of commons will not interfere with the business of shipping companies carrying transmigrants through the colonies or to America or England.

WONT INTERFERE. (Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, May 9.—W. E. Gordon has written "The Times" that the aliens bill now before the house of commons will not interfere with the business of shipping companies carrying transmigrants through the colonies or to America or England.

DEATH OF 'DEACON' DUGGAN THOUSANDS MISS HIM

Brief Story of Career of Venerable Turfman Who Owned the Woodbine Course.

A man of sterling merit passed away at 8 o'clock Monday morning when Joseph Duggan died at his residence on the Kingston-road, just north of the Woodbine, after a protracted period of uncertain health. A fortnight or so ago he suffered a collapse, which led to hemorrhage and confined him to his bed, resulting ultimately in the paralytic stroke during which he breathed his last. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dixon, the latter being his only surviving child, were in attendance. He was conscious to the end, and vainly tried to speak during his last moments. His death was of course the theme of every tongue at the Woodbine during the early morning gallops, and there was not one who had not a generous word for the man who in life by his quiet shrewdness of character, venerable appearance and genial temperament had earned the sobriquet of "The Deacon."

Twenty years ago that Messrs. Pardee and Howell, the former a gentleman from New York State, and the latter the keeper of the Woodbine, were in possession of the present site of the World office, on Yonge-street, negotiated with Mr. Duggan for the purchase of the property on which the racecourse now stands. "Billy" Howell was the bridge's lover of the trotting horse, one of his special pets being the then well known Black Mack, who during his experience as a handicapper, had succeeded in making it a bit of money. Pardee induced him to join him in the enterprise of building a race track, which was named after the money partner's hotel. When the track was about complete the firm found themselves unable to continue in possession, and the property with improvements, upon which probably $30,000 had been expended, reverted to Mr. Duggan, who leased it for various meetings and continued in possession until the Ontario Jockey Club was formed by the efforts of T. C. Patterson in 1881. The club secured a lease which has been several times renewed and which has now upwards of a score of years to run. As, however, at the time of the lease the club had no funds, Mr. Duggan secured an option of purchase on the property and has added some five acres of land to the original property. He has also constructed a large amount of stabling with kitchen accommodation, erected a new fence, and has done much to beautify and reconstruct and rearranged the old stand. It is more than probable that it will now become the actual possession of the club.

Originally the property on which the racecourse stands, which was a little more than marsh lands, along with declining years, and picked up a number of well-bred ones. In addition Mr. Duggan purchased The Chicken from George Gamble, who brought the son of Billy Pitt and others from Ireland on speculation. He also owned Quarrel, a rare good mare; Algeria, Fair Maria, Nobby Foam, a good winner brought out in utero, his dam being Zoonomy and his sire Ocean Wave; Jack of Diamonds, by Imp. St. Eliaze, as well as the race horse Crossfall, Beguile, Violent etc. His recent delight, next to pulling off a long shot, was to watch over his grounds with a visitor showing his stock and watching the young horses at play.

But Businesslike. While a man of generous and amiable disposition deceased was a hard man to run up against in any business that admitted of two opinions, all who had dealings with him had good reason to know. Nobody was known to get the best of him, and yet he was not in the habit of asking anything but what was fair. Many a time he had offers for his business that refused them all, and after keeping the O.J.C. executive on the rack for a space he would invariably accept one or other of the propositions of their representative, G. W. Torrance, for a renewal of the lease. He married Miss Susan Lovell, a young lady of Dublin, in 1841, and ceased him, and by whom he had three children, of whom but Mrs. J. J. Dixon survives. Two of his cousins were John Duggan, Q.C., and George Duggan, one time recorder, the family including one of the oldest in Canada. Deceased himself was born in Toronto on Aug. 15, 1833, and consequently was within three months of 71 years of age. Fond of outdoor life in his youth he was quite a bit of an athlete, being a good boxer and wrestler, and a fair sprinter. Until a few weeks before his death he was as sturdy and as active as many a man of half his age. He was a good and cheery companion, and his death will be cherished by an army of acquaintances and friends, and whose death will mark for them a milestone in the uncertain journey of life.

There is now a mass of proof that Lumbago is always cured by DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Quebec Man Cured His Kidneys With 'Dodd's Kidney Pills, and His Lumbago Vanished.

Quebec, P. Q., May 8.—(Special)—Joseph Vanhook, 45 St. Charles-street, this city, has added his statement to the great mass of proof that lumbago is caused by diseased kidneys, and consequently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Vanhook says: "I was troubled with lumbago for two years. I could not work. I had to get up at nights to urinate so often that my rest was broken. I read of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills and made up my mind to try them. After the first box I could see and feel a change. Three boxes cured me completely."

Lumbago, like rheumatism, is caused by uric acid in the blood. Uric acid cannot stay in the blood if the kidneys are working right. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys work right.
