Another Good Day's Sport at the Races Yesterday.

The races yesterday were full of incident, and although there was one event less on the card than on the previous days, the large crowd present had their money's worth and went away satisfied with the day and ready to return this afternoon for the last day of the meeting.

The excitement commenced in th four furlongs event, the first after the driving heats had been run, when the nmenced handing out $5 fines to the jockeys, good and plenty. In the heat of the driving race before the four furlongs, fines were imposed in a hurry also, and for the other races they became so numerous that the count was lost entirely. The last for six furlongs which took eighteen minutes to start made the redord of the day, and the starter must have made a pile of money for the association throughout the afternoon if all the fines were enforced in addition to being imposed. The sec-ond race of four furlongs was also marked on the proceedings of the meeting as having the only accident, which resulted in the four-year-old chestnut gelding Fiesser breaking his leg and being shot, and a badly bruised leg for Jockey Kersten, which prevented him riding in the balance of the races. At the start Fiesser played up

The lad was carried to the dressing room, where it was found on medical aid being brought, that the damage was slight and result ed in bruises only. #### THE ALCOHOL MOTOR REGARDED AS PRACTICAL

United States Company Announces Successful Production of One.

The announcement of a few days ago that the manufacture of the Franklin utomobile has produced a successful tribling of their business.

The first to recognize the full meancohol in the United States and who also control several subsidiary companies manufacturing utilitarian articles sing alcohol for fuel. F. M. Harrison, vice-president, and Irwin Buck, chief engineer of the United States Company, are now investigating this new invention in the interests of their company with a view of using the Franklin commercial truck with alcohol motor for the handling of their products.

The Franklin alcohol motor which has been proven thoroughly practical for automobile use has only 90 lbs. compression, the results obtained equalling hose of the government tests. With 150 lbs. compression, the new Franklin notor is as economical to use as gasoine with both at the same price per gallon, it showing a consumption of alcohol per brake horse-power of about

With a certainty of a reduction in the price of alcohol and the factor of its safety over gasoline, it is undoubtedly true that the alcohol motor is going o have a great effect on the future of the automobile business. The success obtained in this motor is a great achievement, the question of alcohol notors having engaged for a long time the attention of the United States French and German governments. The successful application of alcohol to the internal combustion engine is undoubt-edly due to the fact that the Franklin motor is air instead of water-cooled.
