A MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LIEUT. KERR

Rev. Gordon Dickie Preys Eloquent Tribute to Brave Young Officer who Gave His Life for Country.

A very impressive service was held in St. Stephen's church last evening when the congregation paid a tribute of respect to the memory of Lieut. Gordon Kerr, one of the noble band of heroes who have laid down their lives on the blood stained fields of France and Flanders, in defense of the right and the cause of liberty. Music appropriate to the occasion was furnished by the choir, and the "Dies Irae" was rendered by the organist. The St. Stephen Cadet Corps, of which the dead hero was at one time a member, St. Andrew's Cadet Corps, and a detachment from No. 9 Siege Battery attended the service. The sermon was preached by Rev. Gordon Dickie, and he was assisted in the service by Corp. (Rev.) Alexander Grant, a former member of the P. P. O. L. I.

Mr. Dickie said in part:

"There are some truths which I want to emphasize before the men and boys who have gathered here tonight, for Lieut. Gordon Kerr's life has a message for us all. A few years ago he stood where you stand now, he was one of the boys of the brigade, and the hopes and aspirations which you cherish at this moment were his also, as he passed on before you. To any of you who may be bewildered or discouraged, the thought of such a man may be of priceless value.

"One thing which was noticeable, he loved his work and he loved his men. He loved to work and because he loved to fight, but because he felt that the war must be fought and won. He was a soldier by faith rather than by profession of arms, one who had a vision to which he could not be disabused. The following words by the poet might well be applied to him:

"Whereof the man that with me trod This planet was a noble type Appearing ere the times were ripe This friend of mine who walks with God."

"He was a man whom suffering had ennobled. Through all the difficulties and dangers of life he went calmly forward ever seeking to make himself a workman needing not to be ashamed."

"God's banner over us was love. The smoke of battle had obscured it, but for conquest and because he loved his men, he had risen like a mist from the waters and for a time blotted out the heavens, but the hour would come when they would be driven back whence they came, and hope and love yet win the day.

"Our comrade whom we mourn tonight has done his share to usher in this day. He shows his last sleep. In some quiet resting place undisturbed by the echoes of the guns he lies at peace and for his requiem let this suffice:

"Under the wide and starry sky Dig the grave and let me lie, Glad did I live and gladly die, And I laid me down with a will. The men of the battle front are teaching us how to be religious today in the best sense, they had no formal creed, but a faith that would fit all creeds, even that 'creed of creeds, the loveliness of human deeds.' Their faith was vital, rather than conventional, with them there was neither Greek nor Jew, but God was all in all. This new faith, call it the 'soldiers' faith,' was bound to bring a change of emphasis in human life. A greater stress would without doubt be laid on the things which were worth while. These men would not ask for a new church but they would have a way of looking at the old church which would startle many, no stanzas would be tolerated for anything that defiled or made a lie.

"If the sons of sorrow could teach us this lesson they were too the sons of God."

MAJOR M'AVITY AND SEVERAL OTHER ST. JOHN MEN ARRIVE

CARLETON METHODIST CHURCH HAS COMPLETED ITS SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Anniversary Services in Celebration of Event Commenced Yesterday and will Continue Until Thursday.

Services in connection with the seventy-fifth anniversary of Carleton Methodist church began yesterday and will be continued today, tomorrow and on Wednesday and Thursday. The morning service yesterday was conducted by Rev. W. H. Barratough, in the afternoon the president of the conference, Rev. Thomas Hicks, addressed the Sunday school. Rev. E. A. Wetmoreland officiated in the evening, when he spoke of the distinctive characteristics of Methodism—Christian perfection simply the perfection of love to God and man; Christian justification and salvation by faith; belief in the consciousness of personal touch with God. He pointed out that the Methodists have no formal creedal statements. They took for granted the creed of the Anglican church; what called the Methodist church into existence was these distinctive characteristics.

A feature of the day was the presence in the church of two members who were present at the opening seventy-five years ago. During the day a large sum was raised by the sale of flowers, and a collection was taken in the morning and evening. Tomorrow night the Women's Missionary Society will meet at the same hour when there will be a special programme. There will also be a special programme on Wednesday night, consisting of a service of prayer and praise with an address by Rev. W. G. Lane.

