At Old Perlican and Grate's Cove.

REJOICING AT SIR ROBERT'S DEFEAT.

Special to Evening Telegram.

OLD PERLICAN, Yesterday. The P.P.U. held a meeting last night on the arrival of President Coaker from Grate's Cove at 9. A large number attended and important business was considered. The union's activity in buying fish and berries and the supplying of coal by the steamer Kintail at nearly two dollars a ton less than local price, and the news of the coalition between Liberal and Union forces, five sought after the ranks last night. The march of the Union will sweep everything before it in this district and there will be a change of over fifty voters here this election from Grabbalism to the Liberal-Union forces. Our Advocates' postcard last Saturday have not yet arrived. We ask the Postmaster General to give us fair play and to see that the Advocates are sent us regularly when posted. All over this district the cry is where is our Advocate. Mr. Hickman passed through with the President and received a grand welcome. He was at Grate's Cove last night. The President held a meeting there last night before coming here. Musketry and cheering was kept up during the stay of the President at Grate's Cove. Bonfires and musketry welcomed our visitor on arrival last night here. The women are all Coakerites as the Union has raised berries from 20c. to 30c. per gallon. The whole district rejoices over the decision of Sir Robert Bond to lead the United Opposition forces and the return of Liberal Union candidates is absolutely sure. Mr. Coaker's estimate of 200 majority is none too high. Mr. Barrett also accompanied the President to Grate's Cove and spoke at the crowded Union meeting. The President has just left for Bay de Verde and hopes to be at St. John's to-night. We intend to swim with Coaker. Can't lose is the slogan in this district.

Harbor Breton Jubilant.

Special to Evening Telegram.

HARBOR BRETON, To-day. The populace of Mr. Breton and vicinity is jubilant over Sir Robert Bond's decision to re-enter politics to save the honor, autonomy and integrity of our island home for our children and children's children, as he did before on the memorable black Monday of '94, when no sane person will deny he saved the Colony from disaster, due to flagrant incapacity and misrule of the then Tory administration. Practically every citizen with the exception of Government heeled who really seem paralyzed at the direful announcement of the Liberal-Unionist coalition and consequent sweeping political change, is joyous over the prospect of averting through Sir Robert Bond the otherwise impending disaster to the finances of the Colony; that he will retrieve the destinies of our partially derelict Terra Nova, in sweeping the country and restoring that integrity is the sincere conviction and prayer of the electors of this District. Pro Patria.

Fogo Delighted at Sir Robert's Reply.

Special to Evening Telegram.

FOGO, To-day. Sir Robert Bond's reply to the Fishermen's Union, unites all parties and renders opposition by the Government to our forces in this District, futile. The hoodlums and grafters must go. Coaker will administer to graballism a knock-out blow in November. His friends are delighted by his action in securing the aid services of Sir Robert Bond as Leader of the Liberal and Union forces.

FOGO LOCAL COUNCIL, F.P.U.

Mr. Coaker's Visit to Bay de Verde District!

The Co-operation of Liberal and Union Forces is Immensely Popular Throughout the District.

President Coaker left town on Monday evening to visit Bay de Verde Council of the F.P.U. He was accompanied by Mr. A. E. Hickman, the principal partner in the fish buying firm of Smith & Co. They arrived at Freshwater on Monday night after having made stops at Clarke's Beach, and Bay Roberts. Tuesday morning they visited Flat Rock and called upon several friends and having arranged business with the Council passed on down the District stopping at Broad Cove, Western Bay, Northern Bay, Ochre Pit Cove, Burnt Point, Lower Island Cove, Job's Cove, Caplin Cove. Meetings were held at Grate's Cove and Old Perlican on Tuesday night and Bay de Verde yesterday morning. Returning yesterday stops were made at all the above places and reports of meetings held the previous night, and at each place crowds gathered to give the visitors a hearty welcome. The District was decorated with bunting and Union notices. At one settlement a large motto placed along the road contained the following significant words: "Patsy Eats Crow" and immediately underneath a large crowd was attached which had been killed that day for the purpose. The people fired volleys of musketry and the cheering of men and women showed the desire the flying visit of these two friends of the toilers gave them. The meetings held were attended by every man present in these settlements belonging to the Union. At Bay de Verde a crowded hall gathered at 10 a.m.

