THE MOOSE SEASON A POOR ONE

In Maine Woods Less Than 100 Shot This Year

ANIMALS SMALL

Said the Big Ones Have Taken to the Deep Woods and It's Very Expensive to get Them—New Brunswick Season a Contrast

Bangor, Me., Dec. 1—Moose hunting in Maine for the season of 1910 came to an end last night with rather a disappointing record as compared with former years. Up to 6 p.m. yesterday there had been received at Bangor 96 moose compared with 119 a year ago, a few carcasses arriving after the expiration of the time limit. In 1909, the Bangor & Aroostook transported over its various lines, 175 moose. This year figures are not yet available, but will be considerably less than last season's. The record moose year was 1900, when 259 carcasses were carried by Bangor & Aroostoock trains.

Various explanations are offered for the unexpected falling off in the moose figures. Warden Neal, says that while there is a plenty of young bulls and cows the old bulls with fine heads are becoming more and more difficult to get, most of them having retired far into the deep woods. To follow them entails great expense of time and money— an expense that is increasing every year, so that the number of those who can afford this form of sport, is constantly growing smaller.

Warden Neal says that not more than ten per cent. of the moose that were brought to Bangor this fall, were of good size, the game being chiefly small bulls with very little web to their horns, the age of the animals ranging from one to four years, whereas to make good trophies, they should be five or six years old at least. The weather too, has been unfavorable, most of the season, having been warm and dry.

Receipts of deer at Bangor to 6 p.m. yesterday, aggregate 2,843, compared with 2,519 at the corresponding time last year. The weather is now favorable for hunting and from 60 to 90 deer are coming in daily, so that the season's record is certain to far surpass that of 1909(when 3,144 deer were received here, and 3,286 were carried on all lines of the Bangor & Aroostoock railroad.

In comparison with this, the reports of the New Brunswick big game season, ended yesterday, show a record never before equalled.

ALL MISSING BILLS NOW RECOVERED

Balance of $20,000 Follows the $6,000 Found in Toronto House

Toronto. Dec. 1— Following the announcement of the finding of a bundle containing $6,000 in Traders' Bank bills by a four-year-old boy in a house in Galley Ave., a man drove up in front of the house with an express wagon and informed Mrs. Theurerkoff, who lives there that he had called for his brother's trunk, which was in the basement. The Theurerkoffs moved into 94 Galley Ave. three weeks ago, leasing the house furnished from the former occupant. In view of the finding of the money by her little boy, Mrs. Theurerkoff declined to allow the man to enter the basement for the trunk and he departed. The police were communicated with and after searching the cellar a trunk was found securely fastened with two Yale locks. Upon picking the locks and opening the trunk, a package of Traders' Bank bills, each of the denomination of $5 amounting to $14,000 in all, was found.

This with the $6,000 accidentally discovered by the little boy makes up the total amount of $20,000 consigned to the Traders Bank, Toronto, in March, 1909, by the American Bank Note Co., Ottawa, and which was stolen en route. None of the bills was put in circulation.

Finding of the Money

Alex. Theurerkoff, who, with his wife and little boy, now occupies 94 Galley avenue, is a draughtsman with the Canada Foundry Company. He was the most surprised man in the world when he reached his home on Thursday evening to find his child using a bundle containing $6,000 in $5 Traders' Bank bills as a plaything. The money, when discovered, was carefully tucked away in an oblong tin box. It was found on examination that while the bills were not countersigned, each had been stamped with a rubber stamp which was a facsimile of the stamps in use in the various branches of the Traders' Bank, the thieves evidently having one made for this purpose.

The bills found in the trunk were also unsigned, but had not been stamped.

The bills were a new issue and in consequence of the robbery the issue was discontinued and the plates destroyed.

THE WEATHER

Fresh southwest and west winds with showers of rain or sleet. Friday, strong northwest, colder, with snow flurries.

ALL READY FOR TAGGING TOMORROW

List of the Ladies who Will do the Work in the Fight Against White Plague—The Plans

"Protection and Prevention," is the striking slogan for tomorrow's "Tag Day" workers in the campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis. All arrangements have been made, and everything is now in readiness for what is hoped to be a record breaking campaign in this city.

