LADY MOSLEY, daughter of the late Marquis Curzon, will undoubtedly stand as Socialist candidate for parliament from Stoke-on-Trent in the next election, which is providing a sensational bit for discussion at the tables of England's aristocracy.

SHE'S A SOCIALIST AND PROUD OF IT

Lady Mosley Endorsed by the Miners of Stoke-on-Trent Riding.

Stoke-on-Trent, England, Sept. 22.—Lady Cynthia Mosley is proud to have been asked to run for the parliamentary seat in this constituency in the next election, which is providing a sensational bit for discussion at the tables of England's aristocracy. Lord Curzon was proud of his blue blood, and his credit was unimpaired by his socialist views. But Lady Cynthia has always been noted for her independence of thought.

Celebration of the sacrament of Holy Communion prefaced the business session of the conference. Officiating in the service of worship and communion were Rev. H. B. Storey, Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., and Mr. Thomson members of the conference convening committee appointed by the general council. Assisting them were Dr. Chown and Rev. Major J. Bruce Hunter, B.D., M.C., pastor of the conference church.

"The whole function of the church," declared Dr. Chown, speaking on the subject of "Holiness," "is to restore man to the image of God. As a United church we have reason to expect that God will do wonders amongst us, for through him we have healed divisions, we have obeyed his divine will and we have sought to answer Christ's prayer that all may be one, and if we sanctify ourselves God will do wonders amongst us today and tomorrow and in the years to come."

Dr. Pidgeon, who, upon being introduced by Dr. Chown, was tendered a warm welcome by the conference, spoke briefly, since he will spend at greater length later during the conference.

"It is doubtful if we ever had a conference with greater hope for the future than the Maritime conference from which I have just come," observed Dr. Pidgeon, "and I am sure, from the earnest manner in which you have begun your work, that the London conference will do its full share in the great work that lies before the United Church of Canada at home and abroad."

Rolls Presented.
Presentation of the rolls of the Presbyteries was proceeded with as follows: Middlesex, Dr. McIntosh, chairman, 200 delegates; us in all cases equally divided as between clergymen, active and retired, and laymen; Oxford, Rev. V. T. Mooney, 50 delegates; Elgin, Rev. R. Hicks, 60 delegates; Kent, Rev. A. E. Jones, 60 delegates; Essex, Rev. W. A. Walden, 62 delegates; Lambton, Rev. J. C. Morris, 50 delegates; Huron, Rev. G. W. Telford, 60 delegates; Perth, Rev. W. L. Hiles, 50 delegates, 48 delegates.

A committee, consisting of Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., Rev. N. A. Campbell, D.D., and Rev. G. N. Hazen, D.D., was named to look over the rolls.

ESSEX LIBERALS ARE CONFIDENT

Expect to Send Three Members to Ottawa in Coming Election.

Special to The Advertiser.
by a Staff Reporter.
Windsor, Sept. 22.—The candidates are all lined up in the Essex county ridings for the general election. In each of the three constituencies there will be a straight party fight between the Liberals and the Conservatives and there isn't the slightest indication that any third candidates will enter the field. The Liberals are counting upon winning all three Essex seats.

There are also thousands of voters now living in Essex county who are not residents during the last general election, and this unknown element adds to the uncertainty and incidentally to the excitement of the campaign.

It is the unanimous opinion that the hardest fight will be in West Essex, which includes the city of Windsor. Edward Blake Winter, a former mayor and a well-known man, is the Liberal candidate, replacing A. F. Healy, who sat for a portion of the last parliament but who retired from this contest for personal reasons.

His opponent is Col. S. C. Robinson, Conservative, who was defeated by Mr. Healy in the by-election.

CHATHAM GIRL GETS SEVEN YEARS

Edna Grace Brown Confessed to Charge of Manslaughter
After Infant's Death.

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Sept. 22.—Mr. Justice McWatt presiding over the Supreme Court sittings here today, sentenced Edna Grace Brown aged nineteen, to the Portsmouth penitentiary for seven years on a charge of manslaughter to which she pleaded guilty. James Rutherford also pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter and was released on suspended sentence. The court ordered that he be prohibited from driving a motor car for five years.

