TURNED DOWN

Conservative Leaders are all Shelved by Late Dominion Election.

LAURIER MOST NOBLY SUSTAINED.

Clifford Sifton Defeats Hugh John McDonald in Manitoba.

LOCAL PARTISANS JUBILANT.

What Leading Dawson Men Think of the Result—The Corrected Returns.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Ottawa, Nov. 8, via Skagway, Nov. 13.—Sir Charles Tupper, Foster, Hugh John McDonald, Bergeron, Caron and Montague, are all defeated. The Conservative leaders are practically wiped off the face of the earth.

The overwhelming victory achieved by the Liberals led the Nugget to seek an expression of feeling from men of both political faiths, but after a careful search during the time at disposal, no Conservatives willing to express themselves on the subject could be found. The foregoing telegram was shows Mr. Wade, who said:

"It was difficult to anticipate any other result than the overwhelming victory achieved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his party. Never in the history of Canadian politics has a party gone to the country under better auspices. For the first time since confederation a government was able to show a surplus of eight millions in the treasury, which would have been much greater but for the expense of the South African war. During the term of the government the Dominion enjoyed prosperous times. The commercial, mining and railway policies of Mr. Fielding and Mr. Blair in the maritime province had rescued trade from a state of stagnation and induced the greatest possible prosperity. The immigration policy of the minister of the interior advanced settlement to a wonderful extent throughout Manitoba and the Northwest territories. The organization of all the departments of the government was made complete and thorough for the first time in the history of Canadian institutions. With all these advantages and led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is certainly the greatest personality in Canadian public life, and actuated by common enthusiasm for imperialism and a closer union with the mother country, defeat was impossible.

"While the Liberals went to the country under such auspices as these, the Conservatives were almost without a platform or a cry and still suffered from the heavy hand of the Tupper. The attempt to save the party by bringing in Hugh John McDonald at the last moment to deodorize it from the Tupper influence was too late. The defeat of Sir Charles will probably rid the party of the Tupper incubus. The slaughter of Tory leaders is, if anything, too extensive. The defeat of Foster removes from the house of commons the chief critic of the opposition. Hugh John McDonald was best his father's son and sought political support and preferment not on his merits but on political memories. Bergeron, Caron and Montague were also chiefs of the party and their presence will be greatly missed by their supporters. The only danger to the Liberal party in the future is from lack of opposition and lack of criticism in the house.

"Mr. Sifton's victory over Hugh John McDonald is probably the most striking feature of the campaign. The leader of the Conservatives of Canada was brought into the list against the minister of the interior. Although a Manitoba man himself and carrying with him all the prestige of premier of the province, and although backed by all powers of the Conservative party, he failed to defeat the most maligned man in public life in Canada. Mr. Sifton's success will be particularly gratifying to Sir Wilfrid Laurier who has never made any secret of the fact that he considers him his ablest minister. It will, of course, be gall and wormwood to the Conservatives to feel that their chief has been beaten by the man whom they so cordially hate for his ability and statesmanship. By seeking to destroy him they have succeeded in making him far more influential in the campaign and in the public affairs of Canada than ever before."

Corrected Returns.

Ottawa, Nov. 8, via Skagway Nov. 13.—The Laurier government was returned to power by an overwhelming majority and the London papers express warm approval of the result.

Election returns up to date are as follows (Liberals first):

Ontario, 55, 56; Quebec, 56, 8; Nova Scotia, 14, 6; New Brunswick, 9, 5; Prince Edward Island, 4, 2; Manitoba, 3, 4 Northwest territory, 3, 1; British Columbia, 2, 2 Five elections still to be held.

"Drink wine while my credit is good. Sifton by over six hundred."

The above telegram was received shortly after 1 p. m. today, and as a result of that and the victory which called it forth the wine corks are chasing each other to the ceiling in the room back of Lewin Bros.' office this afternoon, and one needs no searchlight to discover that there are Liberals in the land. The telegram in question came to Sheriff Eilbeck from his old time friend Jim McGregor of Brandon. The same gentleman also sent a wire to P. C. Wade which reads as follows: "If Billy White had made a few more speeches here Hugh John McDonald would have lost his deposit."

