FRIENDS PREVAILED

Nervous Toronto Woman Walked he Floor During the Night for Hours at a Time-She Makes a Statement. over me during the night I had to get up and walk the floor for hours at a time. My blood was very poor and I was subject to bilious attacks. My feet would swell to bilious attacks. My feet would swell and I was not able to do my own house, work. I treated with two of the best physicians here but only received relief for a time. I became discouraged. One day a friend called and advised me to try Hood's Earsaparilla. I laughed at the adday a friend called and activated to the Heod's Sarsaparilla. I laughed at the advice but I was prevailed upon and procured one bottle. Before I used it all I began to feel better. I took several bottles and also several boxes of Hood's Pills. Now I can eat and drink heartily and New I can eat and the heavy sleep soundly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me and also strengthened me so that I now do all my own work.

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills : easy to take,

For Sale or to Rent. That new brick house on Henry street,— for the B. & W. station. Apply to W. H. JACOB, Blacksmith, ria st., Athens

I. O. F. Court Glen Buell, No. 878. Independen Order of Foresters, meets in Bingo Hall, Glet Buell, or Jad and 4th Friday in each month, at 7.30. Visitors always welcome. W. J. ANDERSON, C. R. C. J. GILROY, R. S.

Farm for Sale or to Let. Lot 5, in 6th concession of Yonge, in County of Leeds, containing about 225 acres, about 14 miles from Athens; good dwelling house, barn and outbuildings; desirable farm and conven-ent to school, church, cheese factory and post-office. Apply to J. Albert Page, Barrister, etc., Brockville, Yorkshires—Shropshires FOR SERVICEregistered boar. Oas Lodge Peer 2nd 749, bred by J. E. Brethour, Burford, Ont.. sired by Charles 1st (Imported). Choice pehire ram lambs for sale.

F. B. BLANCHER.

Great Offer

Addison, Nov. 1st.

For $2.00

WE WILL GIVE THESE

The Athens Reporter

The Montreal Herald

For One Year

THE HERALD

ITS MARKET REPORTS THE SATURDAY EDITION alone is a valuable paper, containing in addition to the regular news, a lar amount of choice literary matter.

Send in your subscription at once to the ATHENS REPORTER, Athens

CANADIAN RY.

Round trip tickets will be sold between Christmas Holidays.

New Year Holidays. At One Way First-class Fare December 31st, 1888 and Jan. 1st and 2nd 1899. Good to return until Jan. 3rd. 1889. At One Way First-class Fare and One Third, December 30th and 31st, 1898 and January 1st, 1899. Good to return until January 4th 1899.

School Vacations. At One Way First-class Fare and One Third from Dec. 10th to 31st, 1898, Good to return intil January 18th 1899. nuary 18th 1899. Il fares to points in Maritime Prov CHANGE OF TIME

Beginning on Monday, Dec. 12, 1898 Departures from Brockville No. (99) 5.45 a. m. -For Ottawa, Pembroke

Montreal.

(15) 2.30 p. m.—For Montreal and Ottawa.

(21) 4.00 p. m.—For Perth, Toronto Ottawa.

Arrivals at Brockville :

No. 1.40 p. m.—From Ottawa, Porth and Montreal.
(9) 12.20 p. m.—From Ottawa, Carleton Jct.
and West.
(97) 10.56 p. m.—From Ottawa, Smith's Falls and points East and West.
The Trans-continental train westbound will leave Carleton Jct. at 3.50 p. m., and eastbound at 1.16 p. m. Far tickets, etc., write to or call on

GEO. E. MCGLADE, AGENT

City Ticket and Telegraph Office Corner King St. and Court House Avenue, Brockville, Ont.

STEAMSHIP TICKETS BY THE PRIN

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM

If you are contemplating a trip EAST OR WEST

It will pay you to patronize "The Old Reliable Grand Trunk Railway" and take advantage of its excellent Passen-ger Train Service which leaves Brock ville as follows 1 Express (Sunday included)., 4.05 a.m. Express (Sunday included) ... 2.48 "

GOING WEST. Passenger. 800 a m For tickets and all information apply

G. T. FULFORD. G. T. R. City Pass'r Agent,

DUTCH WEDDING AN ORDEAL

Other Curious Customs of This Interesting Country.

