Time—2.51, 2.51, 2.51, 2.51.

The second event was a local-named race, which calls for little or no description, the only noticeable feature in it being a barefaced attempt on the part of Lady Mack's driver and owner, Richard Crewe, to give a heat to Fleming's pony, which failed through Beat's bay gelding showing a trifle more speed than was expected. Six or seven horses scored, but only five lasted the race out, and they were placed as follows:

A hack running race in half-mile heats was the last on the card. The starters were Harrison's bay gelding and Geo. Clark's grey mare. The grey won the first heat and the bay the second and third and the race, the time being 1.07, 1.06 and 1.08.