The committee workers have labored industriously to make the affair successful, and every indication points to this end. All the "taggers" are requested to be on hand tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the headquarters in Keith's assembly rooms. Should the weather be inclement the tagging process will be deferred until the following day at the same hour.

The following is a list of committees and workers so far as could be gathered at noon today.

CANADIANS IN WEST SHIP MORE CATTLE

More Than 60,000 Head Sent This Year— C. P. R. Adopts New Car

Montreal, Dec. 1—During the present year the Canadian Pacific Railway stock yards here have handled a little more than 80,000 head of cattle for shipment to Liverpool and other British ports. Of these 60,000 came from Western Canada and the rest from Chicago and other distributing points in the western states.

The figures for the present year show that the cattle export industry of the Canadian west is steadily increasing. It is not many years since there was no export business at all from the west, while during the last few years the preponderance of exports was from the western states. With the increase in mixed farming in the Canadian west the production of cattle for export has increased until this year practically three-quarters of the live stock business for export on the C. P. R. has come from the western provinces.

Owing to this increasing cattle business the Canadian Pacific has found it necessary to put into service a new style of cattle car which has proved very popular with shippers. The new car has special appliances for complying with the dominion laws regarding the feeding and watering of cattle during shipment.

Discount Rate Cut Down

London, Dec. 1—The arte of discount of the Bank of England was reduced from 5 to 4½ per cent today.

BETTING IS MORE IN GOVERNMENT FAVOR

LAWSON'S DAUGHTER A DECEMBER BRIDE

Miss Dorothy Lawson, third daughter of Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier, who is to be married on December 15 to Henry McCall, son of U. S. Congressman S. W. McCall of Winchester.

RAILROAD RATE WAR IS BEGUN

Passenger Fares Between Chicago and Boston and New York Slashed by Three Roads after Secret Meeting

Chicago, Dec. 1—What promises to be a bitterly fought railroad battle is to be begun on New Year's day. Three eastern trunk lines, the Grand Trunk, the Erie, and the Wabash will slash passenger rates from Chicago to New York and Boston. For instance, according to the notice served on thirteen big western railroad systems today by the insurgent lines, the first-class fare from Chicago to New York will be cut $8, and the second class fare $6.

The decision came at a secret meeting of the representatives of the three insurgent roads yesterday.

ALL MUST DEPART

Spiteful Act of Daughter Drives Family Out of Their New Home

Chicago, Dec. 1—A trivial quarrel among relatives some weeks ago has resulted in an order for the deportation of Mrs. Gittel Steinbecker and her seven young children. They will be forced to return to England to live in comparative poverty with an invalid husband and father.

In a fit of temper, Mrs. Steinbecker sought to humiliate her well to do mother and four brothers, who reside in Chicago and who have been caring for her, by applying to the county for aid. Although the request was quickly withdrawn federal immigration officers began an investigation. It was discovered that Mrs. Steinbacker entered the country at Portland, Maine, under false pretences. She represented that her husband was waiting for her in Chicago. The federal officers found that Mr. Steinbacker had been denied passage at Liverpool because he was ill with trachoma.

CAPE BRETON PRIEST DIES ON VOYAGE HOME FROM OLD COUNTRY

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 1—After a voyage under conditions more like those of summer than of winter, the White Star Dominion liner Canada, arrived this morning from Liverpool, after the fastest trip between ports she ever made.

A few hours after leaving Liverpool, Rev. Father M. A. McPherson, of Little Bras D'Or, Cape Breton, died from heart disease. The body was buried at sea, the steamer being stopped, while Captain Jones read the burial service. On arrival of the ship here, the authorities took charge of his belongings, and notified friends of the priest's death.

CUT OFF HIS OWN HAND TO SAVE LIFE

Richmond, Va., Dec. 1—Cutting off his own hand with a razor after it had been crushed in a corn shredder, J. Bruce Vaughan of Eureka Mills carefully bandaged the stump and calmly awaited the arrival of a surgeon, to put the finishing touches to the operation.

