AN ADMIRING LAWYER. WHO IS PASSIONATELY FOND OF NICE DARK EYES.

Finds Hiwself Io a Corner as the Result of His Admiration for a City Road Young Lady-Ber Affianced Was There Toy and there was Fun.

Admiration for the Leautiful is developed strongly in some men, and women too for that matter. Quite often the "beautiful" for men is found in the gentler sex and the admiration often reals in matrimo•y.

It was not matrimonial business

however that took a portly lawyer to the City road last Friday evening. He was on business-r. al business-representing a client who hid rented a shop and who was in doubt about getting possession the first of May. Mr. Lawyer found his way up stairs in the house of the man he went to see but was agreeably surprisno went to see out was agreeably durpri-ed to find his attractive daughter there to represent him. She informed him that she transacted all her tather's business and was prepared to listen to him. Mr. Larguer talked his? business in a generative fashion and after he had settle i fint each to admire some pretty pictures on walls. They were handsome etchings and well informed as he was on matters of art he knew well how they were] produced. Yet he asked the young lady if they were drawn by her ! That passed off and the album came next. There he found a picture of the young lady's sister and when he exclaimed that she had "the same beautiful dark eyes" as her sister, his fair entertainer began to think that his business air had vanished and that his manner was too familiar, so she intimated a move by taking up the lamp. Taking the hint he was soon going down the stairs to the door. The hallway is narrow and when he reached the last step he placed himself in such a position that the young lady could not get to the door to open it. Then he began to tell her how much he admired her and in spite of her resistance placed his arms about her neck, exclaimed against the high neck dress fashion and was only prevented in his attempt to invade that mane close collar by the excellent use the young lady made of her teeth. He at-tempted to make his parting affectionate tempted to make his parting affectionate by placing his arm about her waist but a projecting pin gave him a wound that bled freely. Finally he went and the young Smith John, Courts block, Main, to Nase block, lady locked the door with gladness, and trembling with the ordeal she had passed through sat down to wait for her tather and affianced. When they arrived she told the story and there were two angry men in the house. There was no doubt that the liberties taken and language used gave good grounds for a case of assault and the next morning the young man sought legal advice. He was advised that the young lady should bring suit. In the meantime the client of the gay lawyer had got her answer and there was no necessity for him to trouble himself further, but on Tuesday night he called again. This time the coast was not so clear, but this he did not know. The young lady's future husband was up stairs and when she opened the door and saw that the caller was the free and easy geatleman who had given her such a scarce she stood at the foot of the stairway in the narrow hall and deminded his business. He laughed softly and said that admiration for her had brought him. He was passionatlely in love with dark eyes.

"What must you take me for-you a married man to be talking in that fashion ? was her indignant reply.

"I think you are an angel" was the prompt answer, and he proceeded to show her that he was in love with angels. In the meantime the young man up stairs had The Resting Pice of a Well Known Citizen Changed. Citagen of the caller and he made ready to give signature, if the licenses were to be granted the mayor left town. Inspector Banks then signed them alone and issued the parchments. The mayor's screne tempera-ment was tempered with anger at this in-spectorial haste on Banks' part. An opinion had been secured from R L. Bor-den, the most authoritative lawyer of the Ngya Scotia bar, to the effect that it would ten, no most autoritative lawyer of the Nava Scotia bar, to the effect that it would by degat to grant those conditional licenses. Yet, with Inspector Banke' signature alone, they were duly issued, and the dealers are doing business as if everything was all right. By the way, Inspector Banks and the mayor as well, are each liable to a $100 fine for every illegal license they sign. What about Brother Banks ("the Rev H. H. Banks) in this little matter ? He
