Hon. Edward Blake on Home Rule.
Loxdon, Nov. 15.—Last evening Hon.
E. Blake was present at the banquet of the Anchor Society of Bristol, and responded to the toast of the "Government and the Liberal Policy." Mr. Blake said his life, excepting when wrong had been done to Ireland, was in sympathy with the Liberal party. In public and private, no matter what trade measures he advocated, his first object had been to achieve a solution of the Irish question. Any alliance between Ireland and England must be cordial, and that must be emphasized by attention to the legitimate aims of the Irish party. England's differences with the United States had largely been the result of the Irish question, and the same might be said of Canada. It would not do, Mr. Blake went on, to have no regard for the monstrous absurdity of having a country's local laws interpreted by another community. The minority in the respect of schools should be efficiently protected. He spoke as a Protestant withsprofound respect for the rights of minorities.

On Trial for Wife Murder. LONDON, Nov. 16. — George Barker Cooper is on trial at Douglas, Isle of Man, for the murder of his wife, Edith Anne for the murder of his wife, Edith Anne Cooper. A great sensation was caused in the Isle of Man in the early part of September by the rumor that a man named Cooper was suspected of murdering his wife at the Regent Hotel. It was subsequently ascertained that George Barker Cooper, who resides at Strettlord, is a member of the firm of I. J. and G. Cooper, of Church street, Manchester, was staying at the Regent Hotel, and that the dead body of his wife was lying on the floor of the bedroom which the couple occupied. The case is proceeding.

Scorching a Judge.

LONDON, Nov. 16 .- In an action for libel brought by the proprietor of a saloon against the Chronicle and tried before Lord against the Chronicle and tried before Lord Coleridge a verdict for £400 was given against that paper. It appeared that the authorities had refused to grant a license for the saloon, and in commenting on this fact the Chronicle called the place a brothel. The Chronicle boldly criticises the result of the trial in a leading article, and scorches Lord Chief Justice Coleridge for his conduct in the case. It is thought that the surprisingly free comments will more than likely get the Chronicle in further trouble for contempt of court.

P. Helmbold.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 16.—The news from London that Frederick Evans, alias the Duke of Teck, was yesterday sentenced to one year's imprisonment for intent to defraud will interest many people in this country. The real name of the swindler is Masson P. Helmbold, second son of Dr. H. T. Helmbold, of "buchu" fame.

Evans, or Helmbold, has served time in New York State Prison for forgery, and at Vienna for a like offense. He with his two brothers, were educated at Paris, and has spent most of his time in Europe. He was liberally supplied with money by his father, but when reverses came and the latter was unable to meet the son's extravagant demands, young Helmbold took to swindling. He has written poems and books of travel, his three published volumes of peetry showing some merit.

A gentleman who knows him said to-day in reference to a report made at London that Helmbold is insane: "There is no insanity about him. He is a rascal." His father, who was once a millionaire, is now in an insane asylum at Trenton, poor and almost forgotten, his immense fortune having been dissipated. The young man's mother resides at Long Branch, and his two brothers, who are described as being altogether different in character from this "black sheep" of the family, are prosperous business men.

Great Loss of Life.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 16.—Oriental advices, dated Hong Kong, Oct. 16, and Yokohama, Oct. 29, say that the Yellow river has broken loose again, inundating the districts of Chiang Chin, Chi Tung, Ching Chen, Chang Ghan, Chow Ping, Poa Shing and possibly others, embracing a large area. The devastation and loss of life is terrible, I tin said that half of the normal to have perished.

May Lose the Subsidy. May Lose the Subsidy.

Maylington, Nov. 16.—The two crack ocean steamers, City of Paris and City of New York, will not take out American registry and hoist the United States flag. The last Congress passed a law admitting these ships to American registry, as the Inman Line desired to secure the benefit of the Steamship Subsidy Act. But the recent election leads the Inman Line to believe that the new Democratic Congress will repeal the Subsidy Act. President Griscome has accordingly sent word here that no further steps will be taken toward enrolling the City of New York and City of Paris as American ships.

