COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Copenhagen is used differently from ordinary chewing tobacco.

Take a small pinch, for a start, and put it between the lower lip and gum, in the centre.

Afterwards you can increase the size of the pinch to suit the strength of the chew you desire. Copenhagen is strong, because the tobacco of which it is made is cut into fine grains, which makes it impart its strength thoroughly and quickly.

Hence, a little "pinch" goes a long way, showing that Copenhagen is not only an unusually economical chew, but also one of the finest quality, being made of the best old, rich, high-flavored tobacco.

They Weren't Neighbors.

He was old and angular, but strong and upstanding, with the look of the farm on his unsophisticated face. In his old and none too clean blue jumper and jeans he gazed out upon the boulevard, with his shining ears and daintily clad ladies. Confidence in all the world shown in his innocent old eyes.

"Say, Mister, I'd like a ride, please," he called to the driver of a new seven-passenger car at the corner of Thirty-fourth and Main streets.

But the seven-passenger ignored his plea. Car after car did the same, and the old man turned puzzle eyes to the others standing near and remarked in neighborly fashion: "Out our way we ain't so proud as to refuse a ride to anybody."

NEW MILLS.

Ganner George J. LaPointe who had seen much of the war in France, Belgium and Germany returned to Duluth, Minn., last week. While in New Mills he was the guest of his brother Sgt. Clement LaPointe, recently discharged.

On Saturday evening a great number of the hero's friends went to the home of his brother and father, among them being: Pte. Edward Olsen,

Pte. D. McEwen, Pte. Angus LaPointe and Sgt. C. LaPointe, brothers of the hero. During the evening dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Flora LaPointe, assisted by Miss Georgia LaPointe and Dolor Jonas. An interesting event was the presenting to the brave soldier by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Flora LaPointe of a fountain pen, his brother Pte. August LaPointe and Arthur LaPointe of gold cuff links and tie and Miss Stella Mercier of a tie. The address was read by Mrs. Flora LaPointe.

Mr. Frank LaPointe is the proud father of four war veterans: Sgt. Clement and Pte. Angus LaPointe enlisted at the outbreak of the war, George LaPointe came to Campbellton from Duluth, Minn., to offer his service in 1916 and Thomas the fourth to enlist was rejected three times physically unfit and was accepted the fourth time and he is now on duty overseas. All volunteers.

HOPETOWN, QUE.
As this little place has been in the background for some time, we wish to record a few items worth while.

Another of our brave boys has returned from overseas, in the person of Pte. Billy Major, who is receiving a hearty welcome from his many friends. Pte. Major was several times wounded and was decorated.

Rev. J. A. McCurdy very acceptably occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, June 1st. Congratulations to Mr. John Powders, who has played a new fance around the Presbyterian Cemetery, something which was very badly needed.

We note Mr. Henry Major has purchased a new Ford car, the first to own a car in this village.

Mr. Reid, member for Mackenzie. "I think the eight-hour day is coming, but speeding will not work on the farm. The horses can work steadily, but they must not be hurried. Under present conditions and prices I find that I have to have a ten-hour day on my farm, starting at 7 o'clock, and ending at 7 o'clock, with two hours' interval at noon for the horses to rest and eat."

"Would the application of power, the use of tractors and the shift system, to the farm make a difference?" he was asked. "How many farmers could stand the capital outlay needed for the equipment and the waste while learning new tricks of organization and management?" was the question with which he replied.

"We must go back to peace trade on a wartime scale," says the Canadian Trade Commission, "if the huge war debt is to be paid."

WHEN TO CUT GRASS AND CLOVER FOR HAY

(Experimental Farms Note.)

It is regrettable that it is a too general practice among farmers in Canada to leave the hay crops to be cut much too long. There are, as a matter of fact, a large number of farmers who delay the cutting of the hay crop far beyond the time when it would pay them the most to cut. In many cases the reason for the delay is that it is a general belief that a somewhat increased tonnage may be secured if cutting is postponed, and in other cases the late cutting is practiced because it is even believed that a better quality of hay may be obtained than if the cutting were done earlier.

In the case of Eastern Canada, where mixed clover and timothy, or timothy alone, are the fundamental hay plants, a few suggestions based on experience may be found not to be out of order.

Timothy and red clover are the standard hay plants which universally are grown together. The clover is contributing the bulk of hay crop the year after seeding and the timothy is finishing the bulk of the hay the following year or years. Supposing that a farmer has a field of mixed clover and timothy, what would be the best time for him to cut it for hay? The clover develops early and is ready to cut some time before the timothy has reached its best stage. Shall the farmer cut the hay when the red clover is in its prime, or shall he wait until the timothy is at its best? Answer is: cut when clover is at its best, notwithstanding that the timothy mixed with it may not be as well developed as might be desired. For the reason that the clover is the more valuable part of the mixture. By cutting early, the clover is given a chance to recuperate and to produce a remunerative second crop, which it might fail to do if the cutting for hay is delayed too long for the sake of the timothy.

In case timothy forms the principal part of the hay crop, which it generally does two years or more after seeding to hay, it is important to handle it for hay in a proper manner. Timothy, like most other grasses, has a period of its own when it has the greatest feeding value per acre. This period is the time of blossoming. At that time, timothy is the richest in flesh and milk producing constituents and, if cut for hay when in bloom, the best quality hay may consequently be realized. It is a mistake to believe that better crops may be secured if cutting is delayed. Some slight increase in the yield may be obtained but what is gained in quantity is lost in quality and feeding value pound for pound. Under the circumstances, early cutting of timothy for hay must of necessity be recommended as the most economical method of securing a hay of the highest possible value.

Breaking it Gently.
The boss called the typist to his room. Miss Keytap you are a very pretty young woman.
"Oh," said Miss Keytap blushing.
"You dress neatly and have a very well modulated voice. I might add that your deportment is above reproach."
"You shouldn't pay me so many compliments."
"I only want to put you in a cheerful frame of mind," said the boss, "before taking up the matter of spelling and punctuation."

A fair greater trade in Canadian farm stuffs is done in our own cities and towns than is done abroad. This fact is mentioned by the Canadian Trade Commission, not to minimize exports but to show the unrecognized importance of our home markets.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER
How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a ready-made skin beautifier.

Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so, no seeds will go in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get the three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

"We must go back to peace trade on a wartime scale," says the Canadian Trade Commission, "if the huge war debt is to be paid."