A Dutch wedding is a portentous business. Smart Holland does its devotions in barnlike French Protestant churches. The wedding service is mouraful to a degree and lasts two hours. The bridegroom in full evening dress and the bride in orthodox white satin sit upon chairs in front of the black robed minister. He delivers an extempore address fairly bristling with personalities. Meanwhile relatives sob in pews, until finally every one who can prove the remotest connection with the bride kisses her.

Next follows a tremendous breakfast in Teach state. It is "do rignary" for all he britte also her temendous breaklass in Next follows a tremendous breaklass in French style. It is "de rigueur" for all the friends of the bride to send her in the the friends of the bride to send her in the French style. It is "de rigueur" for all the friends of the bride to send her in the morning a bouquet or basket of white flowers plentifully ribboned. With numbers of these a very gay effect is produced, though the Dutch are lamentably behind the times in table decorations and posymaking. With the advant of the "hore d'curve" come speeches. The bride's brother or other delegate first rings a small hand bell. Then amid a silence broken by the cheerful clicking of knives and forks a health is proposed. Then comes a quaint posteoript to this very ordinary ceremonial. Ladigs and gentlemen must alike rise from their seats and, solemnly filing up to the person toasted, touch his glass with their own. After a score of speeches the thing gets monotonous, but it is carried out to the bitter end. Any person omitted would feel aggrieved. In Holland it is the family before everything. A leading barrister was recently compelled to throw up an important case in order to attend the birthday party of an aged father who lived three hours distant by rail. The Dutch are excellent husbands, but quite preposterously jealous. An Englishman who found himself in a party consisting almost entirely of assorted couples the state of the country of the service of the country of the countr ventured to pay a few compliments and mild attentions to a charming young married woman. He even had the assurance to include her in a general offering of roses made to the company. The husband was furious. He canceled a previously given dinner invitation, and there were awful rumors that, though duels are now very rare, he desired to challenge the offender, who wisely placed the sea between himself and his would be opponent.

Bables have a comfortable time enough in Holland, where the cramping swaddling pillow is replaced by English layettes. It is, however, expensive to know too many, for every woman who visits or is visited by nurse and infant for the first time must give the former at least 5 shillings.

Mourning is very long and very strict. Even the poorest leave off their gold cappins and headpieces for more than a year after the death of a parent.—London Globe.

BOOKKEEPING B. C.

Clay Records of Business Trans tions Temp. Darius II.

An American archeological expedition excavating at Nippur discovered in a room 90 feet below the surface some 730 clay tablets, the business records of a rich firm of merchants, Ulurashu Sons. These documents are dated in the reigns of Artserzes I (464-494 B. C.), and Darlus II (433-405 B. C.). The tablets are of various sizes, some resembling the ordinary cake of soap of commerce. They are covered with cunefform characters clear and distinct as when the bookkeeper of Ulurashu inscribed them 2,500 years ago.

Among them is this guarantee for 96 years that an emerald is so well set that the first control of the con

"Bel-shiddina and Bel-shumu, sons of Bel, and Hatin, son of Basusa, spoke unto Bel-nadinshumu, son of Morashu, as follows: 'As concerns the gold ring set with an emerald, we guarantee that for 20 years the emerald will not fall out of the ring. If it should fall out before the expiration of 20 years, Bel-shiddina (and the two others) shall pay to Bel-nadinshumu an Indemnity of ten mans of silver.'"

Then follow the names of seven witnesses and of an official who is described as "the scribe of the Concordance of Proper Names." The document concludes with the thumbnall marks of the contracting parties.

parties.

There are also leases of various kinds and contracts for the sale of sun dried bricks and other merchandise, and for the loan of seed corn and oxen for plowing.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Not Good Enough For Her. Not Good Enough For Her.

"Did you hear about Samuels?" asked Mrs. Graymare's husband.

"No, I didn't hear about Samuels," the lady answered. "When you have anything to tell, why don't you tell it?"

"Yes, dear. Well, Samuels was going home the other night when a footpad shot at him, and the ball hit a latchkey in Samuels' vest pocket, and his life was saved. So you see what good a latchkey is."

"Indeed! If Samuels had been going home at a reasonable hour, he wouldn't have met any footpad. Secondly, he carried $10,000 insurance, payable to his wife, and if it had not been for that key she would be a rich widow now. So if you are hunting around for a latchkey you will have to bring home some better story than that one. That's all. I'm going to bed now, and out goes the gas in two ticks. Latchkey indeed!"—Pick Me Up. Roughing It.

by a dergyman during the host clergyman's wife. On leaving the host politely expressed the hope that when next his lordship honored the house Mrs. Temple would accompany him.

