COMMERCIAL MISOEILANY.

A gentleman who has been traveling through Manitoba and the Northwest writes to a friend in Toronto to the effect that the wheat yield has seen would be greater this year than last if no unforeseen mishap occurred. As the agreement this year is much larger than that of last a great output may be expected.

The half yearly report of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company to June 30 shows total receipts of $77.78 a decrease compared with same period tast year of $19,635. Total expenses amounted to $42,182.

During the ton months from September 1, 1894, to June 30, 1888, British imports of wheat and flour were 13,500,000 quarters against 13, 593,660 quarters in the corresponding ten months of the preceding year.

The cable war is settled. The Anglo-American Freinch Cable and Commercial Cable Companies signed agreements in London yesterday to increase toils on September 1 to 25 cents per word. American interests followed suit resterday afternoon, and all that is now lacking is the formal amountement.

The great petroleum pine line between Lima, Obio, and Chicago, 306 miles, was set in operation yesterday. The line has a capacity of 8000 barriefs a day.

The samings of the Southwestern railroads on competitive Missouri River business for the first two weeks of July showed a decrease of $6,000 or 40 per cent.

To-day is the first day that applications are received from Canada Permanent stock holders for the naw stock. It is expected that it will be all taken by stock-holders.

the situation yet to contend with, the excite-ment of a closely contasted Presidential election not being the least. This applies to all distance of the trade. Not only is there no change in prices, but the Western mills, with their ener-mous capacity, stand in the gap reday to supply any demand at almost any reasonable figure. Nominal quotations of steel rails at the mills are, $30, but very important concessions from this price are reported on all desirable orders.

Mrs. Celeste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., Write For years I could not eat any kind of food wit out producing a burning, exercuciating pain in my stomach. Itself Parmelee's Pills according to directions under the head of Dyspersia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose, without distressing me in the least." These Pills do not cause pain or griving, and should be used when a cathartic is required.

Mrs. Frank Lestie in London Society. From The Court Journal.

Few guests are more welcome from across the ocean than Mrs. Frank Leslie, one of the most kindly and at the same time one of the cleverest women of her time. Possessed of a liberal fortune she spends it liberally, and liberal fortune she spends it liberally, and knows not only how to make it, but to spend it. Left a widow, she assumed the reins of government, and has achieved as a proprietor of American papers an almost unparalleled success, and is running many other journals in other parts of the world, and in many tongues; success always crowns her labors. At the present moment she is vailing a friend in Queen Anne-street, and on Wednesday night assembled around her a representative company of those who in England contribute to literature and the arts. There were men and women from all parts of the world, and nearly all had to record some personal act of kindness from the hostess, who knows exactly how to bestow it in most gracelous fashion.

Mr. W. Thayer, Wright, P. Q. had Dyspepsia for 29 years. Tried many remedies and doctors but got no relief. His appellit was very poor, had a distressing pain in his side and stomach and gradual wasting away of fiesh, when his heard of, said immediately commenced taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. The pains nave left and he rejoices in the enjoyment of excellent health, in fact he is quite a new man. act he is quite a new man.

the Beat Origin of William IL's Deformity From London Truth. Among the many different accounts of new Emperor's physical blemish that I have seen, it is curious there is not one which is correct. The left arm is not deformed, but withered or rather dwarfed; the nerves which ritalize it were subjected to great and prolonged pressure during birth, so that their conducted pressure during birth, so that their conducting power (nerves are like telegraph wires) was destroyed. Hence the muscles of the arm were paralyzed, and became wasted from want of use, and the limb did not grow with the rest of the body. The responsibility of this rests with the German doctors who officiated on the occasion, a fact which paraly explains the Empress Victoria's distrust of native talent. She insisted on Dr. Gream presiding at all subsequent coremonies of the same kind, and outraged Teutons have never forgiven her for this african to German "science." 31 and 32 84. 41bans-st., Teronto. 246

John Brown Presents.
From The London Times.

John Brown, who probably received more presents than any other menial in the history of the English Court, was shrewd enough to anticipate the embarrassment which would be caused to his friends if he died possessing the gifts themselves, so it was the prudent custom of that domestic to sell nearly exerything that of that domestic to sell nearly everything that he received within a few weeks. John Brown was constantly being complimented with costly gifts, but he wisely preferred to possess their value in cash, and in several cases the Bond street jeweler who had sold the present to the royal donor bought it back within a short time from the recipient at way nearly hort time from the recipient at very nearly