A WOMAN ELECTED ATTORNEY-GENERAL.
HEEBNA, Mont., Nov. 15.—Montana has elected a woman attorney-general—a young woman, and a pretty one at that. The Populists did it, and there is little doubt Miss Elia L. Knowles, who has been elected to effice, will make an excellent attorney-general. She is full of brains, dauntloss, self-confident and plucky. She had two contestants against her—Haskell, Reney-general. She is tall of the contestants against her—Haskell, Republican, and Day, Democrat. She leads them both by 300 votes. Miss Knowles was born 28 years ago in Northwood, N. She is a graduate of Bates' College at Lewiston, Me., and has taken the degree of master of arts from that institution. In December, 1850, she was admitted to the bar, and now she has a practice of which many men would be proud, to say nothing of her prospects politically. She is of medium height, neither thin nor stout, has a face which, while strong and firm, is also pretty. She believes in her right to practice law and to be paid for her legal services, and she believes in her right to practice law and to be paid for her legal services, and she believes in her right to practice law and to be paid for her legal services, and she believes in her right to be attorney-general of Montana if she could get enough votes. The People's party liked her spirit, and when it came to make up a ticket last July it gave her the nomination. She conducted a spirited campaign and all the credit of her victory belongs to herself.

CROOKED WORK IN BUFFALO.

BUFFALO, Nov. 15.—There was a great sensation in the Supreme Court this merning. In the fourth district of the eleventh ward, where it had been charged and denied that the official returns had defrauded Henry P. Emerson, Republican candidate for superintendent of education, and Geo. T. Quinby, Republican candidate for district attorney, out of over half a hundred votes, the ballot box was found this morning with the original votes within it under lock and key reposing in the City Hall vaults beneath the city clerk's office. The ignorant inspectors had misunderstood the law and burned only the rejected and unvoted ballots, but had preserved the voted ones within the ballot box when they brought it to the city clerk's office, and they were counted in the court room, and they gave back to Emerson and Quinby the votes they were robbed of, and will result in seating them in the offices to which they were elected.

Council Special Meetings.

To the Editor of the Adventibers.

I have been very much interested in your discussion of the special meeting question. I have failed, however, to notice any reference to section 282 of the Municipal Act, 1892, in which these words occur, "and the powers of the council shall be exercised by bylaw, when not otherwise authorized or provided for," Now in section 236 of the said act, as no other way is provided for, does it not follow that this power of calling a special meeting must be by bylaw and if no bylaw has been passed by the council, then does it not follow that no "legal special meeting has been held, and if the special meeting have not been called legally, then, as a matter of course, any business transacted at such special meetings must be illegal? Would you kindly give us your opinion of this view of the question? Yours, F. J. Crato, clerk.

London West and the Street Railway. To the Editor of the Advertiser:

In view of London West amalgamating with the city, I, as a resident of proposed ward 7, consider it necessary that our suburb be included in the district to be traversed with an electric street car service. The propositions at present merely to extend Dundas street west as far as Ridout street is absurd. The proposition to extend the railway into London West only needs looking into to show that it would pay well. In view of amalgamation (which cannot be much longer delayed) let the Council see that provision is made for an extension into London West.

The case of James McDonald, of the Queen's Hotel, charged with breach of the Liquor License Act, was further enlarged for a week. During Mr. McDonald's absence from the city Andrew K. Thompson managed his business. On Sunday, Nov. 6, Mr. Thompson was given liquor in the bar by the bartender, and License Inspector Henderson met him coming out of the barroom. The defence was that Mr. Thompson. Henderson met him coming out of the bar-room. The defence was that Mr. Thomp-son, having been manager and a boarder at the hotel, was entitled to liquor if he wished it. Mr. McKillep, for the prosecu-tion, argued that according to law he was not. The magistrate reserved judgment on this point.