"No, thanks," the archbishop laconically replied; "Mrs. Temple doesn't like roughing it."

The clergyman's feelings were deeply hurt, for the visit had meant some expense and much anxiety to him. He unburdened his soul to his wife on her return. "Why, my dear," she exclaimed, 'you didn't surely put the bishop in the pink bedroom, did you?" He did. "Oh, then, that's it! I put all the plate in the bed!"—London Outlook.

Carefully Considered. nan?"
"Well," answered Mr. Blykins, "it depends on what you want the man for. It you want him to do brain work, it's his head, and if you want him to run errands Jaipur is called "the Beautiful City o India" and is noted among travelers for the exquisite rose color which all of its houses sport. It gives the impression of a pink coral city rising from the sea.

Four-fifths of all the garlic easen in Europe is raised on the two African island Zanzibar and Pemba.

An Elizabethan Letter.

I have sent the a lette provision agen this time, but I cold wish it were much beter. Ther is a goose pye, a netes beter. Ther is a goose pye, a netes tounge pye, and a mutton pastie for standers for thy table to is Crismas, for a nede, I knowe they will last tell twelftide, for they are now newe baked. I have sent the a goose and ij capens alive for feare they wold not last tell ye holy daies if they had bin killed, but I wish the exhill than on Satarday. but I wish the to kill them on saternay at ye furdest lest they growe worse.

* * I prethe doe so much as bestoe for me vid or viijd in sume oringes or lemons or ij pouns siterns and sende them downe nowe by Hale * * * and so with my best wishes to the and Kitt I seek. I rest, THY MOTHER, S. D.

"Antiquities and Curiosities of the Aluminium as Paper.

Experiments with aluminium as a substitute for paper are now under way in France. It is well known that the paper used today in the manufacture of books is not durable.

It is now possible to roll aluminium the sheets four-thousandths of an inch-It is now possible to roll aluminium into sheets four thousandths of an inch in thickness, in which form it weighs less than paper. By the adoption of suitable machinery these sheets can be made even thinner still and can be used for book and writing paper. The metal will not oxidize, is practically fire and water proof, and is indestructible by the jaws of worms.

It is now possible to roll aluminium in the honor of entertaining the party was made by runners of the different hotels in the place, but the party concluded, after getting prices from all the leading hotels, to patronize the Clifton House, being the same place that the party patronized on the visit of a year before.

The party were now inside the continued.)

STORY OF THE HUNT IN MUSKOKA'S WILDS Reporter Hunt Club As told by The Scribe of The Athens Reporter

How time flies! It is ten years fines of the famous Muskoka district, s fines of the famous Muskoka district, tand a short account is wove in here by way of information to those ungamiliar with the tract of country exited tending from Severn River on the south to Lake Nipissing on the north and Parry Sound and the Georgian Bay on the west to the confines of the yalgonquin Park on the east. These boundaries include the Parry Sound and Nipisssing districts as well, but to see the hunter or seeker of recreation and an operature, they are all associated with since the Scribe of the Reporter first started to write up the "Annals of the started to write up the "Annals of the Hunt." Year after year, the story has been told in plain, unvarnished style, and year after year the task seems harder for him to undertake. Not that the interest is any less, or the scenes and incidents any less racy or interesting, but because of the fear that there will be a sameness about the yarn that will detract from the lively interest taken in reading the story by patrons of the Reporter.

made up as follows :

the hunter or seeker of recreation and pleasure, they are all associated with the familiar name of Muskoka. The name Muskoka is supposed by the best authorities to be derived from the Indian "Mus-quo-tah," signifying "red ground"; others claim its derivation from an Indian word meaning "Clear-Sky-Land," and others again give the credit to the famous Chief, "Mes-quo Dr. Clink of Redwood, N. Y., died Candaw, last His danghter, Mrs. R. However, we promised our readers that, all going well, we would recount the incidents of the trip for their in formation, edification, and amusement on our return, and in compliance with our promise, we this week start what we trust will be a readable account of the most successful hunt ever indulged in by the Reporter Hunt Club. The party of 1898 was made up as ronows:

