DR. CARTER SPEAKS ON GREAT BRITAIN AND INDIAN EMPIRE

The Women's Canadian Club Passes Resolution Re Hearst Publications.

"Never in the history of the world has the British Empire stood so high in the estimation of the world as she stands today," declared Dr. Carter of the Zenana and Medical Mission, India, before the Women's Canadian Club Saturday afternoon. "The great storm that was meant to wreck her has died away. Our Canada is one of the finest parts of this Empire, but I warn you the rest of the world will not be content to leave you in undisturbed possession of your wealth. Your enemies are neither dead nor sleeping. They hate you and would do all in their power to bring about your downfall.

Britain's Debt. Referring to Britain's war debt, the speaker told how an American asked nim if Britain would repudiate her "I could only say, 'Don't be silly," said Dr. Carter, "for it is impossible to conceive of a country that spent eight thousand million pounds in carrying on the war, and that has since the signing of the armistice returned between five and six millions of men and a million and a half of women to civil life, denying an honest debt, England has raised two hundred and fifty millions of new capital in the last six months for industrial purposes. She is not played out yet, and the Canadian who would compete with the motherland must be very wide awake. Canadians are learning to spend their dollars where they have full value, and not in the United States, which has gained some small advantage in the rate of exchange and lost innumerable customers thereby." silly," said Dr. Carter, "for it is im-ustomers thereby."

Indian Situation. A large portion of the address dealt with India, however,
"The word of a Briton" is a proverb "The word of a Briton" is a proverb in India. There are hillmen in India who think an opportunity for wholesale massacre a gift from Allah, and it is the little man in a white suit and a pith helment who smokes a cigarette and twirks a cane who subdues them. That little man represents the British Empire which rules India with a fatherly hand of guidance, not a grip of steel. And the result is a different India, where infanticide and cruelty are giving way before a Chriscruelty are giving way before a Christian civilization

Alethea, though not in common usage, is a most important name. It comes from the Greek Alethia, which mon, two teaspoonfuls cloves, two teaspoonfuls allspice, one pound nuts, glass of whisky, flour. PANSY. "a", and the word meaning "to hide" and thus may be translated as "truth"

Alethea was the form which appeared in the famous Saville family, and was given vogue through its prominence. But perhaps the most famous and memorable Alethea was the lady to whom the captive cavalier penned the much-quoted lines: "Stone walls do not a prison make, Nor iron bars a cage."

To Alethea is given the additional interest of naming the youngest bride known to English history; in 1669, at the age of nine, Alethea Brandling was married to a mrn named Henry Hitch. The name proved very popular in England and Ireland, where it is sometimes contracted to Letty.

Althea, meaning wholesome, has no connection with Althea. The former seems to have belonged solely to the unfortunate mother of Meleager.

Coral is Althea's talismanic stone. It has the power to drive away evil spirits, and to protect its wearer from danger and disease. Thursday 's Althea's lucky day and five her lucky number.
