lby moved the amendment, of which he had given notice before recess. Dorion opposed it on the ground that it could accomplish nothing. Blake argued that the sixteenth clause deprived Catholics of denominational eaching, secured them by law at the time of the Confederation. He denied the right of this Parliament to ask the Imperial Government to amend the constitution without having first obtained the assent of the Province to be effected by the change. He concluded by suggesting that the opinion of the Law officers of the Crown should be ob tained as to the power of this Parliamen to act in the matter. SILK UNDERSHIRTS AND PANT Gray said if Blake's argument was correct, there was no necessity for this Parliament to interfere in the matter, as the Supreme Court of New Brunswick could decide the constitutionality of the MANCHESTER, ROBERTSON & ALLISOF law. He deprecated seeking the opinion of the Law officers of the Crown or Canadian questions. Wallace supported the amendment, which was carried. Yeas 117; nays 42. Dorion moved to add the following words:-" And this House regrets that, to allay such well grounded discontent, the Governor General has not been advised to disallow the act." The Premier thanked Dorion for such a straightforward manner of putting vote of want of confidence. Anglin accused the Government making a party question of it. The vote being taken, the motion was lost, Mackenzie and Blake voting with the Government, amid loud cheers. Yeas 38; nays 117. Mackenzie moved a further amend opinion of the Law officers of the Crown ment, deciaring it expedient that the Josephine Kid Gloves, and, if possible, of the Judiciary Committee of the Privy Council in England, be obtained as to the right of the New Brunswick Legislature to make a change in the School Act to deprive Catholics of rights enjoyed at the time of Confederation Carried on Division.
