CURED BY ONE SET OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My baby's face was a mass of sores. The doctor called it eczema, but the child grew worse, the disease eating the flesh away from his nose, and spreading to his body. Neighbours said it was the worst case they had ever seen. His suffering was terrible, and he would scratch and thear away the flesh. We then used the Cuticura Remedies, one set curing him completely, and healing his face without scar or blemish.—Wm. Cridland, 35 Winchester St. Penton-ville Rd., N. London, Eng." WEST,

Of Torturing, Raw, and Scaly
Eczems By Cuticura
"My baby was afflicted with a leathsome running eczems on the face. Two doctors treated him for three months, but he grew worse. We then started to use Cuticura, and noticed an improvement at once. In a fortnight the running had ceased, the scabs nearly all

Toe Much Rain in Manitoba. Winnipeg, June 30.—"Too much rain" is generally the opinion of farmers in the greater part of Manitoba and Eastern Assinibola. The weather has been generally coid and unsettled, and the reports of the railway companies, usually so optimistic, betray traces of anxiety in widely scattered districts. In the higher lands of Manitoba and Assinibola wheat is very forward and promising, with every prospect of an extraordinary heavy yield, provided July is hot and fairly dry. Coarse grains and roots are continuing to de excellently, and oats in particular promise a heavy crop. WINNIPEG IN 1904.

Sir John Macdonald Was Burn In Effigy and Now-Initial Inertia Overcame.

The Effigy and Now—initial Inertia Overcame.

Winnipeg is an Indian word which, being interpreted, means "Middy Water." No one who knows Winnipeg will deny the pictorial realism of the pithet "muddy" as applied to either water or land in its vicinity. But the student of place names will discover a deeper significance in the adjective, says The Canadian Magazine. "Muddy" eems to preface the names of many places destined te grow-and multiply. "Muddy York" of the early nine eenth century is Toronto of the twentieth. This may satisfy some that there is a cabalistic reason for Winnipeg's growth. Fut in the year 1863, when "twenty small structures, containing 100 souls, clustered near the old H. B. Co.'s fort, whose gateway alone remains, it would have taken a seer's vision to picture city of 75,000 souls teeming there within 35 years. Hundreds of miles from any American city, more than a housand miles from the nearest Canadian city, without rallway communication with either of these, rebellion and with either of the fertile plains of a woung settlement were experienced. It was caused, if booms can be analyzed, by good times, promise of rallways and the increasing knowledge of the fertile plains on whose periphery Winnipeg stands. In 1878, the town's population was 12,000—the inrush had begun. In 1882, the population was 12,000—the inrush had beg

The boom played havoc with the lo-almost exciting.

The boom played havoc with the local prophets of the early '80's, who fixed the population at 100,000 for 1890. Still, Winnipeg recovered from the boom, and the rest of the tale is written, fascinatingly, in immigration pamphlets, and more indelibly, in the streets of Winnipeg.

Winnipeggers are not looking for scenery—a page of bank clearings or a list of building permits is more grateful to their eyes than a pamphlet on summer resorts. And who shall blame them? Great inventors and writers have remained closeled for weeks and months till they were delivered of the children of their foral. A man realizing a great idea does not go summering at a spa. So a city whose avowed aim is to build itself into the metropolls of a Dominion in thirty years does not waste much consideration on the ornamental.

Winnipeg is a city where one lives on schemes, on ideas, on projects and On the excitement of executing them; it is for the mathematician, the man who loves to work out problems, to speculate on probabilities.

on the excitement of executing them, it is for the mathematician, the man who loves to work out problems, to speculate on probabilities, to digest statisties; it is not for the tired aesthete who is resing on the laurels of his achievement, and seeking to enjoy a rich, colored life. Thus it is that in the sitting rooms of Winnipeg boarding houses groups of young men are seen excitedly discussing great and glorious business schemes—how they are going to monopolize the schoolsupply business in the country districts, how much of the Province they can canvass in their "holdays" for some concern and how they can wedge in here or there. To show how absorbed the people are in "business," I may say that one evening, as I rode in a street car along Main street, I was speaking to a friend about the old days of Fort Garry, when a citizen, who had evidently seen me wave my band actived the province they are considered the people are in "business," I may say that one evening, as I rode in a street car along Main street, I was speaking to a friend about the old days of Fort Garry, when a citizen, who had evidently seen me wave my band active with Louis Drago, Canadian Passenger Agent, 691-2 Yonge St., Toronto. speaking to a friend about the old days of Fort Garry, when a citizen, who had evidently seen me wave my hend over some vacant land, sidled up and hinted that, being an old inhabitant, he could give me any information desired. I thought I might get some tales of rebel days, and put well-calculated questions. His face became suspicious and suddenly he asked right from the shoulder, "Are you a buyer?" Indiscreetly I said I was not, and he shuffled into a corner. His object in life was to sell his land, and to that end only was he an old inhabitant. Of course, his churlishness was not characteristic of the people of Winnipes, who are the kindest and most sociable in the world, but his exalted idea of "business," his projection of it into every hing else, was a mark of the city he lived in.

COSSAR'S MOOSE HEAD, Canadian Swindled In New Game From the Old Land.

James Cossar of Peachland, B. C., has returned to that Province from the old country with a new tate of how they swindle Colonials in "dear old Lunnon." While he was visiting. As Beissize Squitte a young man called and inquired for "Mr. Cossar of Peachland." He said he had sought him for a long time because he had undertaken, at the request of a British Columbia friend of Cossar's, to hand over a moose head and a box of apples. The goods were at Clapham Junction and there were railway charges to the extent of $25. Would Mr. Cossar get the goods and psy him.

Would Mr. Cossar get the goods and psy him.

The tale was so plausibly told that Mr. Cossar ponied up the five V's without first making a visit to Clapham Junction. When he did get there he found, of course, that there was no moose head and not an apple for him. Scotland Yard was consulted and one of the detectives of whom Sherlock Holmes speaks so lightly was put on the track of the swindler. The man was caught and was sentenced to six months with hard labor.

Nature has just one pigment on her pallette with which she produces all the marvellous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the check, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the irridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, heighten the cyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauface and form that radiance of heath which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clegging residuum, which accumulates with constipated habit.