Charlie Stagg, Brockville, the president of the Club, will retain his old sobriquet of "The Butcher," from the s fall hunt. Even the poetic instinct of the untutored savage appreciated the beauty of the Muskoka region. It is about a day's journey from Brockville on the east, or Toronto or Hamilton, on the west, to the centre of the Muskoka district. The excellent facilities afforded by the Grand Trunk railway to reach this famous pleasure resort and hunting region is unsurpassed. It has been the privilege of the Reporter Hunting Club to travel over this line for the greater part of the eighteen have provided themselves with a rabbit sobriquet of "The Butcher, from the fact that he was, from his early train-ing as a practical butcher, better qualified to properly dress the game ready for shipping home than any other member of the party.

classic little village of Athens, started for the hunting grounds with many misgivings as to his ability to keep up his end of the laborious work of tramping, portaging, and lubber lifting, absolutely requisite in successfully per-forming his alloted share in the success of the hunt. But the boys were kind and considerate of his ill health and fallen on his shoulders.

Byron W. Loverin, "the Ploughboy," who had been an active member of the to enliven the recital of trips to the al outing.

With this introduction of the broke into a run. He kept this up

Complete a name ...

Monday, Dec. 12.—They made thirteen cheese at A. W. Mallory's factory on Saturday last.

Mr. Henry Guild was the guest of John Haffie of Riverside last attend the funeral.

MALLORYTOWN

week.

The young man, Harper, that lived near Lyn, who was lost for two days and a half, was in a straw mow on the farm. He came out all right.

Peter Bay has one of the finest driving horses in the place.

Mr. Benon Thompson and wife of Alexandria Bay were visiting friends.

Sky Land," and others again give the credit to the famous Chief, "Mes-quo-okee, who often repaired to this district with his band to engage in the fall hunt. Even the poetic instinct with the state of the party.

The production of the party of the deliberation of the party of the deliberation of the party.

The production of the party of the deliberation of the party of th teamster was anxious to get and impart information, and was busily engaged answering Charlie's questions as to the prospects for the hunt, and his vigilance in handling the lines relaxed for the moment, with the result that the horses swerved to one side and grey hairs, and freely bore many of the burdens that should have of right fallen on his shoulders.

Horses swelves a surface to make a spill of the goods. Here was a dilemma that had not been provided for. The boys were Club for six or seven years, was prevented by the work on his farm from going this year, and the Rev. G. S. Reynolds of Mallorytown, whose exploits under the caption of the "Domine" on former hunts had done much to enliven the recital of trips to the ine" on former hunts had done much to enliven the recital of trips to the woods, was prevented by sickness from taking part with the Club in the annual outing.

store. Ther is a goose pye, a netes come pye, and a mutton pastic for large pye, and a mutton pastic for large pye, and a mutton pastic for mede, I knowe they will last tell function of the Club for 1898, we will proceed by saying that all things will the for they are now newe baked, have sent the a goose and ij capens live for fear they wold not last tell good and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville station of the large and party embarked on the Grand Trunk railway at the Brockville sta J. P. Lamb & Son.

DADDY TRIED SO HARD TO TAKE IT,

fter Wasting More Films Than Was Absolutely Necessary He Resolves to Take the Youngster to a Profes sional and Got Good Results.

He did look so determined and smart, dear little dearle!"
So daddy purchased a $5 camers that morning and brought it home at night. "It is only a cheap one, but I think it is good, and the films are the same as the higher priced cameras use," he said, exhibiting it to his wife. "Now, if it is a bright day tomorrow, I am going to begin on him."

It was a bright day, and daddy used up eight plates dancing about the baby while it was being dressed, taking very snappy snapshots at him. Afterward they put him on the floor in the midst of a half dozen pillows and turned the eat over to Sunday last. His daughter, Mrs. R. W. Tennant, started on Monday to

We are informed that the Brockville Times correspondent here has to furnish his own stamps and does not even get a copy of the paper. a large country circulation.

TEMPERANCE LAKE.

Monday, Dec. 15.-Mr. A. Cavanaugh is spending a few days in the vicinity of his old home. Owing to the snow storm of Sunday last, some benighted travellers were unable to reach their home till late on sick list for the past few days but we are pleased to see her around again.

It is reported that wedding be will ring here in the near future, Mr. Delbert Avery is on the sick

Mr. Bonesteel is busily engaged get ting up his winter's wood.

Some from here attended the Holiness meeting held in Athens.