The reading of this telegram called to mind the performance of Mr. White during the last campaign, when he stumped Eastern Assiniboia in the interests of Windy McDonald. McDonald's deposit was barely saved to him then and Billy White earned the title of Jonah of the West, and it would appear from this that he is not apt to loose the soubriquet. In the ranks of the Liberals here there is harmony and what may naturally be termed a love feast. The only differences of opinion heard expressed are by Mr. Lithgow, who takes exception to Mr. Wade's classification of the elected minister inasmuch as he insists that Mr. Fielding's name should be placed next that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier instead of that of Mr. Sifton. Mr. Wade, however, is true to his convictions and refuses to yield the point.

Direct From Nome.

The following letter contains the latest news from Nome, it having arrived in this city today via San Francisco. The letter is from Dennis Horgan, who is in charge of the grocery department of the Ames Mercantile Company at Nome, and was forwarded to Cashier Jas. L. Gray, of the company here:

Nome, Oct. 8.
"To enjoy sausage thoroughly you must have confidence," says an "ad" in the store, and let me whisper a word on the same strain. If you want to enjoy No. 3 California street you want to go up against this "slower-than-the-wrath-of-God" hole. It's about three months since I saw you in the flesh, but it seems even longer.

The place isn't as bad as the newspapers make it out, although it would not support the drove of poor suckers that were lured here by the steamship pamphlets. The beach this year was a rank failure and it is now strewn for ten miles with all kinds of steam plants in disuse and abandoned, while a month or so ago they were running at full blast and sandwiched in with men, women and children at work with rockers, but the majority only averaged a couple of dollars a day, and with this surplus population thrown on the town made things look blue for awhile.

The majority of the creek claims are very rich (those that are being worked) while a great number more are tied up in litigation which when opened up will help to push the place ahead. Whatever the future of the camp will be, and those who know predict that from now on it will go ahead rapidly, we have been doing a big business which seems to increase every day as the season draws to a close.

At the present writing we are outfitting quite a number bound for a new strike about 70 miles up the coast; and the rains which we are getting enable a number of claims on dry creeks to be worked, and altogether things are brightening. The discoverer of the first claim here told me the other evening that last year he took out $800,000, and expects to triple it this; and has such faith in the richness of the country that he is going to take a party out to prospect further in anticipation of richer diggings.

We're at present living in a vacated restaurant, which is a paradise to the tent life we had for a month. We are about to move into our permanent quarters over our auxiliary warehouse which is under construction and there are many funny jawing matches among the boys when they try to get together and figure out peacefully whom they will room with in our last resting place.

I would continue, as I have lots to tell you, but must close as it is 12 o'clock and I am due at my bunkhouse in order to rise at 7 with the rest of the hoemen. It's a regular army life. One fellow is now snoring like a pig in his bunk, and I'll have to wake him in order to get an even break to get asleep. Remember me, as the Irish man says, "to all inquiring friends." Yours, DENNIS.

For Sports Only.

Next Friday night will find the Club gymnasium the center of attraction for sportdom, as on that night there is to be a big meeting of the pugilists who aspire for fistic laurels. The main event is a ten-round go between Sinclair and Coulter. Both are good men and evenly matched. A preliminary will precede this event, an eight-round go between Kid Brooks and Kid Lamb.

There will be a wrestling match also between Jack Devine and Fred Thoenner which will be of interest as the men are to decide a little side bet of their own on the result of the bout. Other athletic exhibitions will be given.

Tonight is ladies' night at the gymnasium, and many of the fair sex are going in for athletics and the pastime of bowling.

Litigation Settled.

After a great deal of litigation and incidental delay, McKenzie & Miles have succeeded in at last getting down to work on their valuable claim, No. 3 Magnet gulch. They employ upwards of 20 men and the best of modern machinery. As it is their intention to work all winter, their cleanup in the spring will doubtless be a big one.

Sour Dough in Luck.

Carlo Tilly, well known to all the old timers, has opened up his claim, No. 2 on Last Chance, and has been rewarded by finding a rich pay streak. He will operate steadily this winter and expects to be able to add largely to the circulating medium of exchange when the gentle spring time comes.

More Dogs Poisoned.

Night before last a valuable dog of the husky variety of C. B. Simms died as the result of carbolic acid poisoning. Only a few days before this Mr. Fowle lost two dogs by the same means. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will probably take the matter in hand and there is little doubt but what if the guilty party or parties are caught an example will be made which will go far toward making such matters of rare occurrence in the future.