Majority of Sixty to Sixty-Five Is What Is Now Claimed In British Fight

In Twenty-Six Constituencies There is no Opposition—Marlborough's Strong Talk on Home Rule Issue—Pollings in Several Places on Saturday

Times' Special Cable

London, Dec. 1—The city's new gamble is betting on the government's majority. The estimate, which, ten days ago, was 120 fell to forty yesterday and recovered to 60 to 65. Dealers are anxious to have it understood that the rally was due to "covering" by bears, not to purchases by government supporters. A rise in consols is also claimed as heralding at least a check on radical finance. In Lloyd's the premium against defeat of the government rose to twenty-five guineas.

Polling Saturday

London pollings Saturday will be: — Camberwell, North—McNamara and Goldsmid; Peckham—Richardson and Gooch; Dulwich—Spicer and Hall; Croyden — Ian Malcolm; Haggerston—Chancellor and Rupert Guiness; Hoxton, Addison and Francis; Walworth, Dawes and Bellilos; West Newington, Norton and Brookes; Westham North, Masterman and Wild; Westham South, Thorn (Lab.), Carthew (Liberal).

96 Uncontested Seats

According to the latest reports from the constituencies ninety-eight seats are likely to be uncontested. These are: — Unionist—Aston, Manor, Birmingham, Bordesley, Edgbaston, (north and west), Bury, Street, Edmunds, Cambridge University, Dover, Liverpool (Overton), Oxford University, Berks (Wokingham), Bucks (Aylesbury and Wycombe), Cumberland (Penrith), Dorset, (South west), Hampshire (Basingstoke), Andover, Fareham, New Forest and Petersfield, Kent (Asford, Thanet and St. Augustines), Lancashire (Blackpool, Bootle, Ormskirk, and Widnes). Lincolnshire (Sleaford), Middlesex (Harrow), Shropshire (Ludlow), Somerset (Wellington), Staffordshire, (Handsworth and Kingswinford), Suffolk, (Sudbury), Surrey (Kingston and Wimbledon), Warwickshire, (Tamworth), Worcestershire (Bewdley East and Evesham), Yorkshire (Richmond and Thirsk), Edinburgh and St. Andrews Universities, Glasgow and Aberdeen Universities, Wigtownshire.

Liberals—Morpeth, South Shields, Cornwall (Staustell), Durham (Mid), Northumberland, (Wansbrek), Yorkshire, Shipley, Sowerby, Barnsley, Morely and Holmfirth), Carmarthen Boroughs, Swansea District, Anglesey, Cardiganshire, Carnarvonshire (north and south), Denbigh, West, Flintshire, Merionethshire, Montgomeryshire, Falkirk, Burghs, Hawick, Burghs, Kirkcaldy Burghs, Stirling Burghs, Banffshire, Caithnesshire, Clackmannan, Kinross, Elgin, Nairn, Inverneshire, Kincardineshire, Lanark (northeast and south). Orkney, Shetland, Ross, Cromarty.

Labor—Momouth west, Yorkshire (Normanton).

Home Rule Opinions

Sir A. Spicer, at Hackney, said his opponent Jessel had suggested that Canada mind her own business, and that the colonies should have no voice on the question of home rule. Sir Wilfrid Laurier knew that on all questions between Canada and the mother country, so long as this open sore remained unhealed. The Irishmen in the Dominion threw their weight into the scale against the old country.

Lord Midleton, at Brentford said the government hopes to roll up home rule with secular education, a vindicative licening policy and free trade but they could not carry one of the four by referendum.

Hon. Mr. Buxton, at Bethnal Green, said the constitutionalists were putting the old constitution into the melting pot and proposing changes much more far reaching and drastic than those of the government. Mr. Balfour's policy would throw a stumbling block into the way of Liberal legislation.

Hon. John Burns, at West Southwark, said: "Let the local government board have a year of parliament to itself, and I will change the face of the country. I would have the building trade busy at once."

Walter Long, speaking at Lambeth, said those who object to the referendum are afraid of the particular question being put directly to the people.

