London, Dec. 4.—The most important theatrical event of the coming week will be the first presentation on Monday at the Duke of York's theatre of the comedy "The Happy life" by Louis N. Parker, author of "A Vagabond King," which has had a run. The Christmas season as usual is to be devoted mainly to children in the London theatres, and standard plays are sidetracked for many stages to make way for famous Christmas pantonimes.

The preliminary inquiry into the "Esterhazy affair" will be made by a custom, with a view to determining whether the charges warrant a court will consume three weeks and people are now eagerly discussing whether the court martial, if ordered, will be secret private, but there is great public opposition to the court martial taking place in private; and French officials are also believed to be in fear of a repetition of the unpopular phases of the Dreyfus
