NATIONAL LAMPOON'S

OCTOBER
COMEDY
ISSUE

It's October and the leaves are turning brown. It is a season of change — the clear, cold death of winter shines ahead of us. Soon we will be able to see our breath, frisk with small dogs in the snow, and roll our cars over on patches of black ice. With winter approaching and good jokes sure to be as scarce as summer birds, now is the time to lay in a winter's supply of jokes in the new October comedy issue of National Lampoon; and as for summer birds, you can probably mail away for them to Florida. Yes, the National Lampoon Comedy issue has enough rich, plump guffaws to keep you chortling right into spring. So go buy one now at your local newsstand or bookstore before David Frost starts nipping people's noses, making it a pain to go outside.

POETRY READING

Friday, October 19, 1979
12:30 -
Students' Union Art Gallery
Students' Union, U of A

A performance reading of works dealing with "The City," "The Country," "Ourselves"

Logo comp underway

The search for the U of A's 75th anniversary logo is underway.

A competition, sponsored by the 75th Anniversary Policy and Task Force Groups, is looking for a logo or symbol and typographic program which depicts celebration with reference to the U of A and 75 years.

The competition should be of particular interest to Fine Arts students.

Cash prizes of $200, $100 and $50 are offered.

The winner may be hired on a full or part-time basis to develop the design manual and begin implementation where possible.

The contest closes October 31, 1979. For further details contact Professor Jungkind of the Department of Art and Design.

Frat fun

by John Lear

Those of you who have seen the movie Animal House may have a distorted view of fraternities. The film portrayed frat members as boozing troublemakers who pay more attention to wine, women, and song than to anything resembling an education.

Fraternities may certainly sponsor parties and social functions, but this is not all they have been organized for. In their own words, fraternity members describe their societies as furthering "scholarship and friendship," "broadening horizons and enriching the university experience," and offering "advice and compassion" to their fellows.

Fraternities are basically clubs which have philanthropic, social and scholastic aspects. They are actively involved in fund-raising campaigns for various charitable organizations, as well as many local projects.

There are nine fraternities at the U of A, three for women, and six for men. They are: Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Phi Delta Theta, Pi Epsilon, Zeta Psi, Phi Kappa Pi and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Why all the strange names? They are all based on Greek letters. This practice began in ancient Greece, where students usually followed one particular teacher in their studies and became closely affiliated with their classmates. The first Greek-letter fraternity in North America was begun by American president Thomas Jefferson in 1776.

Fraternities accept members all year round. For further information, contact the Panhellenic Society, Room 230, SUB.