Earl Crewe, at Devonport, said "as to the referendum, I do not think there has been a case of a foundling of foreign extraction picked up on the doorstep that has ever been clasped with greater avidity to the bosom of anybody than Balfour and his friends. No horse which comes out of the stable of so astute a man as Balfour should be accepted unless subjected to very careful veterinary inspection.

Marlborough's Talk Strong

The Duke of Marlborough, at Macclesfield said. "Redmond is the ruler of the present cabinet and he in turn is governed by Patrick Ford as well. As an Englishman I am prepared to be ruled by you, but I will be hanged if I am going to submit to domination of those who are enemies of my countrymen, who cheered our defeats in South Africa."

Austen Chamberlain, at Oldhill, said, "I have seen many proposals for home rule but there is one kind I have never seen proposed by any one—that is Home Rule where the Irish pay their own government."

Hon. Mr. Haldane, at Berwick, said the referendum was an unworkable system. Mr. Balfour was ready to refer tariff reform to a referendum. That was more than odd because the proposal to refer tariff reform was denounced by some Unionist peers only the other day and by a good deal of the Unionist press. "You cannot send down the question of that kind unless you are going to have the whole machinery of a general election."

Lord Hindlip, at Taunton, said Mr. Churchill permitted Torypandemonium because he was afraid of losing votes and Mr. Birrell was put to bed by a blow from a velvet slipper." For the same reason do you think if Crippen had possessed 100 votes the government would have hanged him?"

Bonar Law Refuses

Associated Press

London, Dec. 1—The ultimate effect of the oppositions' attempt to unload the tariff reform issue for the purpose of the present campaign is still in doubt. While the Unionists were greatly encouraged by Mr. Balfour's sudden and surprising announcement that he would not object to the submission of the question to a referendum, the leader's bold stroke has far from disheartened the liberals who find therein good ammunition and are accusing their opponents of changing their policy daily in a desperate effort to catch votes and secure power at any cost.

METROPOLITAN CASE TO JURY

Mr. Mullin and Mr. Baxter Sum up This Morning and Judge Begins Charge as Court Adjourns for Lunch Hour

The Metropolitan Hotel case will go to the jury this afternoon, Mr. Mullin, in opening his address to the jury this morning referred to the English principle that a man's house was his castle and this principle was adaptable to this case.

He scored Police Officers Lucas and Campbell for what he said was a high handed outrage perpetrated on his client. He also referred to a conspiracy and plot made between the Chief of Police and Rupert Wry. Mr. Mullin reviewed the evidence of Lucas and Campbell at some length.

He termed Wry as the Machiavelli of the chief of police. Wry was to be permitted to escape as the raid was planned, he said, but the chief was not clothed with such powers of exemption.

Lucas' act in opening the window was declared an act of a burglar and if Goggin had shot and killed him it would be justifiable homicide.

Mr. Mullin claimed that Sergt. Campbell was the scape goat of the chief sarcastically referred to the polite message sent by the chief to the plaintiff and her mother, which took two burly limbs of the law to carry out. He termed Lucas a "pet of some one." Mr. Mullin claimed reason for damages had been shown.

Mr. Baxter

Recorder Baxter followed. He said he came as counsel in the case, not to keep anything back but if there was blame to be placed on any of the police officers, he wanted it placed on the guilty ones.

The recorder briefly referred to the plot or conspiracy as his learned friend termed the raid and claimed that that was a very small eliment in this case. He dwelt on the evidence connecting the chief with the arrest and imprisonment of Miss Hopper. He contended that there was absolutely no evidence to place the responsibility either directly or indirectly on the shoulders of the chief.

Mr. Baxter said that if the plaintiff did not get a verdict against the chief, but against one or more of the other defendants it would be a hollow victory. "I am going to ask and do ask His Honor to enter a verdict for the chief as a matter of law," said the recorder. He claimed that in estinating damages, the jury were not to take into consideration how the entrance to the house was effected.

His Honor agreed with Mr. Baxter.

The recorder termed room 28 as a "stew of filthy combination of human beings."

"We find Brown and McFarlane in the house," he said, "Was there a plot to catch them? No. Mr. Baxter referred to the evidence of Police Clerk Henderson who said that he spoke to Goggin about the suspicion surrounding the house.