When you are nervous and sleeples take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It make the nerves strong and gives refreshing

THE BABY'S PICTURE. BUT COULD NOT.

The baby was responsible for the trouble. It was a first baby, and the young parents were typical in their appreciation of its thousand and one virtues and lenient loward its faults. They also knew beyond

When baby got to be a year old, the father said one morning at breakfast:

"Look here, Nell, we must have some pictures of Tootsy. I don't like the regulation baby pictures, though. I'm going to get a camera myself, so we can catch him in some of his cute attitudes—like the other day when he had the cat by the tail and was pounding it with his bottle. Wouldn't that have been a cunning little soene to snap?"

"Indeed it would. And yesterday you ought to have seen how the dear little child twisted nurse's ear when she tried to put his cap on. I thought I'd like to have caught the expression in his face. He did look so determined and smart, dear little dearie!"

it was being dressed, taking very snappy snapshots at him. Afterward they put him on the floor in the midst of a half dozen pillows and turned the cat over to him. The feline must have objected to being pictured, for just as daddy was pressing the button the animal turned upon her small tormentor and let out a yowl that nearly frightened Tootsy inte spasms. It took mammy an hour to bring him around again, but daddy managed te use up the dozen plates on the pair just the same. He took the film to town that day, had it developed in a hurry and brought it home at night. The results of the plotures were hardly satisfactory. The first eight contained excellent pictures of the edges of chairs, pleces of the rug, the mantel, mammy's arm and hand, and the baby basket with one small bare foot on the edge of the picture, but the baby's face did not appear. This was disappointing, but they turned to the other plates with hope. The cat picture showed a large, irregular black blotch, covering seveneighths of the plate, and which, when printed, proved to be the baby's mouth as it let out a yell of fear. The picture was natural, but the young folks didn't seem to like it.

Then daddy bought an instruction book and went into the business of amateur photography in earnest. At the end of the month he had purchased a new camera and supplies amounting to $178.54 in all, and as a result had one picture in which a baby face surrounded by a lot of white, finify clothing could be distinguished. But even this was not satisfactory, for the baby's countenance had "taken" so dark that the contrast with the white background was distressing. They printed and mounted one and placed it on the sitting room table, but it did not remain there long. Bobble, a small cousin, appeared on the scene one afternoon while mammy had a swell caller and, having caught sight of the photograph, howled to his brother, "Come here, Tommile, and see the Indian baby picture!"

That plotere was retired.

At the ead of the tenth week an account of stock was taken. E the end of his term with a fortune.

There are many instances of this kind in Berlin. One of the finest and most highly priced restaurants on Unter den Linden recently sold its good will for a matter of 1,000,000 marks. The owner Price of the Price of of a cafe on Friedrichstrasse who start ed the place but a couple of years ago is himself rapidly growing rich from the "trinkgeld" received from the guests and is said to be in receipt of monthly stipends amounting to some $3,000 in American money.—Berlin Letter in Borrowing a Horse.

In his interesting book, "The Law-yers of Maine," Willis relates an anec-dote of Judge George Thatcher, who was noted for his humor.
Solicitor Davis and Judge Thatcher, when boys, were neighbors in Barnsta-ble and Yarmouth, Mass. The day after the battle of Bunker Hill the militia of these towns set off for Boston. The of these towns set our for Boston. The boys accompanied the soldiers, Davis acting as fifer. A few miles out from Barnstable an order came directing the military to return home.

In their retreat Thatcher and Davis, it is a few miles and bar side of their merchanters. tired of their march, mounted an old horse they met on the road, without saddle or bridle. After riding some miles they dismounted and abandoned their steed in the highway.

Many years after Davis, as solicito general, was prosecuting a horse thief efore Judge Thatcher in the county of Kennebec, Me. In the course of the trial the judge leaned over the bench and said in an undertone to the solic-Davy, this reminds me of the hors

Java is said to be the region of the globe where it thunders oftenest, hav-ing thunderstorms 97 days in the year. After it are Sumatra, with 86 days; Hindustan, with 56; Borneo, with 54; Hindustan, with 56; Borneo, with 54; the Gold Coast, with 52, and Rio de Janeiro, with 51. In Europe, Italy occupies the first place, with 38 days of thunder, while France and southern Russia have 16 day Great Britain and Switzerland have each 7 days, and Norway has 4. Thunder is rare at Cairo. Norway has 4. Thunder is rare at Cairo being heard only 3 days in the year, and extremely rare in northern TurMISTAKEN IDENTITY. AN AMERICAN'S ADVENTURE IN THE

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow.