On Thursday, at 8 p. m., there will be a congregational reunion, at which the president of the conference and the mayor are expected to be present. Mrs. Wetmoreland will give a reading and Mrs. Long will sing. Refreshments will be served and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

At the Congregational church, Union street, Rev. William T. Gunn, D. D., of Toronto, secretary of the Congregational Union of Canada, preached both in the morning and evening yesterday. There were large congregations, especially in the evening, when Rev. Dr. Gunn took for his subject "A Square Deal."

MUCH LIVE STOCK KILLED IN WRECK

Luckily Only One Person injured when Freight Train Collided—Wreck Set on Fire by Locomotive.

Campbellton, Nov. 5—The Canadian government railways' wreckers have cleared up a serious smash on the northern division of the road at the Campbellton end of the Mill Creek bridge. A fast special freight train ran into the rear of a live stock train, the engine of the special crashing through the van and a car containing lambs, the wreckage catching fire. The Campbellton fire department subdued the blaze.

Alexander Martell of Danville, Que., was injured and a large number of lambs were killed. Many lambs in six other cars were also killed or injured. A car of cattle rolled over the embankment. Six of the cattle were killed or so badly injured that they had to be destroyed. The locomotive of the second train was derailed.

The first train was stalled at the time and the crew of the second claim that signals were not placed at a sufficient distance to the rear of the van. The freight special was in charge of Conductor Howard and Driver Brashshaw. The other train was in charge of Conductor McWilliams and Driver Macaulay.

ST. JOHN PEOPLE TO HEAR SUNDAY

Quite a number of St. John people contemplate going to Boston to hear Billy Sunday, the spectacular evangelist and former member of the Chicago National League baseball team, who opens a campaign there next Sunday. Sunday closed a campaign in Detroit yesterday. The Sunday tabernacle on Huntington Ave., Boston, was formally dedicated yesterday. It occupies the old American League baseball grounds, so Billy will be more or less at home.

Bishop E. H. Hughes of the Methodist Church, was the principal speaker yesterday. Music was furnished by a choir of 6,000 voices, which has been especially trained for the coming campaign.

Sunday will arrive in Boston next Saturday in time to attend the Harvard-Princeton football game.

All of the Boston churches except those of the Episcopal and Roman Catholic denominations have agreed to give up one service on one Sunday in order to allow their congregations to hear the evangelist on the Lord's day.

WATER DEPARTMENT WORK

The men of the water department have completed the work of putting in the throats of the Venturi metres and are now engaged in installing the registering device. This device is automatic and the records will be filed away so that when it is necessary to find out what amount of water was coming into the city on any day it will only be necessary to look up the records. The pipe for the Lake Latimer extension is all at the scene of the work but it is not the intention of the commissioner to begin this extension until the repair work around the city is out of the way for the season.

The plans for the Lancaster extension have been prepared and Commissioner Wigmore will likely ask for permission to call for tenders for the pipe at the committee meeting of the council today. The work of laying a new section of the 12-inch main in order to take it out from under the 24-inch main will be finished today.

Was Completely Laid Up With Severe Case of Piles

Sworn Statement from a Man Who Has Unbounded Confidence in Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There is no longer any debate as to the best treatment for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. But since about one person in every four suffers more or less from this annoying ailment it is necessary to keep on telling people about Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Wm. Shaw, Island Brook, Que., writes: "I am writing this to let you know the benefit I have derived from your Ointment. I have suffered more or less for years with protruding piles, and last winter I got so bad, I was completely laid up with them. I went to our local storekeeper and asked him if he had anything that was good for piles and he recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and took it home and used it according to directions and for over one year I have not been troubled with piles. I had tried other remedies before but they only gave me temporary relief and that one box of your Ointment did more for me than all the others, as I have not been troubled since last winter. I consider it to be the best remedy for piles I have ever used and shall always carry a box with me, although I don't think I will need it for piles. We have used it for other purposes in the family, such as burns and cuts, scratches, etc., and my wife says it is one of the best remedies for such purposes we have ever had in the house. Although you only charge sixty cents a box for it, it is well worth $5 a box for anyone afflicted with piles. Now, you can use this letter if you wish or refer anyone to me who wants to know about it for piles. I might say that in my business I am known all over the English portion of Quebec, and I am having this statement sworn to before a Justice of the Peace."

"Sworn before me this first day of April, 1916. M. M. Holbrook, J. P., Island Brook, Que." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60c. a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.
