

May be No O.R.F.U. Series

Toronto, Sept. 24.—"There is not likely to be any O. R. F. U. by the end of the week." So said an officer of the Big Four, who was attending the O. R. F. U. meeting at the King Edward Hotel.

Further than the above remark and that the O. R. F. U. would be taken under the wing of the Inter-provincial Union, nothing else was given out.

What it means is, that the intermediate series of Argos, Tigers and Dundas in the I. P. R. U., and T. A. A. C., Parkdale and Peterborough, in the O. R. F. U., make one group. This would be the best intermediate football Ontario, or Canada, as a matter of fact, could get together, and would be just as interesting as the Big Four senior series. What will be done about it remains to be seen.

HAT FOR EVERY NEED.

Parisian Milliner Invents One That Can be Modified to Suit.

A leading Parisian milliner has just invented a hat which may be adapted for various occasions at will, declares the London Chronicle.

It can be taken to pieces. When its removable brim is packed away under the brow it becomes a close fitting toque suitable for motoring, railway travelling or for walks in rough weather.

If its owner finds herself unexpectedly called to appear in evening dress she has simply to readjust her crown and she is ready for any function demanding the greatest elegance.

TALK RUGBY AMALGAMATION BETWEEN O.R.F.U. AND I.P.R.U.

Meeting Will be Held at the King Edward on Tuesday Night to Decide the Question.

At the request of the Inter-Provincial Rugby Union a meeting of representatives of that body and of the Ontario Rugby Union will be held at the King Edward Hotel on Tuesday night, in an effort to harmonize the existing factions by effecting some sort of an amalgamation for the benefit of the game. It would be a good thing for football if some amicable arrangement could be arrived at.

On account of the wet weather yesterday the Tiger practice was called off, but a few of the back division men were out and indulged in light work.

Down in Montreal they have forgot lacrosse for the moment to harp on football. Here it is:

Montreal Rugby prospects took on a more definite form with the practice this morning. The team will probably be a good deal stronger than was first expected, and should be more formidable than at the close of last season. It looks now as if the back division will be Stinson at full, Duckett, the Westmount player, who is likely to be hailed as one of the finds of the season, at centre, and Ernie Hamilton and Billy Craig on the wing halves. Buzz Baillie will be at quarter.

"Baillie seems sure of places in the back," says one of the players. On the line there will be Koff, Kingston, Molson, J. Baillie, Fraser and A. Cameron among others to draw from. All of these have not been out, but are now counted on if wanted.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Nick Bawf is coming to Ottawa the 27th of this month, and will remain here permanently, having taken a position in the Government. It is therefore safe to assume the famous Nicholas will be seen in the colors of the Ottawa Football Club after all, despite the reports of his indisposition which came from Quebec. Full back is Bawf's natural position, and it is there the Ottawas will work him out if he plays. And with a strong line in front of him there are none who can touch Nick in the kicking and running department of the game. The news of his advent here is good news, and although he may not be in shape for the first game, he will be in prime condition for the battle with Hamilton Tigers on Oct. 9.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—"I don't know who offered him a job," said Mayor Oliver this morning, noting that a young man named Bargett had been promised work at Toronto City Hall in order that the Argos may bring him from Brantford to play football. "I know one fellow that didn't and wouldn't," he added, "and that's me."

Then he called up the departments, but none admitted hiring Bargett.

Must have been one of the aldermen promised him a job," surmised his wife, but he also intimated that he would fight any attempt to import City Hall employees, because of proficiency at football.

The Central Y. M. C. A. junior harriers' football team will practice at Victoria Park on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. As the first game of the league will be played on October 2nd, a full attendance is requested. There are a few good men who have not yet turned out, and if they intend playing, they should be on hand.