The recorder summed up the evidence relating to the reputation of the house and said it was undoubtedly a resort for prostitutes. He spoke in high terms of the respectability of Miss Hopper, Mr. Underhill and Mr. Morrow and claimed that Miss Hopper was the victim of unfortunate conduct of her stepfather.

In concluding, Mr. Baxter said there was reasonable and probable cause for the arrest of the plaintiff as being an inmate of this house

At ten minutes past twelve His Honor commenced his charge to the jury and the court soon after arose until 2 o'clock.

At the afternoon session yesterday, W. H. Underhill and Capt. Morrell gave evidence that they had lodged in the house, and had always been satisfied that conditions were perfectly in keping with what they should be in a respectable hotel.

JUDGE GIVES WIFE BEATER HIS DESERTS

Takes Law Into His Own Hands and Plies Whip Vigorously

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 30—Justice of the Peace J. C. Hayden, of Swoyersville used a horsewhip to vigorously thrash Albert Gey, of the same place, who is a chronic wife-beater, and who had again beaten and badly injured his wife. She went to the office of Justice Hayden and showed deep cuts and bruises on her and asked that he be punished.

"I'll punish him properly this time," declared the justice, and sent a constable for Gey. When the prisoner arrived he found the justice in his shirtsleeves, armed with a heavy horsewhip. "Take your coat off and get down on your knees, you brute," roared the magistrate. "The law does not provide the proper punishment for the likes of you, so I'll give you a taste of the medicine you like to administer."

"Swish!" fell the whip across Gey's shoulders, and "swish, swish, swish!" other blows followed as the man jumped about the room, begging for mercy, and protesting that he would behave himself in the future and never strike his wife again. "You bet you will not," cried the justice, slashing Gey about the legs and body. "I'll teach you not to again"—thrashing the prisoner until he was out of breath. "Now go home," he said to Gey, "and remember your duty to love and protect your wife, and if I have any more complaints I'll double the dose."

THE YOUNG LIBERALS' SMOKER

Good Programme and Two Excellent Speakers at Opening Event of Winter Programme Tomorrow Evening

A very enjoyable time is expected tomorrow night at the smoker to be held by the members of the Young Liberals' Club in Keith's Assembly rooms. An interesting musical and literary programme has been prepared and popular local talent will take part.

F. B. Carvell, M. P., and Hon. C. W. Robinson, M. P. P., will address the gathering on matters of interest, and the fame of both as excellent speakers will, it is assured, draw a large gathering to the assembly rooms.

This will be the opening event of the Young Liberal Club for the winter and gives every promise of a most successful inauguration of the winter programme.

GREENE AND GAYNOR LIKELY TO BE FREED

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 1—Among the 19 applications considered by the United States prison parole board last night were those of Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor, who are nearing the end of their five year sentences for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with work in the Savannah and other rivers.

It is understood that they will be allowed their freedom as soon as Attorney General Wickersham passes upon the report of the board. With their "good behavior" allowance taken into consideration they still have four or five months to serve.

FIERCE GALE RAGES ALONG FRENCH COAST

Cherbourg, Nov. 30—A fierce gale is raging along the coast and the battleships of the second division of the United States Atlantic fleet have been forced to stand off shore under full pressure. It is reported tonight that an American picket boat has been sunk and seven men lost.

A launch from the battleship Louisiana today made a gallant rescue of the crew of a launch from the French armored cruiser Duploix, which was swamped by the heavy seas. Many of the American blue jackets are ashore, being unable to get back to their ships.

TRIED TO KILL WIFE; SHOT HER PROTECTOR

Muskeogon, Mich., Dec. 1—Thwarted in his attempt to shoot and kill his wife, John Pease, of Grand Rapids, shot Jacob Halpers dead last night in the office of the hotel at Bluffton. Pease was aiming at his wife when Halpers interfered.

NO SIGN OF LeNEVE ON THE S.S. MAJESTIC

New York, Dec. 1—If Ethel Le Neve is on board the steamer Majestic, which arrived today, she has a better disguise than when she came to Canada in boy's clothes aboard the Montrose. Her name does not appear on the passenger list, and no one like her was recognized on the trip across.

