All For My Love.

FARRINGTON R. WATKINSETT. Launch me a golden arrow, flout me the silver sails; Lead me thy waves, thou dancing sea. Wait me by favoring gales. Go tell the night by stars to light, The moon to stoop and shine, Because by love hath sent for me, Because my love is mine! Full me the mighty cedar tree, Build me a palace fair, Deck it with gold and ivory, Hang it with arras rare, Fling wide the gates that part the sea, And let the larkons play, Because the day has dawned for me, My love is mine for aye! Go bid the nightingales to sing, The pearly fountains play, A melody of love by night, A dream of night by day, Tell ye the world I draw not near, Tell ye the hills and sea, The glory of my life is love, My love hath come to me.

A Talk With Sir Charles Dilke.

HE THINKS THE TORIES WILL REMAIN IN POWER AT LEAST FIVE YEARS. LONDON, Oct. 6.—It is a well-known fact that Prince Bismarck has long considered Sir Charles Dilke the best judge of foreign affairs in England, and this opinion is shared by many of the shrewdest diplomatic judges in England. It is certain that had he been Minister of Foreign Affairs in Mr. Gladstone's last Ministry the scandal which has driven him from public life would have been prevented.

The Premier of Prince Edward Island was interviewed at Montreal the other day by a reporter of the Herald.

He was on his way from Ottawa. "We did our business," said he, "with the members of the Cabinet whom we went to see in a manner quite satisfactory to us." Pressed to explain what this meant, he said there were some things which a member of the Government cannot divulge. He added, however, that the subway scheme was not imaginary nor visionary, and that the soundings of the Strait had proved that it was feasible. The conversation then went on:—"What is the estimated cost of the road at the bottom of the sea?" "There are different estimates. They range between two and five millions."

Arrested 131 Times.

A VETERAN FOURTH WARDER RE-CITES HIS EXPERIENCES IN COURT. Timothy Conolly, a veteran and seedy Fourth warder, was tried yesterday in the General Sessions before Judge Cowling upon the charge of assaulting Rebel Harris, an elderly woman, who earns a living by peddling various small wares in and around Washington Market. That Conolly struck Mrs. Harris, and soundly, took the eye, blackening it, as the outcome of a few words between them, was speedily established by Assistant District Attorney Fitzpatrick. In his own behalf Conolly testified that Mrs. Harris struck him first, and then he struck her in the eye.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Since the Irish Rifles have been ordered to leave Halifax, several men have deserted, the last one being Lance Corporal Sweeney of the band, who is said to have taken £40 worth of instruments with him. He is supposed to have left on Sunday night, but was not missed till Monday morning.

THE WOODOCK SCANDAL.

—The following unique letter was received, says the Winnipeg Commercial, from a farmer by a Winnipeg bank manager in answer to a communication regarding an overdue note:—"Sir: I am unable to meet your note at present, I have not thrashed yet, but expect to next week, and as soon as I can I will pay you. Now, you were constantly writing me last fall for money, will you please out of a favor to me, never in God's presence take any of my paper again after this is paid. I have over $2,000 of paper out and somebody will get left sure."

—On the Spanish army lists there are one thousand three hundred and sixty-two colonels, two thousand and sixty-two captains and three thousand lieutenants, while the entire army only consists of one hundred and twenty thousand men. Each general has, therefore, only two hundred men for an army, and each colonel has only seven men for a regiment. The fact that so many military officers are kept on government pay, with plenty to get and nothing to do, would seem to adequately account for a recent insurrection at Madrid.

—A Raleigh farmer sold a quantity of oats to a neighbor, representing them to be of last year's growth. They were not, and feeding them led to the death of a valuable horse. Action for obtaining money by false pretences was therefore begun against the farmer who had sold the oats, and he settled the matter by paying the price of the horse, $125, and cost of proceedings.

—A graveyard in County Cork has the following notice over its entrance gate:—"Only the dead who live in this parish are buried here."

—A tourist without money is a tramp. A tramp who has money is a tourist.

THE APPLE CROP IN HANT'S COUNTY, N. S.

says the Windsor Tribune, has ever been large. Some of the orchards in the vicinity of Windsor and Falmouth are a picture to look at. Potatoes of the variety varieties in some localities are showing bad signs of rot, but still a fair crop is expected.

—The veterans of the Fenian raid of 1866, of Kingston, Ont., have formed an association and requested Hon. Mr. Kirkpatrick to accompany a delegation to Ottawa to solicit the government to reward them for their services.

—What is the first thing you would do, Jones, if you were stung by a wasp?" asked Smith. "How!" replied Jones, solemnly.