The Church League met last evening at J. W. Nelson's, and after quite a bit of discussion, the league was restricted to four teams, as follows: Y. M. C. A., Simcoe, Knox Mission and St. Andrews. The weight average was placed at 133 pounds. This league, no doubt, in time will become a good senior city league, as the last named league is fitter for the other teams higher up. The managers of each team are taking very active parts and no doubt will have a few surprises for their opponents when the schedule starts, which is as follows: Oct. 2nd—Y. M. C. A. at Simcoe. Knox Mission at St. Andrews.

Oct. 9th—Simcoe at Knox. Y. M. C. A. at St. Andrews.

Oct. 16th—Knox at Y. M. C. A. St. Andrews at Simcoe.

Oct. 23rd—St. Andrews at Knox. Simcoe at Y. M. C. A.

Oct. 30th—St. Andrews at Y. M. C. A. Knox at Simcoe.

Nov. 7th—Simcoe at St. Andrews. Y. M. C. A. at Knox.

YALE'S BRIGHT STAR LEADS ELI ELEVEN.

TED COY.

Ted Coy, the Yale back and punter, whose work on the barred field last fall created such a sensation, is this season captain of the Eli eleven, and the keystone around which the 1910 Varsity team will be constructed.

BANGTAILS RAN IN MUD AT THE WOODBINE.

Prince Ahmed Won the Minoru Plate and Ran the Fastest Mile of the Meeting, Though the Track Was Muddy—Four Favorites Won.

RAIN CAME DOWN with a vengeance on the fifth day of the fall races at the Woodbine Park, Toronto, and still four favorites finished in front in the sloppy going.

Joe Rose, Semie, Lucetta and Theo Cook, Bergoo, second choice, beat Pretty Michal in the steeplechase. The selling race and the plate feature went to third choices, El-fall and Prince Ahmed. Owing to the condition of the track, scratches were numerous, only five facing the starter in the Epsom Handicap out of a field of sixteen.

The Minoru mile, $1,500 added, that closed with 35 nominations, had nine on the card, but only five faced the barrier, Bob Co being an added starter. Hanbridge was installed a hot favorite at even money and shorter. Great Heavens showed the way to the stretch, Hanbridge and the Prince racing together and second and third, Old Honesty and the 2-year-old strung out nowhere. Ahmed showed in front rounding the turn, ran wide and stayed on the outer rail, winning in a drive by 1 1/4 lengths, from the favorite, Great Heavens third alone.

Theo Cook, Davenport up, set his own pace in the $1,200 handicap, went around his field and won by a length and a half. Bogger Red, three or four ahead of the long shot, Sasque, the gaunt Smiley Corbet, beat outside the money.

With Canas down at the second jump only two raced for the steeplechase money, Pretty Michal led to the last jump, and then Bergoo won on the flat, going away.

Joe Rose trailed the leaders in the first and then won by an open length. Semie at odds on, annexed the second race for the president, the four strung out at the finish.

El-fall won from a big field in the third by a stretch run. General Marchmont, the favorite, did not like the going. Lucetta, at short odds, galloped in the fourth, Belle Kingston and Eulalia May driving for the place.

In order to live up to the letter of the law, the books were forced to do business under the open umbrellas and there were only about a dozen men told, some cutting in after the first race.

The day was marred by two serious accidents to horses, making it necessary to kill both. In the third race J. H. Mason's 3-year-old b. f. Nasturita, by Sarturium—La Gascon, fell soon after the start, broke his foreleg and was shot in front of the paddock. In the steeplechase G. P. Sherman's 5-year-old b. g. by Compute—Andria, hit the second jump at the club house, breaking his left foreleg and a friendly bullet also put him out of misery.

The card to-day consists of two steeplechases and five flat races. On Saturday the meeting winds up, the features of closing day being the O. J. C. Cup Handicap, 2 1/4 miles, and the three-mile steeplechase. Summary:

Fred. Ions Was Found Guilty.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Fred W. Ions, formerly second defence of the Te-cumseh Lacrosse Club, was found guilty of common assault in the sessions yesterday. He was charged with having assaulted George Kalls, home player for the Toronto Lacrosse Club, in a match played on Aug. 2 at Scarborough Beach.