Following the finding of the body of the year-old child of the girl under a culvert on a road near Ridgeway early in April, the girl was charged with strangling the child. At first she claimed that a man whom she did not know but from whom she had accepted a ride, killed the child. Subsequently, however, she admitted that she was responsible for the child's death and of placing the body where it was found.

NIAGARA FRUIT BELT CLOSELY ESCAPES FROST

St. Catharines, Sept. 22.—While it is chilly in the fruit belt this morning there was no frost last night, the lowest temperature being 42. The cool spell has its advantages. Sunday's storm blew down tons of peaches, some of which will be placed on the market, and the cool weather will help to keep the windfalls from rotting before they can be canned.

Attorney-General Nickle Orders
Investigation Into Alleged Attempt at Border.

Special to The Advertiser.
Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Sept. 22.—The report from Windsor of an alleged attempt to bribe District Inspector Loughheed, with the object of securing protection for a liquor ring, is being investigated by the attorney-general's department. It is understood that the district inspector has made a report to the provincial police department, but his nature has not been disclosed, and no warrants for arrest have been issued, according to information at Queen's park.

Attorney-General Nickle, who just returned this morning after his holidays, had nothing to say in regard to the matter, except that he was looking into it.

MARAUDING WOLF BITES DUST WHEN 150 HUNTERS HIT TRAIL

The End of the Chase

Special to The Advertiser.
by a Staff Reporter.
St. Thomas, Sept. 22.—The lone marauder wolf which has terrorized the Port Talbot district for over a month, was killed on the town line between Danwich and Southwold at 11:15 this morning by a posse of 150 hunters, under the leadership of Sheriff Harding.

The wolf measured six feet long with a massive head and characteristic wolf fangs. He weighed over 200 pounds. He was black in color, with an undercoat of gray. The animal was finally cornered on a bit of slash on the William House farm, 1 1/2 miles east of Port Talbot.

The lone marauder had pilaged many stock farms on the Scotch and Lake roads, taking a toll of at least 20 suckling pigs, 12 sheep, several calves, a number of geese, besides injuring much larger stock, such as cows and steers while in pasture.

150 Hunters Arrive.
This morning at 11:15 the wolf was heard howling on the House farm and a general alarm was broadcasted. At 10:30, 50 gyps were congregated at House's corner, carrying 150 hunters, armed with long-range rifles and shotguns. Several farmers carried pitchforks.

Sheriff Harding and Messrs. McLennan, Price, Campbell, Burton, Leithbridge, Ferguson and other hunters organized the men into groups of 15 to 20, and distributed them on the outskirts of a triangle bounded by the Fingal road on the west, from Burwell's park to Port Talbot, on the north by the Lake road, and on the south by Lake Erie.

Whether the minutes of the inaugural conference should be accepted by the presbytery, caused some discussion. Some thought it would be a recognition of the legality of the union, which they protested. It was finally decided to leave the minutes in the vestry of the church, and not to accept them.

Rev. E. S. Okell of Chalmers church was chosen chairman of the committee to look over the minutes of the conference.

University Is Aid to Business

The university helps business. This statement was made on the steps of the university college of arts building this morning by a student who was watching the cars roll up the grade toward the buildings.

"I have noticed that a lot of students who have been walking up this road to lectures have driven up this morning each at the wheel of his own car," he said, adding that they were not all new cars or expensive cars, but that they were really good transportation and helped business.

Wolf's Presence Baffles Science

Lone Marauder of Elgin May Have Been Lost on Way to Zoo.

Science is unable to provide an explanation for the presence in Elgin county of the lone timber wolf, which was shot by a search party this morning after playing havoc in that part of the county for the past week. Prof. John Dearness of the Normal school, speaking about the presence of the animal in this part of the country, could not advance any theory for its appearance. Mr. Dearness believed that if the animal had been shot in the part of the country way from up in the Algoma and Nipissing districts where wolves abound it would have done more damage on its wanderings around the country before it reached there, and that it would have been discovered before it came as far as Elgin.

One theory is that a trapper or some other person may have captured the animal, intent on taking it to a zoological garden, and in the transporting of the wolf, it escaped.
