Warden Sills is a man of conviction but he also possesses the admirable quality of never becoming ruffled. While sometimes the debate has waxed hot, he has taken the floor and quieted the storm. He never indulges in personalities and refrains from unfair treatment of an antagonist in debate. His winning smile, open countenance and fair-mindness make him a popular representative for the banner township of Thurlow.

The Hon F. C. Biggs promises promises greater assistance to county roads.