NORTHLAND ROUTE FOR NEW CABLE

Proposed Line Between England and Canada is Arousing Interest

CHEAPER THAN DIRECT

Australia to Send Eleven Government Ministers and Seven of the Opposition in Delegation of 30 to Coronation—Subjects for the Conference

Times' Special Cable

Copenhagen, Nov. 11—The proposal to lay a cable between England and Canada via the Orkney Islands, Faroe Islands, Iceland, Greenland and Labrador is exciting much interest in Denmark. The president of the Great Northern Telegraph Company Mr. Suenson, with regard to the realization of the plan, says the difficulties are not inconsiderable, but the line would be considerably cheaper than from England to Quebec direct. On the other hand it would involve retelegraphing on Danish territory, which would somewhat diminish the quickness of communication.

Melbourne, Nov. 30—Thirty M. P's. of the commonwealth will attend the coronation as official delegates. Eleven will be of the ministerial party and seven of the opposition. The others will pay their own expenses.

Sydney, N. S., W., Dec. 1—The Sydney 30-11 commonwealth proposes to lay the following resolutions before the imperial conference:—Commercial co-operation, encouragement of British manufacturers and shipping, uniform navigation laws, securing employment for British seamen, uniform company laws, mutual naturalization, local immigration law, rejection of articles 48 to 50 in declaration of London and omission of foodstuffs from article 24, immigration resolution, also co-operation of the imperial government with the dominions assisting suitable emigrants and dominion representatives of the dominions on emigrants' information committee, mutual legislation against conspiracy in one part of the empire to defeat laws in other parts, nationalization of one Atlantic cable in order to contral the All Red Route, coinage, reform of the principle of international arbitration, uniform trademarks and patents legislation, and a single imperial court of appeal.

BARNSTORMING TOURS BY CHAMPIONS TO BE ALLOWED NO MORE

Ban Johnson Says Baseball Authorities Will Shut Down on Them—Harmony Between Leagues

Chicago, Dec. 1—Harmony will come at the forthcoming meeting of the two major leagues on December 13, in New York, according to B. B. Johnson, president of the American league. There will be 154 games in the American League and from present indications the same number will be selected by the national owners.

"In addition to the schedule matter," said President Johnson. "Mr. Lynch and I will urge the passage of a new rule prohibiting the world's champions of any year to participate in barn storming games following the close of the title series. To have a band of champions out of condition troop off to other countries and play with opposing teams in the highest stage of perfect condition and perchance suffer defeat, cheapens baseball. These exhibition trips will have to stop."

SAY MGR. BRUCHESI MAY BE CARDINAL

Toronto Paper Has Unlikely Story That End in View is to Choose him Pontiff

Toronto, Dec. 1—(Special)—The Globe today publishes an Ottawa despatch stating that, on the highest authority it learns that influences are at work with a view to creation of a Canadian cardinal with the ultimate view of finally securing for him the highest office in the church namely that of supreme pontiff.

Continuing, the despatch says the man in view is Monsignor Bruchesi, of Montreal, and that the fact that three cardinals da curia were present at the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal last September and also the appearance of two letters inspired by high authority which appeared in La Presse, a few days ago, in which reference was made to the desirability of the appointment of a Canadian Cardinal are mentioned as lending color to the interesting rumor.

It is further stated that Mr. Bourassa's present mission will include a conference with the Pope when this matter will be discussed.

HUNTING SEASON RESPONSIBLE FOR 113 FATAL ACCIDENTS

Chicago, Dec. 1—The hunting season of 1910, which closed yesterday cost 113 lives, according to statistics from twenty-three states collected by the Tribune. This is considerably more than were killed in any previous season of which there is record. The number of injured this season, however, is less than a year ago, eighty-one having been hurt this year against 104 for the season of 1909. It is likely the death list this year will be considerably increased later by reason of the fatal termination in the cases of many of the injured.

"Mistaken for a deer," and "shot by a companion," continue to lead as the reason for shooting of hunters. Michigan heads the list with twenty-seven killed.