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation. It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the

DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

"They are precisely alike."
"Well, gentlemen." said the

"Well, gentlemen," said the candidate, lowering his voice, "I acknowledge to you in confidence that I stole it."—Chicage

"In this room," said the managing edi-tor to the visitor, "Is our trained corps of interviewers. We employ eight. Count

"Yes, I see," replied the visitor, but how comes it that they are all at their desks? I supposed interviewers were or the outside most of the time."

"Oh, no!" said the editor. "Our inter viewers never leave the office."

"But I don't see'— began the visitor. "They are all trained experts," said the managing editor, and they passed on.— Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Bamboo grows very thriftily in California bottom lands, and is found to be a very useful plant. The seed of many species resembles rice, and is almost as A Talking Crow.

The latest curiosity in Bethel, Me.

is a talking crow which entertains th boys and girls. The bird was found in boys and girls. The bird was touch and the woods over a year ago, when young, having fallen from its nest and broken a wing. It was taken home and cared for, but showed no inclination to talk.

until a few months ago. It talks as well as parrots, but favors words con-taining "o," and "Hello, hello, Moses, water pies, furniture and boxes.

Good

AUSTRIAN CAPITAL to Was Postered With Beggins and Tried a Clever Ruse to Bossey Them, Which Came Very Rearly Ending Disastrously For Himself.

"Now, you may just as well tell us the iruth about this, old chap," said the chair man of the campaign committee. "This ther fellows are claiming that you stoll he speech you made at Kinderhook last reek."

igar.
''They claim it's an old one of Henry "They claim it's an old one of Henry Watterson's. In fact, they are printing that speech and yours in parallel columns and they are exactly alike, word for word."

"Just so. May I ask (puff, puff) if you have examined the (puff) documents and found the speech as originally delivered by Colonel Watterson?"

"We have."

"Have you carefully read (puff) the speech I made at Kinderhook last week?"

"We have."

"It there any resemblance between the "I nughed at that, and after a few mo-ments of jabbering with the others he hus-tled away and brought back what I want-ed. It didn't take me long to wash off that infernal dye, and when I emerged from behind the towel I was no more like their confounded Luigi than I was like their confounded Luigi and I was had the sphin.

"Well, the upshot of it all was that they sent me back to the hotel in charge of the man in the dark elothes, who found out from the proprietor all he knew about me, and thereupon restored my property and left me with what I understood to be a brief apology.

"And you can just put up something handsome that the first thing I did was to chuck that infernal cosmetic straight out TONS AND TONS OF GOLD.

Twelve Hundred Miles of Enormous-ly Rich Territory.

If a pin be placed at Denver on the If a pin be placed at Denver on the map, and another at Stockton, Oal, and a string be drawn from one to the other, an air line will be marked passing through the heart of a wonderful gold territory. Slightly to the north of Denver in Central City, and southwest of that city is Cripple Creek. About 80 miles to the north of the string Leadville will be found. In the southwest corner of Colorado will appear Telluride, Rico and other points where gold is mined. Marysvale, in Utah, almost due south of Salt Lake City, will appear to the south of the string. Fifty due south of Salt Lake City, will appear to the south of the string. Fifty miles to the north of it, near the line between Utah and Nevada, will appear Oscoola. Deep Creek lies north of Oscoola and on the southern edge of the great desert west of Salt lake. Detroit and several other rich gold camps are almost due east of Oscoola. Pioche lies 100 miles south of the string, and the "Your son'll never make a soldier, ger 100 miles south of the string, and the wonderfully rich gold territory of the

Now, north and will appear dotted on the map of Neva-da the gold camps of Grant, Freiburg, Reveille, Kawich Valley, San Antonio, Gold Peak, Hot Springs, Belleville, Candelara and numerous others. Al-most under the string, in Californs, we find Bodie, and to the north of it Ma kleville and other points—all on the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains. On the western slope of the great sierras the string will be almost on the Utica mine, which is located be tween San Andreas and Sonora. North and south of the Utica mine are hun-

The distance from Denver to Stockton is about 1,200 miles. On no portion of the habitable globe is there a region so continuously and enormously rich in gold as the territory described, and yet, notwithstanding this fact, the progress-ive Yankee has scarcely made a start in opening and developing these riches, which have been entombed for millions of years, and which will remain so sepulchered until we awaken to an appreciation of the fact that the states of Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California than ever was dreamed of by Crosas.-