is confident that the Opposition forces will return their candidates by at least 200 majority. A great change in public opinion has taken place since 1908, at Freshwater, Broad Cove, Western Bay, Northern Bay, Grate's Cove, Old Perlican and Bay de Verde. The candidates for the Opposition forces will be announced shortly. Grate's Cove was left yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and the visitors arrived at Carbonear at 8 p.m., having stopped at every place and

McGrath's Vapourings

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Editor.—McGrath seems to be barking up the wrong tree when he attacks the respected proprietor of The Evening Telegram. Mr. Herder made a success of his paper through hard work, sheer honesty and the expenditure of much energy. McGrath can't say the same. His record is open for all to see. He has been a plagiarist, a literary bunco stealer and I need say no more, the author of the Chicago Record letter. How could W. J. Herder be in the same class with him? Did he make a success of the Chronicle? Will he make a success of the Herald? Looks a kind of dubious. Go on, Mr. Herder, and Dr. Lloyd, vindicate the cause of the people. The McGrath influence is at vanishing point now, and the party you support, the good coalition party—Bond and Coaker—will have such a splendid victory in November that graballism will never rear its ugly head again in Terra Nova.

Yours truly,
VINDICATOR.

Minimise The Loss.

Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss, due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.

Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate, and our terms are accommodating.

Yesterday at 2 p.m. the Old Favorites and their friends went out to Bay Bulls by special train. A large number accompanied them and all spent a very pleasant afternoon. Early this morning the return was made to town. The committee in charge deserve every credit for the admirable manner in which they handled matters.

Undenominational Schools

NOT AN ELECTION ISSUE.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Can you tell me why the Catholic people of this town do not rise up and put an end to the disgusting, nauseating and ludicrous campaign on the school question for which McGrath is mainly responsible. It is true it was started in the columns of the News, but that paper evidently regretting its ill-advised action quickly dropped it. It is now left for McGrath to pose as the champion (save the mark) of Catholic rights. I, for one, very strongly resent this question being dragged into party politics. I am a Catholic, and I want my children educated in Catholic schools by Catholic teachers, in effect, I want the Catholic atmosphere. What does this self-constituted champion of Catholic schools mean by dragging the question into politics? What good can be done to Catholic schools? Does he want to make them what he terms godless? (I trust the other denominations will show McGrath their detestation of him and his use of this word as applied to secular schools.)

There is no school question in this country. The school system is not an issue at the forthcoming elections. I may not have much respect for the Hon. Donald Morris's knowledge of timber law, but I have always looked on him as a sincere temperance man and equally sincere in his advocacy of non-denominational schools. I recognize that many men in this country are sincere in their convictions on this question. But evidently the Hon. Donald Morris does not believe it is an issue in the elections, because he issued a false report of Mr. Coaker's speech at Change Islands and some editorial comment next day no further reference has been made to the question in the Daily News, a paper principally owned by Mr. Morris and commonly regarded as his personal organ. If more evidence to that effect is needed we have the positive statement of the Plaindealer, a recognised Tory newspaper, that the school question is not an issue at the elections. That paper very properly stigmatizes McGrath as one who stands for all that is base and mean and low in the public life of this Colony. No one will deny the truth of that assertion. This same McGrath, who posing as the defender of our schools, is held in contempt by the greater number of his co-religionists. Even his cronies, Morris and Cashin despise, while they use his versatile but unscrupulous abilities for his and their own profit.

