USE "SLEEP PISTOL" GET $1,000,000 LOOT

Paris, Feb. 17.—A "sleep pistol" used by a gang of hotel thieves is held responsible for five Riviera robberies totaling more than a million dollars' loot for the bandits since Christmas. This statement is made by the police who are investigating the theft of jewels valued at more than $200,000 from Madame Doucet, a famous dressmaker.

The police declare that the burglars are armed with a German "schneid pistol" containing gas cartridges, which are fired at a victim and which cause profound slumber for about ten minutes. The gas is reported harmless, not even causing a headache. In consequence of the robberies the Duchess of Marlborough has fortified her Cannes chateau and has employed thirty-six former soldiers, who are armed to the teeth, to stand guard night and day.

Heralds
the Coming of Spring

Women will note with interest the original little changes in millinery for early spring.

The first hats of the season are charmingly youthful and simple in line and trimming. Silks, satins, cellophanes and other fascinating fabrics are fashioned in small and larger shapes, among them clever variations of the Hindoo turban.

Flowers are used to ornament many of the new models, but there are other types depending on ornaments or crisp ribbons for their distinction.
