Marked Improvement in Many Departments-Victoria's Industrial Exhibits-Prize Winners.

grand parade of cattle. The Pemberton estate made a magnificent showing, particularly in Durhams. There was a marked ticularly in Durhams. There was a marked improvement in sheep and swine this year. J. T. Wilkinson's Southdowns took all the Wilkinson 2. prizes in that class. There was also a notable increase this year in the number of entries in the poultry exhibit. Field produce was more favorably commented on for duce was more favorably commented on for all of the control of the quality than quantity. The same may be and last time.

tion of any exhibit in the building. Early during the fair a portion of the exhibit came to grief owing to the pyramid of bottles being piled too high, but there was enough of the exhibit left to make it the property of the exhibit left to make it the second of the exhibit left to make it the property of the exhibit left to make tles being piled too high, but there was enough of the exhibit left to make it the Suffolks—Boar 2 ye enough of the exhibit left to make it the observed of all exhibits. Scarcely less attractive was the fine showing of Messrs. M. R. Smith & Co. As the superior quality of the goods are too well known to need special remark here, the artistic display need only be mentioned and this was satisfactory in every sense. The Albion Iron Works also made a very good showing, far better than last year, when the quantity of goods rather detracted from the artistic effect. Visitors to the great fair, especially the than last year, when the quantity of goods rather detracted from the artistic effect.

Visitors to the great fair, especially the ladies, are particular grateful to Mrs. Mc-Tavish for her large and magnificent assortment of flowers. It added to the beauty and Eldridge, Vancouver, for the best process of the second s sortment of flowers. It added to the beauty sortment of flowers. It added to the beauty of the general display enormously, and as will be seen by the prize list, the judges were not niggardly in showing their appreciation of the best collection of flowers ever exhibited in Westminster by one exhibitor. The arts was fully up to last year, and here again Victoria ladies were fortunate. The statement has been continually made by visitors at the exhibition that the made by visitors at the exhibition that the Victoria exhibitors deserve great credit for assuming the care and worry of sending over to the Royal City such a numerous and representation.

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 9.—(Special)—One of the features of the show yesterday was the quality than quantity. The same may be said of roots. The fruit exhibit was much admired and was fully up to other years. The Experimental farm made a splendid showing. It was expected that there would be a large display of dairy produce, but it was under the mark which had been anticipated.

The industrial exhibits were particularly attractive though few in number. The directors of the fair realize that if it were not for the Victoria exhibits in this line the ground floor of the building would be rather indifferently filled. Messrs. Okell & G. Bamford.