John White, counsel for the defence, put in a novel plea. He said Ions lost control of himself after having been struck by the ball thrown by Kalls that he did not know what he was doing when he kicked Kalls.

"Are you putting in a defence of insanity?" asked Judge Winchester.

"Well, there is no middle way between sanity and insanity," said the judge. "If you are going to plead insanity, we might help you out and send the defendant to an asylum."

Then everybody smiled. Mr. White decided not to plead insanity.

HARVARD CAPT. HAS GOOD JAW.

CAPT. HAMILTON FISH.

Upon the shoulders of young "Ham" Fish falls the burden of leading this year's Harvard eleven to victory. Last fall Harvard put the kibosh on Yale, to the surprise of the critics, and it is this prestige Capt. Fish has to maintain. One look at the fighting jaw and square shoulders of the young leader, and you quickly forget this "faih Havard" chatter.

October Century.

It is difficult to see how The Century's contribution to the history of Fulton's invention can be improved upon. In the September and October numbers of that magazine are printed a large number of letters by the inventor descriptive of his boats and of the experiments of the Seine and on the Hudson. Moreover the articles are, to a considerable extent, illustrated by Fulton's own drawings, and both text and drawings have for the most part never before appeared. The discovery of the drawings was recently made in a historical society and has been characterized as the most important addition that has been made to the history of the steamboat. The material is included in a

Warner

Mr. Christopher Warner is not so well at the time of writing. Mrs. Allan Lyburner is spending a few days with her daughter. Quite a number from here went to the fruit orchards at Grimsby, and laid in a goodly supply of peaches and plums. Mrs. Farmer Merritt made a trip to Hamilton to see her sister, Mrs. Hill, who is very ill in the hospital. J. Lampman made a business trip to Grimsby.

E. Lyburner is drawing gravel from the lake. Quite a number from here attended J. R. Christie's sale. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer Rogers are visiting the latter's parents here.

Digital Superfluity.

"Turn on the light, Absalom!" Thus, in clear, cutting, metallic accents spoke Mrs. Rambo, leaning over the railing at the top of the stairway. "Thrush what I'm trying to do, Nansy," mumbled Mr. Rambo. "Can't you find the button?" "Yeah, I can find th' button aw ro', Nansy, but I've got so blame many tushes an' fingers I don't know which of 'em to turn it with!"

Great Power Required.

It is reckoned that the sending impulse in a wireless telegraphic station must be 1,100 times as powerful as that for sending through a wire; namely 11 horse power for 120 miles instead of one-hundredth of one horse power. This requires the use of a reinforced starage battery capable of producing alterations of 80,000 cycles a second instead of the ordinary dynamo, whose current alternates 60 times a second. The effect of this rapid alternations is said to compress the etherial waves within manageable length while giving them the speed of light. If they were still shorter they could be perceived by the eye as light; as it is, they can only be collected and read by an instrument similar to that which propagates them. If these waves again were as short as those of light and heat, they could be collected in a convex mirror like that back of the incandescence of a searchlight and driven powerfully in parallel lines to a distant receiver. But the length of the waves is such that it is said the smallest reflector of any possible use for an ordinary wireless station would have to be about 400 feet square. Therefore, the mechanism in its present stage of development can only diffuse its waves in every direction through space, leaving them to be picked up by anybody with a suitable receiver in an attenuation that increases enormously with the distance. That is why the practical range of wireless communication, with most powerful batteries and perfect instruments, is only about 400 miles. — Minneapolis Tribune.

Cleric: Jandor.

A truly eloquent parson had been preaching for over two hours on the immortality of the soul.

"I looked at the mountains," said he, "and could not help thinking, 'Beautiful as you are, you will be destroyed, while my soul will not.' I gazed upon the ocean and cried, 'Mighty as you are, you will eventually dry up, but not I.'"
