OPERA HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS

Manager Proposes Some Changes Which Will be of Much Benefit to Patrons.

The management of the Opera House are planning some changes in the interior of the theatre which should represent a considerable improvement. A motion picture expert is now in town installing new machines. New electric fixtures of novel and attractive pattern have been ordered, which will be connected with a highly modern dimming system enabling the operator to flood and dim the lights in a manner suggested by the rising and setting of the sun.

A scenic artist is now overdue from Boston who will paint new scenery and replenish that already in the theatre.

Important changes and additions have already been made in the stage equipment and lighting, which although perhaps unnoticed by many patrons, nevertheless, enables the house to handle the larger road attractions and assist in their proper presentation in a manner heretofore impossible. In brief Mr. Christie is determined to improve conditions at the Opera House in every possible particular and even more than ever to make it a place of amusement of which citizens may be proud and satisfied. The above represent only a few of the ideas which Mr. Christie will crystallize into realities in the immediate future.