As one Catholic to another, Mr. Editor, I want to ask Sir Edward Morris, why he permits this campaign of slander to be carried on. It can do him no good politically. McGrath is now played out; no one takes him seriously; no one really believes on McGrath's word that our schools are in danger. Does McGrath, does Morris want to make it a live issue? Or are they prepared to sacrifice the school system if they can fool a few people into believing Sir Robert Bond intends to destroy the present school system? We know these men would do so at once. It is time for Morris to realize that his waning popularity is greatly due to this man McGrath and one of the chief contributing causes of his defeat will be McGrath's present brazen attempt to 'cod' the Catholics on the school question.

CATHOLIC LAYMAN.
City, Sept. 3rd, 1913.

Young Men's Society.

Social Gathering at King George the Fifth Institute.

At the invitation of the Superintendent, Mr. W. H. Jones, 180 young men of the city assembled in the Grenfell Hall on Monday night, Sept. 1st, for a social gathering. A capital programme was rendered, the following taking part: Piano, Messrs. Steele and Noseworthy; Vocalists, Messrs. H. Baird, J. Spooner, S. Green, Ingram, Spanton, Mackintosh and Everett; Recitations were given by Messrs. S. Harvey, Watson and Rev. Mr. Thomas. At the interval, Mr. Jones, after welcoming those present, explained that Dr. Grenfell and the donors of the building were most anxious that the Institute should become a real benefit to the men of the city and the colony. It is hoped that they will avail themselves of the many advantages that it affords. It is proposed to form a union for young men, which may possibly be affiliated with kindred associations abroad. The union to be devoted to social and educational matters. Classes are to be arranged, a reading circle, and musical sections are already in course of formation. Sport and recreation generally are to be encouraged by competition, etc. The idea was well received and 65 names were given in as prospective members. A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. I. C. Morris to the Chairman and those who had contributed to the success of the evening, and the National Anthem brought to a close a delightful time. The second meeting was fixed for Monday next, at 8 p.m.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GART IN OWNS.

McGrath's Falsehoods and Misrepresentations

The Evening Herald, yesterday, was teeming with the usual misrepresentation and falsehood. It ranged from misrepresentation of Sir Robert Bond's attitude on the school question to falsehoods about President Coaker and the Fishermen's Protective Union.

For nearly twenty years Sir Robert Bond was head of the educational system and maintained denominational education and he may be trusted to follow out the policy he has so long sustained. Undoubtedly, the electors will take no chances and will ensure their wishes being carried out by putting into power a party led by Sir Robert Bond and ably supported by Mr. Kent. They have had enough of Morris and they are determined to support Sir Robert in such numbers that he cannot lose. As to Mr. Coaker and his Union they can be trusted to deal effectively with McGrath and his falsehoods. They were so indignant with McGrath in the outposts last year that they burned him in effigy in the pond at Bonaville. They have given Mr. Coaker full and ample authority to make arrangements with Sir Robert Bond and they are fully satisfied with what Mr. Coaker has done. Every device was tried by the Morris gang to prevent the co-operation of Liberal and Union forces, but every effort they made failed, and last Saturday the Leadership of Sir Robert Bond was announced to the intense dismay of the Morris-Morison combine. Every devilish ingenuity was used to foment dissension between Sir Robert Bond and Mr. Lloyd, but every attempt failed. The co-operation we have worked for was consummated to the intense satisfaction of the people at large. Now Morris and his minions are trying to sow dissension between the F.P.U. and their President, but these attempts will be no more successful than efforts in the past have proved. McGrath was going to smash the Union and set a week apart to do it and succeeded in winning detestation for himself and in strengthening the bonds which unite the Union to Mr. Coaker. Now the leadership of Sir Robert Bond for the Liberal and Union forces has been secured, the enthusiasm among Union and non-Union men is unbounded and we venture to predict it will continue to grow and will burst out into a flame of enthusiasm when Sir Robert issues his Manifesto to which will reduce the Morris-Morison combine to ashes, which will be scattered to the four winds of the heavens on rolling day.
