

THE FOUR MEN.

The following strange tale, which has been the subject of much conversation in the French, contains the account of a singular occurrence of four individuals, who were taken together in France during the middle and end of the sixteenth century, and was as follows:—

One day, as the sun fell in the west, an old woman, who lived in a manse in the forest of St. Germain, and who passed in the surrounding country for a kind of witch, heard a knocking at her door. She opened it, and a young man on horseback presented himself and craved hospitality. By the light of a lamp which she held in her hand she perceived him to be a young nobleman. He appeared to be quite young, and his dress was of the latest fashion. She opened it, and a young man on horseback presented himself and craved hospitality.