Just as

as Scott's and we sell it much cheaper," is a statement sometimes made by the druggist when Scott's Emulsion is called for. This shows that the druggists themselves regard of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophos phites of Lime and Soda as the standard, and the purchaser who desires to procure the "standard" because he knows it has been of untold benefit, should not for one instant think of taking the risk of using some untried preparation. The substitution of something said to be "just as good" for a standard preparation twentyfive years on the market, should not be permitted by the intelligent purchaser. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper. 50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

Scott's Emulsion

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

Them, Which Came Very Rearly Ending Disastrously For Elizaselz.

The man who was abroad recently puffed away on a very good cigar that had found the way past the outcome officers at New York and smiller detrospectively.

"A funny thing happened to me while I was in Vienna," he said; "funny and disagreeable, too—deuced disagreeable. You see, I was always recognized as an American and pestered by beggars. A happy thought came to me. I bought some commetic and made up as a native. I found it worked splendidly for a time. "Pretry soon I noticed that a man in dark clothes was observing me very closely. "Fret years of the closely in front of me that I almost stumbled against him. Then he turned abruptly and walked away. Five minutes later as I was looking into a shop window a heavy hand grasped my arm. Almost instantly another heavy hand clutched, my other arm. I looked around hastily. I was in the hands of two stern looking chaps in uniform. Behind them stood the man in dark clothes. I tried to pull away, I tried to protest. It was useless. In five minutes they had swiftly walked me to some sort of a police station and had me facing a wrinkled old fellow with a huge white mustache.

"Of course I caught on to what the trouble was. In my infernal disguise they had taken me for some confounded criminal. I didn't make any more protests. I just let 'em go ahead with their funny work. They went through my pockets and felt me all over and made up a pile of my effects on the deak. There were a few letters and a notebook and a pocket knife and pencil and some money. They looked at the letters suspiciously, and one of them said, 'Englisch,' and then looked back at me with a cunning anear, as much as to say I couldn't fool them with any such simple subterfuges. Well, pretty soon they produced a big pair of manacles, and then I did kick. I talked turkey to them for several seconds—and American eagle too. They listened to me gravely and finally one of them steroed out and and then I did kick. I talked turkey to them for several seconds—and American eagle too. They listened to me gravely and finally one of them stepped out and almost immediately brought in another officer, and he talked to me in what I fancy was very poor Italian. I think he called me Luigi, but I couldn't make out much of anything he said. I answered him in tuent United States, pointing to my letters and repeating 'English' several times. Pretty soon the Italian translator shook his head in disgust. I guess he thought I was shamming. Then they brought in another man, and I soon found out that he could talk a little English. '' 'Sprochen sie Englisch?' I cried.
'' 'Yaw,' he answered, with some hesistation.

tation.
"'Then get me a cake of scap,' I cried,
'and some water and a towel.'
"'Huh!' he said, 'you eat scap—you "Huh!' he said, 'you eas soap—you keel yourselluf."
"No," I said, 'I won's keel myselluf.
Why should I kill myself?
"You anarcheest,' he replied.
"I laughed at that, and after a few mo

DECAPITATION. Life Said to Remain Long After

"The executions in Paris during oent years have revived the old question whether death instantaneously follows upon the severance of the head from the body," says the Massachusette Medical Journal. "Dr. Cinel asserts that decapitation does not immediately affect the brain. He says that the blood which hardly any call upon the circul the cranium. The brain remains intact, nourishing itself with the blood retained head at the moment of separation is ex-hausted, there commences a state, not of death, but of inertia, which lasts up to the moment when the organ, no longer fed, ceases to exist. Dr. Cinel estimates that the brain finds nourishby no movement the horrors of its situ of something said to be "just as good" for a standard preparation twenty-five years on the market, should not be permitted by the intelligent purchaser. and he concludes that the guillotine does not cause instant death. If this be true could any other form of death be more by the pressure of the air.

"When the blood remaining in the head at the moment of separation is exestimates that the brain finds nourishment in the residuary blood for about an hour after decapitation. The period of inertia would last for about two hours, he thinks, and absolute death would not ensue till after the space of three hours altogether.

"If, he adds, a bodiless head indicates by no movement the horrors of its side.