

Will Do Away With Night!

THOMAS A. EDISON, the famous inventor, recently made a statement that before fifty years more have passed the darkness of night will be completely removed. This will be accomplished, he claims, by the more extensive use of electricity, 90 per cent. of which is now wasted and only 5 per cent. of the power brought into actual action. This is interesting. Here is something of more interest to you. We are not attempting to do away with the night, but we are attempting to do away with high prices as the following will show—

"Waiting for Something to Turn Up."

It would appear from the cable message on the House of Lords question that the bottom has dropped out of the fight put up by the Tory party against the Government Bill. The attitude of the Lords seems to be that of making time with a view of taking advantage of opportunities which it is hoped may offer, and with a vague hope that they may tide things over till a General Election and that the Government may then be defeated and a chance afforded them of carrying out a reform on Landowning lines. Meanwhile, they are waiting for something to turn up in the near future. If their worst fears are realized and nothing turns up, and the Government carry their bill, they have a vague hope that a succeeding Government will face a reversal of the order established, repeal the Vote Act, and proceed with the policy already outlined. Why both parties cannot come together and effect a settlement is difficult to understand. The true inwardness of the tactics of the Peers is in all probability due to the House Rule in Ireland. How the lessons of the success of responsible government can be lost upon the Peers is strange. It is a pity that the Coronation was not availed of as an occasion to settle the National question.

Manuel's Garden Party

The annual garden party at Manuel's takes place on Wednesday, July 12th. Everything has been done to make it successful, and if the day be fine a large measure of patronage will undoubtedly be given to the worthy undertaking as in previous years. It has figured prominently before the public as affording a day of pleasure in the programme of outings and sports of the summer season. Begun under Monsignor Roche and continued by Father O'Flaherty it all the while has manifested its high standard under the present pastor, Fr. Coady. It is a long looked for pleasurable outing by the St. John's public who love to spend a few hours amidst these beautiful surroundings where scenic beauty and pure air allure and fill the senses with charms unrepeatable during the whole year but now especially during the summer season. Manuel's is only 13 miles from St. John's and affords all the lover of nature cares for. It is easy of access owing to special train service, with every accommodation, with everything to please the taste, charm the eye, and delight the heart.
The object of the Garden Party is to raise funds to build and repair churches and schools, and no more insufficient finances can be thought of. The parish is extensive, the people under his care are few and sparsely populate the shore so that many churches and schools have been built to bring education and religion within easy scope of all. Poor in itself, with insufficient finances to afford a living apart from building work, Fr. Coady has to solicit outside help to keep up his many institutions. Thus it can be easily seen how worthy this object is and how it ought to appeal to the generous hearts of all.

Black Painter's Terrible Descent From Top of 250-foot Chimney.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 26.—Two hundred and fifty feet above the ground, suspended by a rope that was burning, and his clothes burning from naphtha and carbon oil, Chris Sinkas, a black painter, 36 years old, made his way down while a crowd of men stood horrified at the Westinghouse electrical plant.

He held a rope in his left hand to regulate his descent, using his right hand in an effort to beat out the flames. He was terribly burned about the right hand and arm, chest and face, and his left hand was raw and bleeding from being torn by the rope as he made the swift descent.
Sinkas was smoking a smoke stick. Before the tar is applied, a mixture of carbon and naphtha is applied to cut off the rust. Sinkas, at the top, lit a cigarette, and tossed away the lit match, which dropped into a bucket of naphtha and oil.

His Curiosity Kills Three Persons.

New Orleans, La., July 4.—Marshall Delaney, an inquisitive negro shop helper, stuck a lighted torch into the fuel oil tank of a locomotive in the yards of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad shortly before daylight this morning to see what would happen. The result was a terrific explosion, in which three persons were killed.
Frank Blaine, an engine driver, and Frank Carroll, a yardman, received injuries which caused their deaths in a few minutes, and Delaney was almost instantly killed. The locomotive was wrecked.

Hamilton Has Another Deep Murder Mystery.

Boy Supposed to Have Suicided Now Believed to Have Been Murdered.

Hamilton, Ont., June 27.—The county police have a mystery to solve which may result in the cleverest of officers of the provincial police being called in.
A week ago Gordon Haggerty, 14 years of age, who was employed as a farm hand by John Thomas, Lowville, ten miles from here, was found dead in the Thomas home. His body was discovered by Thomas, the boy being nude and the arms folded across the chest. Beside him was a box in which it was supposed was strychnine. On the other side was a spoonful of sugar. Not a grain of the sugar was on the floor of the room.
Thomas claimed the boy had "suicided" and stated that all the doors of the house were locked, as were the windows, and that when he returned from his farm he had to force an entrance through the window.

Boston, July 4.—In sight of many people, Anna H. White, 16 years old, of 7 Farrell Street, Chelsea, and Sarah Gordette, 15, who lived in the rear of 34 Lincoln Street, Brighton, were drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing opposite the starting line of the Charles River speedway in Brighton.
The frantic clutch of Miss White dragged Miss Gordette under the water to her death. The two girls, shrieking and struggling to reach shallow water, nearly pulled down with them Mary Doyle, 16 years old, of Kelly Court, Brighton. Miss Doyle escaped from their grasp and managed to swim till she could be reached by some of the score or more boys and girls bathing nearby.
