

right to it as nearly all serious people now admit. In the second place while I am not sanguine enough to expect that women's vote will solve all our social problems instanter, I believe that her deep concern in a few supreme interests of life will make her in the long run a very valuable factor in the State. Surely it is not without significance that both in the ancient and the medieval world "Justice" was painted as a Woman!

